REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1914-15.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

EDUCATION.

RESOLUTION No. 4360.

CALCUTTA, THE 4TH DECEMBER 1915.

THE report of the Director of Public Instruction for the year 1914-15 is published for general information.

2. The year was one of general progress and witnessed an increase in the numbers of schools and scholars within the Province, while the utilisation of some portions of the generous grants recently made by the Imperial Government served to raise the expenditure upon education to a figure higher than it had ever before attained. Unfortunately the great European war has intervened to check expenditure from the balances of those grants and to necessitate severe economy in the expenditure of all Government funds, and this will militate against the expansion of educational activity for some time to come.

3. Government Arts colleges showed a further increase in attendance, there being 3,293 students on the roll on 31st March 1915 as against 3,171 on the corresponding date last year. Extended affiliation was accorded to the Presidency College up to the M.A. Standard in Philosophy, and to the M.A. and M.Sc. Standards in Physiology. The teaching staff in both the Rajshahi College and the Hooghly College was strengthened and the Chemical Laboratory of the Hooghly College was extended. At the Presidency College the Representative Committee of students, which was formed in the previous year to secure greater co-operation between professor and pupil, showed enterprise in the organisation of a first-aid class and proved of value in several ways.

4. While the number of high schools and middle English schools for boys has increased, the general level of teaching in these schools remains unsatisfactory, especially as regards English. The poor remuneration and arduous work of the schoolmaster deter men of even moderate academic qualifications from adopting this profession and a good deal has been done to improve the position of all grades of teachers, though funds have not as yet been forthcoming to enable the Department to do more than touch the fringe of this most important question. An effort has been made to improve the position in Government schools by utilising the recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 2,26,000 which was announced in the year 1914-15 for the purpose of granting local allowances to teachers on low salaries. This scheme has been sanctioned with effect from the 1st January 1915. Meanwhile, the greater part of this grant for the year 1913-14 was spent, together with the balance of other Imperial grants, in the improvement of old buildings, the construction of new, and the acquisition of sites. The scheme for the establishment of a "public school" for Indian boys received the sanction of the Secretary of State during the year under review and has since been inaugurated at Hastings House, Alipur.

5. Purely vernacular education for children who have passed the lower primary stage has failed to advance in public favour, and the numbers of the middle vernacular and upper primary schools and of the scholars attending them have again decreased. On the other hand there has been a considerable increase in the numbers of lower primary schools and of the children studying in them. There were 32,728 lower primary schools, with 1,045,948 children attending them in 1914-15, as compared with 31,005 such schools and 1,006,981 scholars in 1913-14. Considerable attention was paid by the Education Department to the improvement of these schools during the year, and a sum of Rs. 5,07,832 was devoted from recurring Imperial grants to increasing the pay of primary school teachers, while Rs. 3,80,984 were paid for the maintenance of Board schools, and a capital grant of Rs. 1,18,075 was distributed to secure some addition to the equipment of primary schools. The increase of the pay of teachers and the co-ordination of the curricula of these schools throughout the Eastern and Western Bengal are now the two most pressing problems with which primary education in this Province is faced.

6. The essential work of training teachers of all grades, which has received special attention from the Director of Public Instruction and his staff of recent years, will unfortunately suffer to a special degree from the curtailment of expenditure. Complete schemes for the reconstruction and reorganisation of the training colleges in Calcutta and Dacca have been prepared and their execution is only delayed for want of funds. Meanwhile the outturn of trained teachers increased from 74 to 105, though the results, alike in the number of teachers and the practical efficiency acquired, must remain incommensurate with the expenditure incurred by Government until the new schemes for reform can be carried out. A comprehensive scheme for the improvement of guru-training schools has also been prepared by the Department and placed before Government in connection with the amalgamation of the systems established in Eastern and Western Bengal, and experiments are being made with schools of the type which has now been proposed. With assistance from the recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 3,65,000 of 1913-1914, the stipends of gurus in training have been uniformly raised to Rs. 10.

7. There has been steady progress in almost all existing branches of female education and a very encouraging increase in the appreciation shown of its value among those chiefly affected by it. The number of girls' schools increased from 7,573 to 8,268 within the year, and the number of scholars from 230,729 to 247,971. There was a remarkable increase in the number of Muhammadan girls attending school, and there is reported to be a growing desire for education among Muhammadan women throughtout the Province. The sanction of Government was accorded in October, 1914, to the distribution of the Imperial recurring grant of Rs. 2,44,000 for female education, and allotments were made for the benefit of girls' schools of all classes, for the training of teachers for secondary and primary schools, the establishment of scholarships, the furtherance of education by zanana teachers, the advancement of instruction among Muhammadan girls, and the strengthening of the inspecting staff. A scheme for the establishment of a secondary training college for women has received the approval of Government, while proposals are under consideration for the reorganisation of the primary training school for women at Dacca, and the establishment of a purdanishin training class for Muhammadan women. Experiments are being made in Eastern Bengal with Panchayati Union girls' schools financed out of the Imperial grants, and with schools conducted by zanana ladies in their own homes. A marked improvement in the needlework in the schools of Eastern Bengal is attributed to the Needlework Exhibition and diplomas instituted by Her Excellency Lady Carmichael.

8. It is being recognised to an increasing degree that the Matriculation course of study is not equally suited to boys and girls, and efforts are being made both by public opinion and by the Department to discover a suitable substitute for it. General interest has undoubtedly been aroused in the subject, and it may be hoped that a solution of the difficult problem of the most suitable curriculum for the education of girls above the primary stage will soon be evolved. The question is receiving the unremitting attention of the Director of Public Instruction and his colleagues.

9. Some improvement has been noticed this year in the standard of teaching in European schools, and a slight increase was found possible in the allotments for staff allowances from Imperial grants. The old Kidderpore Orphanage was transferred to the Calcutta Free School and the Doveton College and Doveton Institution were wound up under the Doveton Trust Act, careful provision being made for the perpetuation of the objects of the original endowments. A distinctive feature in the facilities for European education is the range of vocational classes available for women, due largely to the enterprise of the Young Women's Christian Association in Calcutta.

10. The percentage of Muhammadans among the school-going population increased during the period under review from 43·4 per cent. to 44·8 per cent. It is still, however, only in the primary stages that the Muhammadan element in our schools bears any relation to its proportion in the total population, as it dwindles from 44 per cent. in primary institutions to 16·8 per cent. in high schools and 7·8 per cent. in colleges. This is attributed largely to the poverty of the classes from which Muhammadan students are drawn. Madrassahs and maktabs alike increased in number and were more frequented than during the previous year. During the current year a scheme of studies drawn up by the Dacca University Committee for all madrassahs in Bengal, except the Calcutta Madrassah, has been published by Government, and a recurring grant of Rs. 84,000 has been set apart from the Imperial grant of Rs. 1,50,000 to aid those madrassahs which may adopt this course. At the same time the cost of the maintenance of Government madrassahs has been transferred from the Mohsin Fund to Provincial Revenues, the consequent savings in the fund being devoted to the provision of scholarships for Muhammadan students in colleges. It is believed that the appointment recently made of five special Assistant Inspectors for Muhammadan education will go far to stimulate the keenness for education already evinced by the Muhammadan community of this Province. Government awaits with interest the report of the Muhammadan Educational Advisory Committee which concluded its sittings during the year under review.

11. There appears to have been a general awakening to their responsibilities regarding education among the backward races of the Chittagong division. Free education is given to the boys and girls of the Hill Tracts and to the Arakanese Maghs in Cox's Bazar subdivision. The Government Weaving School at this subdivisional headquarters promises well, and it is proposed to establish here also a training school for Magh teachers. Schemes for the extension of education among the Sonthals received the sanction of Government after the close of the year reviewed. Two classes of labourers, the education of whose children requires special treatment, are those employed on the mills along the Hooghly and on the tea gardens in the Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling districts. Special schools for these children in the latter area were well attended, those of Darjeeling giving the best results; and proposals for the education of the children of the Hooghly mill-hands were submitted to Government this year and have since been sanctioned. The question of imparting instruction to juvenile offenders has been under the consideration of Government, and it is hoped that the special enquiry which is now being made into problems of this nature will lead to early developments.

12. Imperial grants to the Department facilitated a considerable advance in the provision of hostel accommodation both for colleges and schools. Sites were acquired for some new hostels in Calcutta, and the balance of the special grant made for this purpose has now been amalgamated with the grant of 10 lakhs recently made by the Government of India to the Calcutta University, to enable the University to take the fullest advantage of the sum placed at their disposal. Schemes for the erection of the hostels out of the total sum thus made available are now under the consideration of the University and of Government. The details of a new Hindu hostel for the Presidency College, to be erected at an approximate cost of 2¾ lakhs, were sanctioned during the year, though construction has unfortunately to be deferred for want of funds. A new block for the Hindu Hostel at the Hooghly College was completed. The number of hostels has increased and there has been also an increase in the expenditure upon them. Out of this expenditure no less a sum than Rs. 9,14,980 was debited against Imperial grants in the year under report.

13. Hygiene and physical training have received increased attention, and it is hoped that the recommendations of the committee appointed to study the hygienic condition of schools with a view to the utilisation of the Imperial grant for this purpose of Rs. 3,50,000, and an interesting report which has been submitted by the adviser on Physical Education, will prove the basis of definite reforms.

14. During the year there were few reported cases of breach of discipline, and a recurrence in the dissemination of seditious leaflets on the outbreak of the war appears to have had little prejudicial effect. The reports received on this subject are not, however, uniformly favourable, and it would be a mistake to suppose that the time has come when constant watchfulness on the part of parent and teacher and the vigorous condemnation by public opinion of instances of want of discipline among schoolboys can be dispensed with.

15. Special action was taken during the year to assist the Director of Public Instruction to secure greater devolution of powers and duties from his office to those of Inspectors of Schools and other officers in order that he may be left more free for the important work of inspection and general administration. Other large administrative problems of a like nature are also being dealt with, and the machinery for the administration of the Department, which has proved unequal to the increased pressure that has been put upon it, is being overhauled.

16. The thanks of Government are due to the Director of Public Instruction for the notable sympathy, understanding and ability with which he has conducted the administration of the Education Department during the year and for his most interesting report.

By order of the Governor in Council,

K. C. DE,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT

ON

FOR 1914-1915.

CHAPTER I.

Introductory.

Total number of schools and pupils.

1. The year under review is marked by an increase in the number of pupils and schools, both public and private. Public schools increased from 40,568 to 42,298 or by 1,730, and their pupils from 1,687,747 to 1,736,967 or by 49,220; private schools from 2,267 to 2,374 or by 107, and their pupils from 59,861 to 62,922 or by 3,061. The total number of institutions, public and private, now stands at 44,672 and of pupils attending them at 1,799,889, as compared with 42,835 and 1,747,608 of the preceding year Of the total number of pupils 1,535,679 were males and 264,210 females against 1,502,318 and 245,290.

Different classes of public institutions.

2. The number of arts and professional colleges remained at 51, but the number of high schools increased from 596 to 627, of middle schools from 1,874 to 1,939, of primary schools from 34,508 to 35,962, and of special schools from 3,539 to 3,728.

Classification of public institutions according to management.

3. Classified according to management, 413 of the public institutions were under the direct management of Government, 2,848 under that of District Boards and Municipalities, and 6 were maintained by Native States. Of the 39,031 privately-managed institutions 32,554 were returned as aided and 6,477 unaided.

Total expenditure on public instruction.

4. The total expenditure on public instruction for the year was Rs. 2,54,34,128, of which Rs. 1,57,77 240 represented direct and Rs. 96,56,888 indirect expenditure. The expenditure from Provincial Revenues was Rs. 87,02,910; from District Boards, Municipalities and Native States Rs. 24,33,947; Rs. 1,68,228 and Rs. 4,253, respectively. The income from fees was Rs. 1,04,76,627 and from subscriptions, endowments, etc., Rs. 36,48,163. The position in regard to expenditure on education from these sources in the preceding year is shown below :—

	Rs.
Provincial Revenues	64,99,336
District Boards	22,22,587
Municipal Boards	1,69,839
Native States	7,329
Fees	95,50,070
Subscriptions, endowments, etc.	36,27,434
Total ...	2,20,76,595

A comparison of these figures shows an increase of expenditure under the heads "Provincial Revenues," "District Funds," "Fees" and

"Subscriptions, endowments, etc.," and a decrease under the heads "Municipal Funds" and "Native States Revenues." The most noticeable increase was under the head "Provincial Revenues," and is explained mainly by the large expenditure incurred from Imperial grants on recurring and non-recurring purposes. There was a general increase of expenditure from this source on all branches of education, the largest increase, amounting to about Rs. 12½ lakhs, occurring under the head "Buildings." The other marked increases (Rs. 1,52,823; Rs. 2,14,395; Rs. 1,71,447; and Rs. 1,39,705) were on colleges, secondary schools, university and inspection. The promotion during the year under report of a number of departmental officers to higher grades with retrospective effect is responsible for a large increase in expenditure from this source. The increase under the head "District Funds" is due to the additional contributions made to District Boards from Imperial allotments for recurring and non-recurring projects in connexion with the improvement of primary education and to the utilization of the unspent balances of the previous year's capital grants for the erection of board primary school buildings. The increase in "Fees" points partly to the increase in the number of schools and scholars and partly to the raising of fee-rates in certain schools, and that in "Subscriptions, endowments, etc.," to the greater interest now taken by the general public in educational matters. The decreases under the heads "Municipal Funds" and "Native States Revenues" call for no explanation.

CHAPTER II.

Controlling Agencies.

Indian Educational Service.

5. On the 31st March 1915 the Indian Educational Service cadre contained 47 posts on ordinary rates of pay and 3 on special rates of pay. No change was made in the cadre during the year, but since the close of the year a new inspecting post in the Indian Educational Service has been created with retrospective effect.

Provincial Educational Service.

6. On the 31st March 1914 the Provincial Educational Service cadre consisted of 154 posts. During the year 4 posts, 3 permanent and 1 temporary, were added. Of these 2 were for professors of history at the Rajshahi College and 1 for an additional professor of philosophy at the Presidency College. The temporary post was for the Lady Principal of the Training School for Female Teachers, Calcutta. The strength of the service on the 31st March 1915 was thus 157 permanent posts and 1 temporary.

Subordinate Educational Service.

7. On the 31st March 1914 the Subordinate Educational Service cadre was 812 strong. During the year 4 posts were added, 1 for an additional lecturer on philosophy and logic at the Rajshahi College, 1 for an additional laboratory assistant at the Krishnagar College, 1 for a lecturer in mathematics at the Hooghly College and 1 for a laboratory assistant at the Chittagong College. On the 31st March 1915 the Subordinate Educational Service cadre contained 816 posts.

Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

8. The Lower Subordinate Educational Service cadre consisted of 758 appointments on the 31st March 1915.

Officers not within the classified lists.

9. The number of posts outside the grades on the 31st March 1915 was 386, of which 8 posts were created during the year. One post was included in this number in consequence of the transfer of an officer from the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bihar and Orissa, to Bengal. Of officers outside the grades, 21 drew salaries of Rs. 200 or more, and 365 salaries ranging from Rs. 15 to Rs. 150.

Direction.

10. The question of the appointment of an additional Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Bengal is still under the consideration of Government, and final orders have not yet been passed. A temporary post for such an officer has been created for a period of six months.

11. The table below shows the strength of the inspecting agency on the 31st March 1915 :— Inspecting agency.

DIVISION.	Inspectors and Additional Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectors (including those for Muhammadan Education).	Deputy and Additional Deputy Inspectors.	Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Sub-Inspectors.	Assistant Inspectresses.	Inspectresses.

There were also employed 11 assistant sub-inspectors and 142 inspecting pandits (including inspecting maulvis and munshis) or guru-instructors, who do not render qualifying service.

CHAPTER III.

Collegiate Education.

Arts Colleges.

12. As in the preceding year the arts colleges in the Presidency numbered 34. Classified according to management 8 were Government colleges, 1 Municipal and 25 private—14 of the last-mentioned being aided and 11 unaided. The only change during the year was in the number of aided and unaided colleges in consequence of the transfer of the Edward College, Pabna, from the unaided to the aided list. The number of students nevertheless rose from 14,746 in 1913-14 to 15,921—an increase of 1,175 distributed among Hindus 975, Muhammadans 181, and other races 19. Colleges and students.

13. Direct expenditure on arts colleges aggregated Rs. 18,06,536 against Rs. 16,13,511 in the previous year—an increase of Rs. 1,93,025. Towards this total Provincial Revenues contributed Rs. 6,90,827 against Rs. 5,63,135 in the preceding year; fees contributed Rs. 9,19,470; and other sources Rs. 1,96,239. The expenditure on Government colleges was Rs. 8,49,672 against Rs. 7,49,000 in 1913-14, and on grants-in-aid to private colleges Rs. 1,36,396 against Rs. 93,032. Expenditure.

14. Of the total grant of Rs. 1,29,000 annually available from Imperial funds for the improvement of private colleges in the Presidency, Rs. 5,602 was given to the University to meet a deficit in connexion with the maintenance of students' messes in Calcutta, and the balance was distributed on the recommendation of the Syndicate, chiefly in library, laboratory and equipment grants. Imperial grants.

The scheme for the provision of hostels for Calcutta colleges from Imperial grants for the purpose made in 1911-12 and 1912-13 which embraces 13 hostels, collegiate and non-collegiate, progressed so far by the end of the year under report that sites were acquired for 5 hostels, while grants for the construction of buildings had been given out in 5 cases in which no land acquisition was necessary.

Government Colleges.

15. There were 937 students on the rolls of the college on the 31st March 1915 against 923 on the corresponding date in 1914. Of these 814 were Hindus, 121 Muhammadans and the rest belonged to other races. The affiliation of the college was extended with effect from the beginning of the Presidency College.

session 1914-15 in philosophy up to the M.A. standard and in physiology to the M.A. and M.Sc. standards. As regards internal administration, there was definite and satisfactory advance in the work of seminars. The representative committee of students, instituted in the preceding year, came into full operation during the year of report. It met seven times and proved of value in various ways, especially in the organisation of a first-aid class.

The plans and estimates amounting to Rs. 2,72,312 for the new Hindu hostel were approved during the year, but the work of construction has been deferred pending the restoration of normal financial conditions.

Dacca College.

16. On the 31st March 1915 there were 787 students against 780 on the 31st March 1914. This number included 165 Muhammadans and one Christian.

Rajshahi College.

17. The number of pupils on the 31st March 1915 was 774 against 761 of the preceding year. Of these 630 were Hindus, 143 Muhammadans and 1 Indian Christian. A maximum limit to the number of admissions was fixed at 750, owing to limited accommodation in both class rooms and attached hostels and messes. Consequent on extension of affiliation of the college to the honours standard in history with effect from July 1914, the staff was strengthened by the appointment of two additional professors in the subject.

Chittagong College.

18. The enrolment of the college on the 31st March 1915 was 213 against 172 of the preceding year. The new Hindu hostel, which was under construction in the previous year, is now occupied.

Hooghly College.

19. The number of students on the rolls on the 31st March 1915 was 230 against 213 of the preceding year. The appointment of an additional lecturer in mathematics in September 1914 did away with the hitherto unsatisfactory arrangement under which the headmaster of the collegiate school assisted in the teaching of this subject in the college classes. The new block in the Hindu hostel providing accommodation for 24 boarders was completed during the year at a cost of Rs. 20,210. The extension of the chemical laboratory was carried out at a cost of about Rs. 11,500 to meet the requirements of the B.A. and B.Sc. affiliation in chemistry.

Krishnagar College.

20. The number of students on the rolls of the college on the 31st March 1915 was 185 against 177 of the preceding year. The post of an additional laboratory assistant was created during the year.

Sanskrit College.

21. There were 167 students on the rolls of the college on the 31st March 1915 against 145 on the same date of the preceding year.

CHAPTER IV.

The Secondary Education of Indian Boys.

Schools and pupils.

22. There was an increase of 83 schools in the total number of secondary schools for boys, though middle vernacular schools continued to decline. The number of high schools increased from 559 to 588, of middle English schools from 1,358 to 1,449, while middle vernacular schools decreased from 451 to 414. The increase in the number of secondary schools has been accompanied by a corresponding increase in the number of pupils, but the increase is confined to high and middle English schools, being more marked in the former. On the 31st March 1915 there were 189,265; 153,936 and 24,912 pupils on the rolls of high, middle English and middle vernacular schools against 179,986; 150,226 and 29,010, respectively, on the corresponding date of the year before. Classified according to stages of instruction, 79,127 of the pupils were in the high, 91,300 in the middle, and 197,686 in the primary stage as against 70,422; 83,725 and 205,075, respectively.

Expenditure.

23. The total direct expenditure on secondary schools for boys increased from Rs. 55,36,217 in 1913-14 to Rs. 62,32,449 or by Rs. 6,96,232. This increase is largely due to the improvements effected during the year in aided and unaided schools, and is shared between Provincial Revenues, District funds, fees, and subscriptions, endowments, etc., while the expenditure from Municipal funds shows a slight falling off, the figures being Rs. 6,25,597; Rs. 1,91,105; Rs. 45,68,652; Rs. 8,30,328 and Rs. 16,767 as compared with Rs. 4,86,385; Rs. 1,80,033; Rs. 40,90,417; Rs. 7,60,466 and Rs. 18,916, respectively.

Improvement of secondary education.

24. A scheme for the utilization of the recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 2,26,000 announced during the year 1913-14 for the improvement of secondary education was approved by Government with effect from 1st January 1915. It provided for the grant of local allowances to the headmasters, assistant headmasters, headmistresses and assistant headmistresses of Government high schools (including the Anglo-Persian Departments of Government madrassahs) belonging to the Subordinate Educational Service, and to the headmasters and headmistresses of middle schools, pending the introduction of a general scheme for the improvement of secondary education. Meanwhile out of the assignment of Rs. 2,26,000 for the year 1913-14, which, pending the formulation of a scheme for its distribution, was earmarked for the financing of building projects in connexion with secondary schools and for purchase of furniture for Government schools, a sum of about Rs. 2,14,000 was spent during the year for the improvement of existing buildings, the construction of new buildings and for the acquisition of sites. An expenditure of Rs. 1,03,000 was also incurred for the same purpose out of (1) the lump provision of Rs. 5,11,000 for non-recurring expenditure, which represents a portion of the unspent balance of the grant of Rs. 29,58,000, the share of the several divisions of the Presidency out of the Imperial grants made in 1911-12 to the Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam, and of (2) Rs. 5,41,000, the unspent balance of Rs. 7,00,000 for colleges, secondary schools and training institutions. Besides these, a sum of Rs. 70,000 was also spent, out of the unspent balance of Rs. 20,50,000 for hostels and students' residence in Dacca, on the acquisition of the old Criminal Investigation Department office building at Dacca for the accommodation of the Anglo-Persian Department of the Dacca Madrassah.

The Hastings House School.

25. The scheme for the establishment of a residential school for Indian boys, which was submitted to the Government of India in the previous year, received the sanction of the Secretary of State during the year under report.

High schools.

26. These schools steadily increase in number. The increase was specially marked during the year in the Presidency and Chittagong divisions, where the number rose by 12 and 11, respectively. This is explained partly by the growing desire of the public for English education and partly by the high percentage of passes at recent Matriculation examinations.

The general level of teaching in secondary schools continues to be unsatisfactory; this is specially true of the teaching of English. The work of a school master is arduous and thankless and the remuneration which it offers is poor. Hence those who are possessed of even moderate academic qualifications and ambitions will not adopt it as a profession.

Little attention is paid to hygiene in the schools. As in the preceding year, lectures on sanitation with special reference to "malaria, its cause and cure" illustrated by slides, were delivered in selected high schools, and were attended by pupils and the public. The results were said to be satisfactory.

Middle schools

27. Middle English schools increased in number, while middle vernacular schools decreased in strength and efficiency. The unpopularity of the latter is commonly attributed to the prohibition of the teaching of English and to the abolition of the public examination at the end of middle school course. It is reported that in the Dacca Division middle vernacular schools have been surreptitiously teaching a little English to guard against a total migration of pupils to neighbouring high English and middle English schools.

Circle schools.

28. The necessity for these schools has disappeared, and inspecting officers report difficulties in the way of keeping them alive. They do not serve any useful purpose except in a few backward districts.

Manual instruction.

29. A scheme for the introduction of manual training in 28 selected high and zilla schools was formulated during the year.

CHAPTER V.

The Primary Education of Indian Boys.

Schools.

30. The number of primary schools for boys increased from 27,461 in 1913-14 to 28,327 during the year under review, that is, by 866. Of these 28,327 schools 3,219 were returned as upper primary and 25,108 as lower primary. Of the upper primary schools 1,826 were returned from Western Bengal and 1,393 from Eastern Bengal, and of the lower primary schools 10,591 were returned from Western Bengal and 14,517 from Eastern Bengal. The corresponding figures for the preceding year were :—

Western Bengal—upper primary	...	...	1,839
Ditto —lower ditto	...	...	10,786
Eastern Bengal—upper ditto	...	...	1,425
Ditto —lower ditto	...	...	13,411

A comparison of these figures will show that the increase in the number of primary schools is confined to Eastern Bengal. Upper primary schools have decreased in the Dacca, Chittagong and Burdwan Divisions. In the Presidency Division the number of these institutions remained stationary. In the Rajshahi Division there was an increase of 7 schools only. The Burdwan Division alone showed a decrease in lower primary schools. In other divisions there was a general increase, though it was smallest in the Presidency Division.

Pupils.

31. The number of pupils attending primary schools for boys on the 31st of March 1915 was returned as 1,046,694 as against 1,027,684 on the same date of the preceding year. Of these 164,130 were in upper primary schools and 882,564 in lower primary. The corresponding figures for the preceding year were 171,664 and 856,020. A comparison of these figures shows that there has been a decrease of 7,534 in the number of pupils attending upper primary schools and an increase of 26,544 in that of the pupils attending lower primary, the net increase being 19,010 pupils during the year under review. The loss of pupils in upper primary schools was shared by all the divisions of the Presidency. It was smallest in the Dacca Division and greatest in the Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions. The number of pupils in lower primary schools increased considerably in the three divisions of Eastern Bengal, but showed a falling off in the two western divisions, the net increase of 19,010 pupils in the total figures for the Presidency being due to the large increase in the strength of lower primary schools in Eastern Bengal. It may be mentioned here that the figures quoted above refer only to primary schools ; they do not take into account the pupils reading in the primary classes of secondary schools. The total number of such pupils on the 31st of March 1915 was 197,686 against 205,075 of the previous year ; this represents a falling off of 7,389 pupils in the primary stage of secondary schools during the year under review. The total number, however, of pupils in the primary stage of instruction was 1,244,380 at the end of the year under review against 1,232,759 of the preceding year. These figures show that, in spite of a decrease of 7,389 pupils in the primary classes of secondary schools, there has been a net increase of 11,621 in the number of pupils under primary instruction.

Causes of decline.

32. The decrease of upper primary schools and of pupils reading in them is mainly attributed to the unpopularity of purely vernacular education and to the consequent withdrawal of many boys from primary to high and middle English schools, this being specially the case in places where high and middle schools are easily accessible. In Eastern Bengal upper primary schools are also declining in popularity, owing to the fact that the course in the highest class consists merely of revision of work done in lower primary standards. The reasons for the conspicuous decrease in the number and strength of the primary schools in the Burdwan Division are stated to have been the prevalence of cholera, small-pox and some other epidemic diseases in some of the districts and bad harvests after the heavy flood of last year in others. The loss of pupils in lower primary schools in the Presidency Division has been chiefly attributed to poverty among the lower classes consequent on the failure of the aman crop and on the decline in the jute trade. These causes have also acted unfavourably in Eastern Bengal, but the effects do not appear to have been so marked there. Upper primary schools are declining steadily, and it seems desirable either to merge the upper primary class in the middle stage or to reorganize the middle vernacular course so as to make it extend over three years and to do away with the distinction between upper and lower primary schools.

Relative numbers of Hindus and Muhammadans under instruction.

33. Of the total number of pupils attending primary schools for boys on the 31st March 1915, 539,978 were Hindus and 487,259 Muhammadans. The corresponding figures on the 31st March 1914 were 547,335 and 461,711. From these figures it will appear that during the year under review the number of Hindu pupils decreased by 7,357 or 1·3 per cent., while the number of Muhammadan pupils increased by 25,548 or 5·5 per cent. The Hindus have now 32·2 per cent. of their boys of school-going age in primary institutions and the Muhammadans 25·6 per cent. The figures for the previous year were 32·6 and 24·3 per cent., respectively. There has thus been some appreciable increase in the number of Muhammadan pupils attending primary schools, but this is not very marked when we consider that in Eastern Bengal, where the number of primary schools has increased, the population is predominantly Muhammadan.

Expenditure.

34. The total direct expenditure on primary schools for boys during the year under report was Rs. 34,04,979. Of this amount Rs. 1,66,902 or 4·9 per cent. came from Provincial Revenues; Rs. 12,39,320 or 36·4 per cent. from District funds; Rs. 53,701 or 1·6 per cent. from Municipal funds; and the remainder, Rs. 19,45,056 or 57·1 per cent., from fees and other sources. In the year 1913-14 the total expenditure amounted to Rs. 32,30,570, of which Rs. 1,48,502 or 4·6 per cent. came from Provincial Revenues; Rs. 10,77,290 or 33·4 per cent. from District funds; Rs. 51,153 or 1·5 per cent. from Municipal funds; and the remainder, Rs. 19,53,625 or 60·5 per cent., from fees and other sources. The total increase in direct expenditure during the year under review was Rs. 1,74,409. The most marked increase is shown under the head "District funds," and is attributed mainly to the additional contributions made to District Boards from Imperial grants. A description of these grants is given below.

Imperial grants. (1) The six lakhs grant.

35. The Imperial recurring grant of Rs. 6,00,000 was utilised for the enhancement of pay of primary school teachers and for the maintenance of board primary schools built during the year 1912-13. The actual amounts distributed were as follow:—

	Rs.
(a) For the increase of pay of trained teachers by Rs. 3 per mensem and of all untrained teachers by Re. 1 per mensem	4,61,832
(b) For the maintenance of board schools started during the year 1912-13	96,164
Total ...	5,57,996

Out of the balance available (Rs. 42,004), a sum of Rs. 11,491 was sanctioned for the reconstruction and repairs of middle vernacular school buildings in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions and an additional grant of Rs. 396 was made to the Bankura district for increasing the pay of aided primary school teachers at the sanctioned rates stated above. A further sum of Rs. 17,246 was given out by way of assistance to several District Boards for the repair and construction of board primary schools.

(2) The grant of Rs. 3,65,000.

The recurring expenditure of the Rs. 3,65,000 grant of 1913-14 became operative for the first time in the year under review. The full grant could not be utilised in 1914-15 as the guru-training school improvement scheme was still under the consideration of Government. However, the major part of this grant was spent. The objects to which it was devoted are indicated below :—

	Rs.
(a) The maintenance of board schools built in 1913-14 ...	89,520
(b) The increase of pay of trained teachers in aided primary schools by Re. 1 per mensem	45,972
(c) The enhancement of stipends to guru-pupils ...	32,180
Total ...	1,67,672

A sum of Rs. 24,184 was granted to the District Boards of Mymensingh, Bakarganj and Rangpur out of the general savings of this grant to enable them to close the account of 1913-14 for the construction of board primary schools. The District Board of Mymensingh received a further grant of Rs. 28,512 out of these savings.

(3) The grant of Rs. 2,85,000.

The redistribution of this special Imperial recurring grant of Rs. 2,85,000 for Eastern Bengal was as follows :—

		Rs.
(a) Female education		55,200
	Rs.
(i) Aid to girls' schools ...	47,000
(ii) Capitation grants to girls in mixed schools	8,200
(b) Muhammadan education		34,500
	Rs.
(i) Aid to maktabs and Koran schools	31,300
(ii) Capitation grant for Urdu teaching	3,200
(c) The maintenance of board schools		1,09,000
(d) The up-keep of board primary school buildings ...		86,300
Total ...		2,85,000

(4) The equipment grant.

A capital grant of Rs. 1,18,075 was distributed for the equipment of primary schools, both in West and East Bengal.

Improvements.

36. The following measures were adopted during the year under report :—

(1) A further increase of pay of trained teachers in aided primary schools by Re. 1 per mensem in addition to Rs. 3 per mensem, provided out of the six lakhs grant.

(2) The general increase of stipends to guru-pupils to a uniform rate of Rs. 10 per mensem.

Conclusion.

37. The general position is that funds are not available for an adequate and efficient system of primary education. The further expansion of the panchayati union scheme, the provision of buildings for primary schools and the increase of teachers' pay to the minimum which efficiency demands are among the urgent needs that the Department has to face. Apart from these there is another vital question—the co-ordination and simplification of the two distinct curricula obtaining in two parts of the Presidency. Messrs. Biss and Dunn were placed on deputation to work out preliminaries in this connexion. The matter is still under consideration, but it is hoped that definite proposals will be placed before Government before long.

CHAPTER VI.

The Training of Teachers for Indian Schools.

Introductory.

38. This chapter deals with institutions for the training of masters for Indian schools, those for mistresses being dealt with in Chapter VIII. There are now in this Presidency 3 training colleges, 6 normal schools, 116 guru-training schools and 4 special training classes.

The David Hare Training College.

39. In October last Mr. Mercer joined the college staff as Vice-Principal. He is especially qualified to teach science, mathematics and geography. The college has two visiting professors—Dr. Segard, Physical Director of the Young Men's Christian Association, and Mr. P. C. Ghosh of the Calcutta School of Art. Dr. Segard has given weekly lectures in connexion with physical education and Mr. Ghosh has given instruction twice a week in blackboard drawing. Mr. H. A. Stark gave a course of lectures on "The History of Education in Bengal during the last 100 years." The number of students under training during the year under review increased to 32. Of these 6 came from Bihar and Orissa, 2 from Hyderabad and the rest from Bengal. Of the 32 candidates who appeared at the last B.T. examination, 26 passed. A detailed scheme for the reconstruction of the college on a new site at Ballyganj has been worked out and duly submitted to Government. The land has already been acquired. The total direct cost of the college during the year under review was Rs. 36,425, the whole of which was met from Provincial Revenues.

Dacca Training College.

40. During the year 47 students, including 14 inspecting officers, 25 Government school teachers, 5 aided or board school teachers and 3 outside candidates, were under training. There were 21 students in the B.T. class and 26 in the L.T. class. Out of 21 students in the B.T. class one was a Muhammadan and another a Christian, while out of 26 students in the L.T. class 5 were Muhammadans. One B.T. student was deputed by the Government of Hyderabad. At the B.T. examination 21 candidates sat and 18 passed. At the L.T. examination 14 sat and 11 passed. The practical teaching is still unsatisfactory owing to lack of practising facilities. The Armanitola Government High school has only 8 classes available for practice the Matriculation class being hardly ever used for this purpose. It is necessary that further provision should be made for the students' practical teaching. Electric light and fans have been installed in the college premises. Proposals for the reorganisation of the college have long been under the consideration of the Department, and Government have been addressed on the subject of the establishment of a new training college and demonstration school. The nature study class for the training of vernacular teachers for the improved type of guru-training schools in Eastern Bengal continues to be under the control of the college. Dr. N. Gupta was in charge. There were 19 students, of whom 18 passed the examination. The total direct cost of the college was Rs. 59,014 and that of the nature study class was Rs. 7,941, the whole of which was met from Provincial Revenues. In the period under review the L.T. course was reduced to one year.

The L.M.S. class at Bhowanipur.

41. There is a small training class at Bhowanipur teaching up to the L.T. standard. This class had 7 students on its rolls on the 31st March 1915. During the year Government paid Rs. 1,480 towards its maintenance.

Training schools for vernacular masters.

42. There are 5 Government training schools of the first grade in the Presidency, one in each of the five divisions. In addition to these, there is one aided school at Krishnagar under the management of the Church Missionary Society. These schools are intended for the training of vernacular masters for the vernacular classes of secondary institutions and for the guru-training schools. Students are prepared for departmental examinations which still differ in the two parts of the Presidency. The Eastern Bengal schools still follow the two years' course, while in Western Bengal the course extends over three years.

The following table summarises the facts with reference to the various training schools :—

Name of school.	Number under training.	Number appeared at the final examination.	Number passed at the final examination.	Total cost to Provincial Revenues.
				Rs.
1. Calcutta Training School ...	87	25	22	22,447
2. Hooghly Training School ...	83	22	21	15,612
3. C. M. S. Training School (Krishnagar).	25	4	2	2,400
4. Rangpur Training School ...	52	20	9	15,056
5. Chittagong Training School ...	70	32	21	14,190
6. Dacca Training School ...	122	51	30	21,043
Total ...	439	154	105	90,748

The annual out-turn of trained teachers was 105 against 74 in 1913-14, thus showing a marked improvement; but the results are still unsatisfactory. One hundred and five trained men were secured at a cost of Rs. 90,748 or nearly a lakh of rupees and the practical value of these training courses as shown in the work of the teachers who have passed through them leaves much to be desired. The question of the reorganisation of the first grade vernacular training schools is engaging the attention of the Department.

Guru-training schools.

43. The total number of guru-training schools was 116—77 in Western Bengal and the rest in Eastern Bengal. Of these 116 schools, 6 were exclusively reserved for the training of mianjis or maktab teachers: 3 in the Presidency, 2 in the Burdwan and 1 in the Chittagong Division. At the end of the year there were 1,896 gurus under training in these institutions. Of these, 1,120 appeared at the final examination and 785 passed. Government have been addressed with a view to the amalgamation, on the lines of the Eastern Bengal scheme of 1908, of the two systems which still obtain in the Western and Eastern sections of the Presidency. The stipends of the gurus under training have been enhanced to a uniform rate of Rs. 10 per mensem. The new scheme seeks to provide guru-training schools with an improved staff, extended accommodation, play-grounds and gardens, and will involve considerable expenditure, both recurring and non-recurring. The guru-training school at Jalpaiguri has been working under the new scheme. In Eastern Bengal several schools of this new type have already been built. It will, however, take time to provide all the schools with improved buildings. The great defect of the present arrangement is the inadequate facilities for the practical teaching work of the students under training.

Out of the Imperial grants a sum of Rs. 1,01,852 was spent on capital charges for guru-training schools during the year under review.

CHAPTER VII.

Professional and Technical Education.

Law colleges and classes.

44. The number of law colleges and classes remained unchanged at 10, but the number of students attending them increased from 2,043 to 2,401. Of these 2,220 were Hindus, 164 Muhammadans and 17 belonged to other races. The most important of the institutions is the University Law College, Calcutta, which had 1,867 students on its rolls on the 31st of March 1915 against 1,533 on the corresponding date of the year before. The total direct expenditure on all the colleges and classes was Rs. 1,96,554, of which Rs. 1,58,335 was incurred on the University Law College alone. At the B. L. Final examinations held during the year, 475 candidates appeared and 267—249 Hindus and 18 Muhammadans—passed.

Pleaders' Survey examination.

45. During the year under review there were 14 students in the short training class at Sibpur and 8 at Dacca. At the examination held in February 1915, 7 candidates passed out of 30.

Survey education.

46. A special committee was appointed to consider this question, and their report is now under consideration.

Civil Engineering College, Sibpur.

47. In the engineering department, the total number of students was 92 against 103 and 97 in the two preceding years. Twenty-four students were admitted during the year. The total admission in the apprentice department numbered 73. Of 177 students attending this department 140 were Hindus and 37 Christians. In the electrical and mechanical engineering branch there were 63 students. The session of the mining branch opened with 10 students, viz., 7 in the third-year class and 3 in the fourth year. At the Colliery Managers' Certificate examination this year 7 students passed, all in the second division. In the workshops the value of the work turned out amounted to Rs. 20,691, including Rs. 2,042 from foundry receipts. The industrial classes for training young artisans had an average attendance of 39; 5 artisans left during the year, their earnings amounting to Rs. 1,348. The chemical department was, as during last year, in charge of the professor of tinctorial chemistry. In the department of tinctorial chemistry there were 4 regular students—3 in the first year and 1 in the second. Sanction was received during the year from the Secretary of State to the continuance of the dyeing classes till the close of the session commencing in November 1916. The total direct expenditure on the college during the year was Rs. 2,31,243, of which Rs. 2,06,488 came from the public funds.

Dacca School of Engineering.

48. The following new admissions were made during the year under review :—

1st year	Sub-Overseer class	... ...	23
2nd „	Ditto do.	... ...	41
3rd „	Overseer class (civil branch)	... ...	47
3rd „	Ditto (mechanical and electrical branch)		5
4th „	Ditto (civil branch)	... ...	10

The survey classes have been abolished, and pending their reconstitution on an improved basis no new admissions will be made. The total market value of the work turned out from the workshops was about Rs. 1,037 for outside work. Rs. 3,283 for improvement of the workshop itself, and Rs. 240 for work done at the school buildings and hostels.

Government Weaving Institute, Serampore, and outlying centres.

49. The session opened with 23 students in the higher classes and 83 in the artisan class. The average number of boarders residing in the hostels during the year was 56. During the year under review, steady progress has been made both at the institute and the outlying centres. Government sanction has been accorded to the installation of a small power-driven factory at a cost of Rs. 11,026, to enable the students to receive a more practical training, and the necessary machinery has been ordered. The question of the site on which the power factory is to be installed is under the consideration of Government. The total cost to Government for the institute during the year was Rs. 40,689, including the cost of the power factory. At the Malda Government Weaving school the expenditure for the year was Rs. 1,178, at Cox's Bazar Rs. 1,133 and at Bankura Rs. 1,243. The average number of pupils in these outlying schools was 14, 13 and 12, respectively.

Government Commercial Institute, Calcutta.

50. There has been an improvement in the standard of admissions as compared with previous years. The number of pupils who joined the school during the year was 54 in the 1st-year class and 17 in the 2nd year. In the evening classes there were altogether 148 students, of whom 38 took advanced subjects. In the final examination of the day course, 14 appeared and 4 passed. The total cost of the institute for the year was Rs. 30,487. During the year under review a special grant of Rs. 8,100 was made to the school for the purchase of modern standard type-writers of different makes, and the addition of 19 new type-writers has contributed considerably to the efficiency of the instruction. The opening of a class in accountancy has been sanctioned since the close of the period under review. The question of constituting a Governing Body with defined powers in place of the existing Commercial Advisory Board is being considered.

Government School of Art, Calcutta.

51. There were 284 students on the rolls on the 31st March 1915, as against 262 in the previous year. Of these students 23 were studying lithography and 5 wood engraving. In the hostel there were 32 boarders. During the year 29 students have obtained remunerative employment and are working satisfactorily in different branches of art.

Schools for juvenile offenders.

52. The question of imparting education to juvenile offenders was under the consideration of Government throughout the year.

Joint Technical Examination Board.

53. The introduction at the Goëthals Memorial Orphanage, Kurseong, of the special first-year class of the 3 years' course in the mechanical and electrical branch of the Overseer examination has been sanctioned by Government. At the Overseer examination 84 candidates passed out of 109 or 77·06 per cent., and at the Sub-Overseer examination 81 passed out of 145 or 55·86 per cent. In 1914 these percentages were, respectively, 57·8 and 63·4. There has been a general decline in the number of admissions to technical schools. The Midnapur Technical School and the sub-overseer classes of the Barisal Technical School have been closed. All the figures in this paragraph include the statistics of candidates from Bihar and Orissa.

Mining instruction in the coal-fields.

54. As in previous years, the Mining Educational Advisory Board controlled the three centres at Charanpur, Deshergarh and Raniganj besides the two centres at Sijua and Jheria, which are in the Province of Bihar and Orissa. Out of 58 students eligible for the sessional examination for all five centres 25 only actually appeared, of whom 16 passed. The question of the development of the local mining classes on an improved basis, as advocated in the Report of the Committee on Mining Education (1914), is still before Government.

City & Guilds of London Institute Technological examination.

55. The examinations in April and May 1914 were held at two centres—Serampore and Calcutta. Fifty-four candidates in textile subjects appeared at the Serampore centre and 20 in engineering subjects appeared at the Calcutta centre. Thirty-four candidates passed in textile subjects and 6 in engineering subjects.

"B" classes.

56. At the School Final examination of "B" classes held in 1914, 36 candidates appeared and 24 passed. These figures include candidates from Bihar and Orissa.

Imperial grants.

57. From the recurring grant of Rs. 34,000, a total of Rs. 17,104 was assigned to items of a recurring nature and Rs. 1,200 to non-recurring items. From the recurring grant of Rs. 37,000 a sum of Rs. 5,000 was allotted for recurring purposes and Rs. 18,975 for non-recurring purposes. Rupees 27,446 was allotted for non-recurring purposes out of the unspent balances of the recurring grants of Rs. 34,000 and Rs. 37,000 and of the non-recurring grant of Re. 1 lakh for the year 1913-14.

CHAPTER VIII.

The Education of Indian Girls and Women.

Schools and pupils.

58. The number of public institutions of all classes for girls and women increased from 7,573 to 8,268 or by 695, and the number of girls and women, including those reading in mixed schools, from 230,729 to 247,971 or by 17,242. The increase in the numbers of schools occurred under the heads of primary and special schools while secondary schools and colleges remained stationary. Primary schools increased from 7,031 to 7,622, and special from 477 to 581. Of the total number of girls and women 131,677 were Hindus and 108,377 Muhammadans. The corresponding figures in the preceding year were 129,518, and 93,912, respectively. The increase of 14,465 girls in the number of Muhammadans as against 6,013 of the preceding year is satisfactory. The number of Hindu girls increased by 2,159 only.

Imperial recurring grants.

59. In October 1914 Government sanction was received in regard to the distribution of the Imperial recurring grant of Rs. 2,44,000 for female education. Allotment was made as follows :—

	Rs.
(1) High schools	22,580
(2) Training of secondary school teachers ...	40,000
(3) Ditto of primary school teachers ...	6,560
(4) Scholarships	17,580
(5) Zanana education	12,870
(6) Special grant for all classes of girls' schools	5,000
(7) Middle schools	28,600
(8) Education of Muhammadan girls ...	45,880
(9) Inspection	32,435
(10) Primary schools	28,120
Total ...	2,39,625
Balance ...	4,375
GRAND TOTAL ...	2,44,000

Inspection.

60. The women inspecting agency includes 2 inspectresses (in the Indian Educational Service) and 10 assistant inspectresses (in the Provincial Educational Service).

Collegiate education. Arts Colleges.

61. The Bethune College still occupies the same building with the collegiate school, and is cramped for space. The question of improved accommodation is still pending. The highest number of students on the rolls of the college during the year under review was 72 as against 65 in the preceding year. Of these 59 were Brahmos, 7 Hindus and 6 Christians. In addition to the Bethune College, there is another aided first-grade college, the Diocesan College, for Indian girls in Calcutta. This college is affiliated up to the B. A. and B. T. degrees of the University.

Secondary education, High schools.

62. The number of high schools increased to 15—11 in West Bengal and 4 in East Bengal. In West Bengal the Bethune Collegiate School is a Government institution. There are 9 aided and 1 unaided schools. In East Bengal there are 3 Government schools and the remaining 1 at Darjeeling is an aided school. The Imperial allotment has made adequate grants possible.

Miss Brock reports that although the disadvantages of the Matriculation course are being recognised, no real effort has been made to substitute a better one for it.

Middle schools.

63. Middle schools have participated in the Imperial grants, both recurring and capital. In the Rajshahi Division, 4 schools at Dinajpur, Pabna, Rangpur and Bogra were raised to the middle English status with an increased grant-in-aid. Excepting in advanced centres, however, middle schools are in effect primary schools, for there are very few girls in the higher classes.

There are 3 Government middle schools, viz., at Comilla, Noakhali and Faridpur. Of the rest 1 is under a municipality, 28 are aided and 3 unaided. In West Bengal the middle schools under Mission management show greater improvement than those managed by Hindus or Brahmos. The Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, suggests that the housing difficulty is really at the root of the matter, and, if it can be met, the efficiency of these Indian schools will only be a question of time. The chief requirements are trained mistresses and better buildings.

Primary education.

64. Primary education has benefited from the Imperial allotments available. The amount is inadequate to the growing needs of the Province; still it has enabled the Department to take up and aid a number of promising schools. Many schools also shared in the equipment and building grants provided out of the Imperial funds.

Model girls' schools.

65. There are 22 of these schools in West Bengal, 9 in the Presidency and 13 in the Burdwan Division; also 24 in East Bengal, 7 in the Dacca, 7 in the Chittagong and 10 in the Rajshahi Division.

Peasant girls' schools.

66. These schools are still confined to the Presidency Division. They number 22, and are to be found in backward and remote localities, and cost Government a sum of Rs. 3,432 a year.

Selected primary schools.

67. A large number of primary schools for girls received departmental grants-in-aid, provided out of the Imperial allotments. These are nearly always schools of a better type, which can afford to entertain full-time teachers.

Urban schools.

68. These schools are to be found at subdivisional head-quarters and other small towns in Eastern Bengal. With the aid of the Imperial allotments the number of these schools has been increased from 20 to 23.

Dacca town girls' schools.

69. There are 19 primary girls' schools in Dacca town, maintained by the Municipality with the aid of Government contributions.

Panchayati union girls' schools.

70. As an experimental measure, 20 such schools—10 in the Dacca, 5 in the Noakhali and 5 in the Tippera district—have been started and are working satisfactorily under the Boards' direct management. The funds, both recurring and capital, were provided by the Department out of the Imperial allotments.

Other girls schools.

71. There are some primary schools for girls, about 70, which receive aid from the Inspectors' allotments in Eastern Bengal. These schools are all of the better class.

Home schools scheme.

72. Last year, in accordance with the recommendations of the Female Education Committee of Eastern Bengal and Assam, some schools of this type were started with a grant-in-aid of Rs. 10 per mensem in each case. These schools are conducted by elderly zanana ladies in their own homes.

73. The great majority of Bengal primary schools in which girls are being taught lie outside the scope of departmental grants. They are aided schools receiving small grants or stipends from District Boards and Municipalities. As a rule these schools are inefficient, doing little beyond accustoming the people to the idea of the education of girls. The problem of improving these schools is a very difficult one.

Zanana education.

74. In both parts of the Presidency the number of zanana teachers has been increased. Two new schemes for zanana work, viz., at Pabna and Rangpur, have received the sanction of Government. Zanana work is also carried on by Missionaries.

The education of Muhammadan girls.

75. A sum of Rs. 45,880 was allotted to the improvement and expansion of educational facilities for the education of Muhammadan girls out of the Imperial grants. There seems to be a growing desire for education amongst Muhammadan women all over Bengal. Special grants-in-aid have been sanctioned in favour of certain girls' schools. Funds are still available, and endeavours are being made to improve existing institutions and to start new girls' maktabs.

Training of teachers. Secondary training.

76. Government have generally approved the scheme for the establishment of a women's secondary training college for the Presidency. Details are being worked out and the preliminaries in connexion with the renting of the premises are being settled. Meanwhile the grant-in-aid to the Diocesan College is being continued for the maintenance of a secondary training class affiliated up to the B. T. standard of the University.

Primary training.

77. With the exception of the Government classes at Calcutta and Dacca, all training is in the hands of Missionaries. In Western Bengal there are 5 training classes under Mission control. A new training class was started in connexion with the Church of Scotland Mission School at Kalimpong. All the Mission training classes continue to do good work and receive aid from the Department. The Western Bengal training classes prepare candidates for the Junior and Senior Teachership Certificate examinations conducted by the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. Sixty-five teachers appeared at the examinations, 56 passed, 20 the Senior and 36 the Junior Teachership examination. In the Calcutta training class all the stipends have been taken up and the school is doing admirable work. There were 35 pupils in the training classes attached to the Dacca Eden High School.

Reorganisation of the Dacca training classes.

78. There is a scheme for the establishment on a new and separate foundation of the training classes now attached to the Eden High School for girls at Dacca. Government have generally agreed to reserve certai sums of money out of Rs. 2,44,000 for this purpose. The details are being worked out.

Pardanashin training class. Training stipends.

79. The establishment in Dacca of a pardanashin training class for Muhammadan women teachers is under consideration. In addition to grants to the Mission training classes, a large number of training stipends was awarded last year to enable poor and deserving girls to undergo the necessary training at the various Mission training classes.

Scholarships.

80. With the aid of the Imperial allotments, the number of scholarships has been considerably increased. The total expenditure on account of scholarships now amounts to Rs. 30,696. We have now an adequate number of scholarships for the Presidency. Last year all the scholarships were not taken up in Western Bengal, where girls still retain their right to compete with boys for the ordinary scholarships.

Industrial education.

81. There are industrial schools for girls in Kalimpong and Darjeeling, and two industrial homes for grown-up women in Dacca and Orakandi. In Western Bengal the industrial homes and schools under Mission control show improvement. The work turned out by these classes is good in quality. The Mahila Shilpasram in Calcutta has not been a success.

Needle-work teaching.

82. With a view to providing facilities for needle-work teaching in primary schools for girls, some peripatetic needle-work teachers have been appointed. Both the inspectresses recommend a gradual extension of the scheme.

Needle-work exhibition.

83. There was a marked improvement in needle-work in schools in Eastern Bengal due to the needle-work exhibition and the distribution of diplomas started by Her Excellency Lady Carmichael about a year ago.

Concluding remarks.

84. Generally the year 1914-15 has been one of steady progress (thanks largely to the Imperial grants). The recurring grants amounted to Rs. 2,44,000 and the non-recurring to Rs. 6,02,000 (with the savings of the recurring grant of Rs. 2,44,000 for 1913-14 added to the original grant of Rs. 4,00,000). Full advantage could not be taken of the sanctioned allotments, as there were not a sufficient number of suitable schemes ready. Large grants were, however, sanctioned for buildings and equipment. Much still remains to be done particularly in connexion with the panchayati union and home school schemes. Again most of the primary schools are badly housed, ill-equipped and ineffectively staffed. Considerable sums are still required to place girls' schools generally on an efficient footing.

CHAPTER IX.

The Education of Europeans.

Institutions.

85. On March 31st, 1915, there were 76 schools working in accordance with the Code of Regulations for European schools in Bengal, 59 for general and 17 for special instruction.

Two schools, St. Helen's, Kurseong, and the Queen's Hill School, Darjeeling, were promoted from the secondary to the higher secondary grade, and one, St. Agnes' School, Howrah, from the elementary to the higher elementary grade. The Armenian College at 39, Free School Street, Calcutta, which was removed from the list of recognised schools in September 1911, was restored to the list. The Old Church Boys' Parochial Home, which is managed by the Old Church Mission Committee, has been recognised as an orphanage for boys for two years with effect from January 1st, 1914.

An important event of the year was the agreement of the Government of India to transfer to the Calcutta Free School on certain conditions the buildings belonging to the Military Orphanage at Kidderpore and part of the attached land. The transfer did not take place until after the close of the year under report.

The Doveton College came to an end during the year. The Inspector of European Schools was appointed administrator of the property and funds of the Doveton College and Doveton Institution under section 4 of the Doveton Trust Act, 1914, and has been occupied in settling up its affairs.

Pupils.

86. There were 10,074 pupils, viz., 9,392 European and Anglo-Indian and 682 non-European, under instruction on the 31st of March 1915 as compared with 9,454 ; 8,766 and 688 on the 31st of March 1914. Of these, 4,223—2,617 boys and 1,606 girls—were in secondary and higher secondary schools, and 4,388—2,128 boys and 2,260 girls—in elementary and higher elementary schools.

Expenditure.

87. The total expenditure during the year was Rs. 28,68,596 as compared with Rs. 25,26,238 during the preceding year. The amount was appropriated as follows :—(a) Provincial Revenues Rs. 11,85,239 ; (b) Municipal funds Rs. 15,288 ; (c) Fees Rs. 9,63,416 ; (d) Subscriptions, endowments, etc., Rs. 7,04,653.

The Imperial grants of Rs. 40,000, Rs. 50,000 and Rs. 60,000 were distributed in the form of staff grants according to the principles accepted by Government. Out of the two latter allotments a sum of Rs. 20,000, which was spent in 1913-14 upon extraneous objects, was also distributed this year in the form of staff grants. During the year 1914-15 an additional Imperial grant of Rs. 15,000 was allotted for European education, out of which grants were given in aid of expenditure upon staff to such of the secondary schools as were not receiving assistance from the grants above referred to. All schools, both elementary and secondary, now receive these grants.

The balance of the non-recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 5 lakhs, which was distributed in the form of building and equipment grants to 19 schools during 1913-14, was utilised during the year for the execution of necessary schemes, which it was impossible to finance from Provincial funds.

Scholarships.

88. The total expenditure on scholarships was Rs. 22,998 as against Rs. 21,633 during 1913-14. Neither of the State scholarships of £ 200 per annum awarded annually by the Government of India to the domiciled European or Anglo-Indian community fell to this Presidency.

Teachers.

89. There were 531 teachers in European schools on March 31st, 1915, as compared with 505 on March 31st, 1914. The criticisms made in last year's report still hold good. A certain improvement in the standard of the teaching is noticeable, but the general situation is unsatisfactory.

Training of teachers.

90. The training class for women attached to the Dow Hill School, Kurseong, is the only recognised institution for the training of teachers in Bengal. The number of women under training on the 31st of March 1915 was 15, as compared with 12 on the 31st of March 1914. The annual examination was held in November 1914 by the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, and the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, and was more satisfactory in its results than that of the preceding year. Of six senior candidates five passed, and of seven junior candidates five. The staff has been strengthened, but a complete reorganisation of the arrangements is necessary. A scheme for this purpose is under consideration.

There is no training class for male teachers in this Presidency, and no teacher or candidate from Bengal was sent to Sanawar at the beginning of the new session in March 1915.

Manual instruction.

91. There were only 7 schools giving manual instruction during the year This defect is explained by the dearth of qualified instructors. No class of instruction for teachers was held last year on account of the absence from India of Mr. A. C. Atkinson of La Martinière, on whom the Department relied for this purpose.

Vocational training.

92. The number of schools with a class or classes following one or other of the five recognised supplementary courses was 10—4 for boys and 6 for girls. The largest of these classes are those attached to the Young Women's Christian Association at 134, Corporation Street, Calcutta, with 1,211 students on March 31st, 1915, as compared with 835 on March 31st, 1914. Of the total number, 193 were learning shorthand, 272 type-writing, 2 book-keeping, 7 stencilling, 17 Hindustani, 123 physical training, 34 millinery, 8 elocution, 142 home nursing, 253 first-aid to the injured, 14 household management, 69 dressmaking and 77 cookery. Special classes in drill and physical culture for lady teachers in European schools in Calcutta and for needle-work and cutting out were held at the Young Women's Christian Association during the year, and Government paid a grant-in-aid of Rs. 75 per mensem towards the maintenance of each. On March 31st, 1915, there were 4 pupils in the sub-overseer classes attached to the Victoria School, Kurseong, 1 in the 1st year and 3 in the 2nd against 6 in the preceding year. The sub-overseer classes of the Goëthals Memorial Orphanage had 15 students on March 31st, 1915, as compared with 12 on March 31st, 1914. The Apprentices' Night School, Kharagpur, had 45 students, and the Calcutta Technical School 70 on March 31st, 1915, against 49 and 66, respectively, of the preceding year. The cost of maintaining was Rs. 2,462 for the former and Rs. 7,043 for the latter, of which Rs. 422 and Rs. 2,000 were paid by Government. The Calcutta Technical School has no building of its own, and its classes were held at St. Joseph's Free School till May 1914 and afterwards at the Calcutta Free School.

Domestic training.

93. Training in domestic work was given at St. Helen's Convent School, Kurseong, St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong, and those higher elementary schools which took the domestic course. The experimental class instituted at the Dow Hill, Kurseong, in 1913-14 continued to do good work. Domestic training promises to become an important feature of the Dow Hill school.

CHAPTER X.

The Education of Muhammadans.

Statistics of Muhammadan pupils.

94. During the year under review the number of Muhammadan pupils in institutions of all kinds for the education of Indians increased from 756,042 to 803,589. Of these 686,086 were males and 117,503 females as against 654,150 and 101,892 in the preceding year. The Muhammadans constitute 44·8 per cent. of the total school population. Last year they constituted 43·4 per cent. Still the figure 44·8 per cent. is far below the figure 52·7 per cent., which is the proportion which the Muhammadan population bears to the total population of the Presidency. The percentage of Muhammadans in colleges is 7·8, in the high stage 16·8, in the middle stage 25·3, in the high and middle stages taken together 21·4, and in the primary stage 44·0. The corresponding figures for the last year were 7·2, 14·7, 25·0, 20·3 and 42·6, respectively. Thus, though the Muhammadans appear to have made some progress in every stage of education, this progress is still far from satisfactory. In secondary schools their number actually fell from 101,829 to 101,675. Their number also fell off in the engineering and training colleges and in the medical, engineering and surveying schools. In the technical and industrial schools, however, the number of Muhammadan pupils rose from 401 to 428. The paucity of Muhammadan pupils in the high and collegiate stages is to a great extent attributable to their poverty. The low price obtained for jute last year caused many of the cultivators to withdraw their boys from school.

Special institutions.

95. The majority of Muhammadan pupils are in secondary and primary schools, but there are also a number of institutions specially intended for Muhammadans. These are (1) madrassahs and (2) maktabs.

Madrassahs.

96. The number of madrassahs rose from 172 to 214 and the number of their pupils from 13,863 to 16,350. Of these institutions 11 are senior madrassahs and 203 junior madrassahs. The number of senior madrassahs remained unchanged. Four of these are directly managed by Government and six are aided : recognition has been withdrawn from one on account of its inefficiency. Of the junior madrassahs, one is Government, 129 aided and 73 unaided.

During the current year the scheme of studies drawn up by the Dacca University Committee for madrassahs in Bengal was published by Government, and a recurring grant of Rs. 84,000 out of the Imperial recurring grant of Rs. 1,50,000 was set apart for aiding those madrassahs which adopt the scheme. The Calcutta Madrassah has been excluded from the operation of this scheme, and a special committee has been appointed to revise its curriculum and to make suggestions for its improvement.

Maktabs.

97. The number of maktabs increased from 5,504 to 6,384 and the number of their pupils from 155,435 to 180,668. Of the pupils 145,477 were boys and 35,191 girls as against 125,522 and 29,913 in the preceding year. The total amount given in grants-in-aid to the maktabs of the whole

Presidency rose from Rs. 1,65,753 to Rs. 2,06,198. The only schooling of a large number of Muhammadan boys is that which they get in Koran schools. There are many of these institutions in Bengal, and in many of them nothing is taught but the recitation of the Koran. Grants are offered to these schools on condition that they accept departmental standards. Much remains to be done in this direction.

Training of teachers.

98. The number of mianji training schools remained the same, i.e., six, during the year under report. The total number of Muhammadan pupils under training in training institutions of all kinds rose from 983 to 1,058. Of these 1,052 were male and 6 females as against 976 and 7 last year. In the year under review 41·3 per cent. of the total number of students under training were Muhammadans as compared with 39·9 last year. In training colleges, the percentage of Muhammadans this year was 10·5 as compared with 11·3 last year.

In the new scheme of studies for madrassahs published in Government Resolution No. 450 T.—G., dated 31st July 1914, Urdu has been included as a compulsory subject and the question of supplying efficient Urdu teachers has become important. The question of providing facilities to enable teachers to qualify themselves for teaching this language is now under consideration, as is also the question of providing facilities for the training of the maulvis of madrassahs in modern methods of teaching.

Facilities offered during the year.

99. In the year under review Government appointed five special assistant inspectors of schools for Muhammadan education. In order to give effect to the Government order regarding the employment of Muhammadans in the Education Department a circular has been issued from this office giving instructions that all vacancies which occur must be filled by Muhammadans, if qualified men are available. The Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education keeps a register of Muhammadan candidates seeking employment in the Education Department, and the divisional inspectors of schools and heads of Government institutions have been requested to consult him whenever any vacancy occurs. The Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education sends to these officers copies of his register of candidates periodically. Two forms asking for statistics showing the employment of Muhammadans as teachers in Government high schools and as deputy and subinspectors of schools have been issued. These forms have to be filled up and submitted to this office by the divisional inspectors of schools and the heads of Government institutions.

Hitherto the Government madrassahs other than the Calcutta Madrassah have been maintained from the Mohsin fund. In order to provide more scholarships for Muhammadan boys it has been decided that madrassahs should be maintained from Provincial Revenues and that the amount of the Mohsin fund thus set free shall be utilized for providing scholarships for poor Moslem boys.

Muhammadan Educational Advisory Committee.

100. During the year under review the Muhammadan Educational Advisory Committee completed its sittings. Its report has now been submitted to Government.

CHAPTER XI.

The Education of Special Classes.

Education of chiefs and nobles.

101. The only institution under this head is the Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad, which makes special provision for teaching the boys of the Nizamat family, 26 of whom were under instruction.

Education of aborigines and other backward races.

102. In this province we have Garos, Kochs, and Mandais of the Dacca and Mymensingh districts, Tipras of the Tippera and Noakhali districts, Maghs of the Cox's Bazar subdivision of the Chittagong district and the Sundarbans, hill tribes of the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Sonthals of the Bankura, Birbhum and Midnapore districts. The Mymensingh District Board maintains 2 upper primary and 9 lower primary schools exclusively for children of the hill tribes, and the Bakarganj Board provides a few primary schools for the same purpose. All possible facilities are afforded to the Arakanese Magh boys in the Cox's Bazar subdivision. The special Burmese school at Ramu was raised to the middle English status ; and there is a proposal to open a normal school at Cox's Bazar for the training of Magh teachers. The Government weaving school at the place promises to do well. At the end of the year there were 1 high school, 1 middle vernacular school, 113 primary schools, and a special training class for teachers in the Chittagong Hill Tracts. Education is given free to the hill boys and girls in these tracts and to the Arakanese Maghs in the Cox's Bazar subdivision. The Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division, reports that there has been a general awakening regarding education among the backward races in his division, of whom the Barnas or Rajbanshi Maghs are the most important. During the last few years they have made great progress and in general education now occupy a position intermediate between the Mussalmans and the Hindus. The Namasudras and Jogis have started associations in different centres and are making strenuous efforts to spread education in their own communities. There are special primary schools for Sonthals and other backward tribes in the districts of Bankura, Birbhum, and Midnapore. The Seranga Mission has a training school, where Sonthal pupils are trained for employment as teachers in primary schools. Specific sanction of Government to detailed proposals for the expansion of education among the Sonthals of these districts was received after the close of the year.

Education of the defective.

103. Nothing under this head calls for special mention. The deaf and dumb schools at Calcutta and Barisal and the school for the blind at Calcutta continued to do useful work.

Education of children in tea gardens.

104. There were 19 schools with 363 pupils in Jalpaiguri and 66 schools with 1,561 pupils in Darjeeling for children of labourers employed in tea gardens. Most of the schools in Jalpaiguri are under the management of the planters themselves. Two different systems obtain in the two districts, and the question whether the Darjeeling system, which was reported to be working better, should not be extended to Jalpaiguri is under consideration.

Education of factory children.

105. During the year proposals for the education of the children of labourers in the mills along the Hooghly were formulated and submitted to Government. Necessary sanction was received after the close of the year. The working of the scheme will be described in the next report.

CHAPTER XII.

Private Institutions.

106. During the year these institutions increased from 2,267 to 2,374, and their pupils from 59,861 to 62,922—51,836 boys and 11,086 girls—of whom 14,476 were Hindus, 47,331 Muhammadans, the rest being of other races. The large number of Muhammadan pupils of these institutions is due to the fact that there were 95 advanced Arabic or Persian teaching institutions, mostly unrecognized madrassahs, and 1,561 Koran schools or unrecognized maktabs.

The most conspicuous private institution is the "Santiniketan Brahmacharyya Asram" at Bolpur in Birbhum, which was founded by Sir Rabindra Nath Tagore. This school was visited by His Excellency the Governor during the year. On March 31st, 1915, there were 167 pupils on its rolls.

CHAPTER XIII.

Physical and Moral Training.

Hostels.

107. The number of hostels and boarding houses was 660 against 634 of the preceding year, 594 for males and 66 for females. The number of boarders was 21,760 against 21,073. The total expenditure incurred on the maintenance of all the hostels was Rs. 21,31,419, of which Rs. 3,64,656 came from Provincial Revenues ; Rs. 1,303 from District and Municipal funds, and Rs. 17,65,460 from fees and other sources. The corresponding figures for the preceding year were Rs. 19,64,084 ; Rs. 3,35,524 ; Rs. 3,281 and Rs. 16,25,279, respectively. During the year Imperial grants amounting to Rs. 9,14,980 (recurring and non-recurring) were spent on hostels.

Messes.

108. In Calcutta and Dacca the existing arrangements were continued for the accommodation in messes of students who cannot be accommodated in hostels.

Physical training.

109. The committee appointed to conduct an enquiry into the hygienic condition of schools and colleges in connexion with the non-recurring Imperial grant of Rs. 3,50,000 submitted their recommendations during the year, but it was not possible to lay them before Government until after the close of the year.

The annual grant of Rs. 2,760 to the Young Men's Christian Association towards the salary of the Physical Director was augmented during the year to Rs. 6,000 on the understanding that it shall be open to Government to terminate the arrangement as soon as an officer is recruited in Government service for work of this nature.

During the year Dr. Segard, the Adviser in Physical Education, visited colleges and schools of all grades in almost all districts and submitted an interesting report.

The deputation of drill instructors for training under the Adviser in Physical Education is attended with excellent results. The old system of deshikasrat, which contains exercises likely to prove injurious to weaker boys, is being gradually displaced.

A course in physical training for women teachers was held at the Young Women's Christian Association during the cold season. Both lectures and demonstrations were held and the course was successful.

Discipline.

110. During the year there were few reported cases of breach of discipline. After the conspiracy cases reported last year the prospect appeared to be brightening, and for a time the circulation of seditious pamphlets appeared to have ceased. But immediately after the outbreak of the war a wide and reckless dissemination of these leaflets began to reappear. The campaign appears to have had little or no effect. Some pupils of the Madaripur High School gave trouble, but prompt and effective measures were adopted to restore order. Some pupils of this school were also arrested for alleged complicity in political dacoities.

Of discipline in our schools, Mr. Gunn, Inspector of Schools, Chittagong Division, reports :—"Generally speaking, discipline, as we understand it in English schools, is a thing unknown. This is due in part to the low social status to which a teacher's meagre pay entitles him and in part to the sentimentalism of a system, which imposes fines instead of the cane. If discipline were properly enforced in the earlier stages, there might be some hope of introducing the prefect system with success."

CHAPTER XIV.

Conferences.

111. No conference of educational officers was held during the year under the presidency of the Director of Public Instruction. Conferences of higher inspecting officers were held at divisional head-quarters and questions regarding the distribution and administration of board schools, distribution of Imperial grants to high and middle schools, improvement of guru-training and middle schools, development of maktabs and madrassahs, etc., were discussed. Most of the deputy inspectors of schools also held conferences of sub-inspectors at their district head-quarters to discuss educational matters relating to their respective areas.

CHAPTER XV.

Text-Book Committees.

112. There are still two separate text-book committees in the presidency, one at Calcutta and the other at Dacca. During the year under report 231 books were approved by the Calcutta Committee, while the Dacca Committee reported on 54 books only out of 181. The arrears are partly due to the death of two non-official Hindu members and partly to the delay in submitting opinions on books by some of the members.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT ON THE HOWRAH BRIDGE FOR THE YEAR 1914-15.

No. 3169Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

MARINE.

Dated Calcutta, the 6th December 1915.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report on the Howrah Bridge for the year 1914-15.

THE income of the bridge amounted during the year 1914-15 to Rs. 1,77,275 and the expenditure to Rs. 2,17,280, against Rs. 1,98,748 and Rs. 2,21,850, respectively, in the previous year. The deficit of Rs. 40,005 has been carried forward as a debit on Revenue Account. It was not held expedient to realize securities held by the Reserve Fund owing to the unfavourable state of the money market.

2. The receipts from the railway traffic, which form the main source of revenue, amounted to Rs. 1,57,384 against Rs. 1,72,886 in 1913-14. The decrease of Rs. 15,502 during the year is owing to the smaller tonnage of traffic handled as compared with the previous year.

3. The number of vessels that passed through the bridge during the year 1914-15 and four preceding years is shown below :—

	1914-15.	1913-14.	1912-13.	1911-12.	1910-11.
Sea-going vessels ...	75	87	93	93	107

Port Commissioners' vessels	71	44	63	105	105
Government steamers and flats	...	20	15	13	5

4. There were 21 accidents during the year against 61 in the preceding year. Of these 4 only were to cargo and passenger boats against 28 in 1913-14. In three cases the cargo boats were lost, and in one case one of the crew was drowned.

5. The bridge was opened on 297 occasions, of which 59 were during the day and 238 at night.

6. Considering its age, the bridge is in a fair state of preservation. The proposals for a new bridge are still under discussion.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

(vii) The promissory notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

(viii) No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause (v) on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted: Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said promissory note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. (v) and No. (vi).

(ix) The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day after the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as Government shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

(x) Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

(xi) No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

(xii) The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a promissory note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

(xiii) With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 1,800 specified in the second of these conditions.

(xiv) The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of opium not exceeding altogether fifteen lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said fifteen.

(xv) In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

5. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal :—

No. 1—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale.
No. 2—Report of the examination of such opium.

6. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Ghazipur Factory, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal.

7. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Government of Bengal. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Government entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

No. 2466Medl.—The 9th December 1915.—The following report is published for general information.

J. DONALD,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Dated Darjeeling, the 31st August 1915.

From—MAJOR CLAYTON LANE, M.D., I.M.S., Secy. and Supdt. of Eden Sanitarium and Hospital, Darjeeling,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial and Medical Departments.

(Through the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal.)

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium and Hospital for the year 1914. I was in charge of this institution from 1st January to 31st December 1914.

2. The Sanitarium was opened on the 1st April 1914 and closed on the 10th November 1914.

3. The Hospital attached to the Sanitarium remained open throughout the year and was occupied by six patients before the Sanitarium opened. It was occupied for nine and-a-half months during the year.

4. The following table shows the number of each class of patients and their friends admitted into the Sanitarium and Hospital during the past six years :—

ADMISSIONS.	1909.	1910.	1911.	1912.	1913.	1914.
First class	101	146	56	85	79	69
Intermediate class ...	73	78	126	124	125	97
Second class	178	206	230	288	291	296
Third class	117	136	119	178	177	144
Total ...	472	566	531	675	672	606

The following tables show the number of patients and their relatives and friends admitted during the last six years, together with the daily average sick :—

Patients.

YEARS.	1909.	1910.	1911.	1912.	1913.	1914.
Admissions	389	427	393	506	499	183
Daily average sick ...	24·85	30·05	26·87	24·72	23·11	12·77*

* The Hospital was only occupied for nine and-a-half months during the year.

Relatives and friends.

Males.	Females.	CHILDREN.		Total.	Cured.	Relieved.	Died.
		Males.	Females.
77	65	22	19	183	164	13	6

The total number of admissions during the year 1914 was 606 against 672 during the year 1913; of these 69 were admitted to the first classas compared with 79, 97 in the intermediate class against 125, 296 in the second class against 291 and 144 in the third class against 177 admitted in the year 1913. Of these there were 9 children in the first class, 31 in the intermediate, 62 in the second class, and 19 in the third class, making a total of 121 children admitted in the year 1914.

From the above figures it will be seen that there has been a slight increase of residents in the second class only and fall in numbers in all other classes during the year 1914.

The number of patients treated in 1914 was 183 against 499 in the year 1913. The above figure is the lowest in the records of this institution. It depends on the fact that hithereto any inmate not classed under the heading of "relatives and friends" has been classed as a patient, and if not treated for any disease, has been classified as suffering from "debility." Many of these have been in no way sick and have merely used the institution as a hotel. This year they have been excluded from among the numbers of those shown as "sick."

The daily average number of residents for the whole year works out at 10, though for the period the Sanitarium was open it was 16 as compared with 42 and 55, respectively, during the year 1913.

The average stay of each resident was three days during the year 1914.

The residents generally expressed satisfaction with the arrangements.

5. The free beds of the Medical College Hospital and Presidency General Hospital were occupied nearly all the season.

Seven patients were treated in the Superintendent's free bed against 1 in the year 1913.

Seven patients were treated in the Presidency General Hospital free beds against ten in the year 1913.

One patient was treated in the Medical College Hospital free beds against 8 in 1913.

Five patients were treated in the John White free bed, and one patient, who was a tea-planter, was admitted in the Peter West free bed during the year 1914.

In the year 1914, 3 children were treated in the Theo. Beryl Cot, and the Ministering Children's League, Darjeeling, paid for the treatment of 7 children at the Eden Sanitarium.

The total amount spent on free-bed patients was Rs. 1,058 against Rs 1,417-8 in 1913.

6. The following donations and subscriptions were received in the year 1914:—

		Rs.	A.
1.	Darjeeling Municipality	300	0
2.	Manager, Tukvar Co., Ltd.	100	0
3.	D. P. Mackenzie, Esq.	250	0
4.	Messrs. Mackintosh, Burn & Co.	25	0
5.	Messrs. Hamilton & Co.	25	0
6.	Messrs. Cooke & Kelvey	25	0
7.	Messrs. T. E. Thomson & Co.	25	0
8.	Messrs. R. Knight & Sons	25	0
9.	General Manager, D. H. Ry.	100	0
10.	Herbert Anderson, Esq. (donation) ...	99	12
11.	Rev. Father F. Peal, S.J. (Hospital Sunday Fund).	65	12
	Total ...	1,040	8

7. The rule whereby European Government servants on receipt of Rs. 400 or under can obtain first class accommodation by paying intermediate class rates was taken advantage of in two cases only.

The rule granting a reduction of rates to European assistants in commercial firms, banks, etc., who are annual subscribers, was taken advantage of in two cases only during the year 1914.

8. (1) There was one case of cholera imported from the plains and treated in the Infectious Ward. The patient died.

(2) There were 2 cases of enteric fever against 4 in the year 1913. These cases were of serious type, but the patients recovered after a prolonged illness.

(3) Fourteen malaria fever cases were treated against 12 in the year 1913. The patients all recovered.

(4) Two chicken-pox cases were treated in the Infectious Ward, both of whom recovered.

(5) Nine normal and one abnormal labour cases were treated in the Hospital against 10 in the year 1913.

(6) There were 47 operations performed during the year 1914 against 26 in the year 1913; of these 19 were selected operations and 15 were other important operations which were performed by me. The other 13 operations were performed by Military Assistant Surgeon J. C. Chalke.

(7) There were altogether 6 deaths against 6 in the year 1913.

The causes were—acute nephritis, cholera, acute dilatation of stomach and transverse colon, diphtheria, inanition and intestinal obstruction.

9. The daily cost of diet for residents, not including the staff, was Rs. 2-0-7 as compared with Re. 1-9-5 in the year 1913.

The accounts were audited by Messrs. Viney and Thurston, Chartered Accountants of Calcutta.

10. GENERAL REMARKS—(a) The increased cost of diet by 7 annas per head per day as compared with the last year was not justified by any corresponding increase in prices.

(b) The nursing arrangements and linen as usual were under the supervision of two of the Clewer Sisters from Calcutta. I am much indebted to them for their valuable assistance.

It is far from easy to ensure that nurses shall be available for emergencies without wasting money in paying unnecessary salaries. Sister Mabel Theresa has managed this admirably.

(c) Sister Hope also took charge of the Library, which has undergone much improvement since she took over charge. Some new books were purchased out of the amount realized from the residents as subscription. The funds of the Library are kept apart from those of the Sanitarium, and are under the charge of the Sister in charge of the library.

(d) The Public Works Department carried out the annual repairs to the Sanitarium and Hospital during the cold weather months when the Sanitarium and Hospital were closed.

(e) The Government of Bengal in their letter No. 23T.—Medl., dated 24th April 1914, sanctioned an annual contribution of Rs. 1,500 towards the cost for the free treatment of the patients in the third class from the Presidency General Hospital and Medical College Hospital, Calcutta. This amount, being shown as third class receipt greatly recouped the loss derived from the treatment of third class patients, as the average cost per head is nearly Rs. 5 per diem.

(f) The Sanitarium was officially visited during the year 1914 by Colonel G. F. A. Harris, C.S.I., M.D., I.M.S., former Surgeon-General, and the following house visitors:—

(i) Rev. W. H. Drawbridge.
(ii) Rev. Father F. Peal, S.J.
(iii) Dr. C. E. B. Seal.
(iv) Rev. H. C. Duncan, M.A.
(v) Mr. E. A. Wernicke.
(vi) Rev. H. Spooner

(g) The Committee held 9 meetings during the year 1914 against 7 in the year 1913 to discuss various subjects in the interest of the institution.

(h) The rates of all classes were raised by 8 annas a day per head during the year under report. This was followed by a falling off in admissions into the Sanitarium, and it would be easy to conclude that there was a direct connection between the two. Since, however, this report is actually written after considerable experience of another year's working with rates further increased, yet with a much fuller institution, it is obvious that this explanation is incorrect, except probably in the case of third class inmates. It would appear that residents were not as comfortable as they might have been in the year under report.

(i) The following improvements were proposed to be carried out, but could not be taken in hand for want of funds :—

(i) The sanitary arrangements for the third class rooms, particularly those for women. The present conditions are intolerably insanitary.

(ii) The conversion of the servants' latrine into one of a water-closet type. Estimated cost Rs. 3,484.

(iii) Certain additions and alterations to the Surgical Ward of the Eden Sanitarium, Darjeeling. Estimated cost Rs. 1,899.

(iv) Providing electric heaters in the first class sitting room and second class dining-room. Estimated cost Rs. 361.

(v) Removal of meat and vegetable larders from its present position. Estimated cost Rs. 1,065.

(j) An extension of the Hospital is very urgently required. It is quite inadequate for the number of patients which it ought to accommodate. These have constantly to be moved into the Sanitarium, although they are not really fit for this, owing to more urgent cases requiring the accommodation. The present Hospital was built by Government, and it appears entirely reasonable to ask Government to make the extension.

(k) The Committee has, at least temporarily, lost the services of the Rev. Father F. Peal, S.J., a regularly attending and valuable Committee member, who has been deputed to military duty in Europe as Chaplain to troops. His place has been taken by the Rev. Father C. Grant, S.J.

(l) A new piano was purchased at a cost of Rs. 700 out of the funds raised through special concerts by Mr. Richardson.

(m) The Committee received very gratefully a donation of Rs. 6,150 from Mr. F. M. Leslie for the establishment of a fund called the "Binning Memorial Cot Fund" for the free treatment of children. This amount has been invested at 4 per cent. Calcutta Municipal debentures deposited with the Bank of Bengal.

[Fourth publication.]

[Revised issue.]

The 23rd November 1915.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals, as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system.	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

NOTE.—At the Sandheads the signals are not exhibited, but information is available for passing vessels.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM.

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals.

DISTANT SIGNALS

to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

	Day.	Night.
I. CAUTIONARY.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.		NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.
II. WARNING.—A storm has formed.
NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

LOCAL SIGNALS

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

	Day.	Night.
III. CAUTIONARY.—The port is threatened by squally weather.
IV. WARNING.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.
NOTE.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal
V. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
VI. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
VIII. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal	▼	■	◆	▬	▲	⧗

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal

would be hoisted at the various ports; and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

Examples—

Storm centre.	Locality signals.
Lat. 16 N Long. 86 E	II.
Lat. 16 N Long. 88 E	II and III.
Lat. 16 N Long. 89 E	III and II.
Lat. 18 N Long. 87½ E	II, I and III.
Lat. 19 N Long. 89½ E	I, III and II

 The sections may be defined as follows :—

I.—Contains the area north of lat. 18½°;

II.—Lies south of I; it is bounded on the south by lat. 13° and to the east by long. 88½°;

III.—Lies south of I and east of II; it is bounded to the south by lat. 13° and to the east by a line from the point 13° N. 93° E. to Diamond Island together with the Arakan coast thence up to 18½° N.;

IV.—Lies south of II and west of 86°;

V.—Lies east of IV, south of II, III and west of 93°;

VI.—Lies east of III and V, and represents the Andaman Sea.

A map illustrating these sections accompanies the Code of Storm-warning Signals, published by the Government of India, which will be had on application to the Port Officer, Calcutta or Chittagong.

The Fund is now of ten years' standing and has a balance of over three and-a-half lakhs with Government on four per cent. interest. For forms of applications and rules of the Fund apply to the Comptroller, India Treasuries Imperial Secretariat Buildings, Calcutta.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE BHADOI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1915-16.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under autumn rice in Bengal represents some 8·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in February was in defect of the normal excepting in Northern Bengal, but in March it was generally in excess. In April it was again defective excepting in some of the Eastern Bengal districts. In May and June the rainfall in Western Bengal was about the normal with a tendency to defect, but in Eastern and Northern Bengal the fall was generally excessive resulting in high floods in some districts. The rainfall in July was everywhere defective excepting in the districts of the Chittagong Division. The rainfall in August was generally excessive throughout the Province except in the Burdwan Division and also in Murshidabad, Jessore, Pabna and Malda, while in September the fall was defective except in the 24-Parganas, Bankura, Midnapore, Howrah, Jalpaiguri and Faridpur. The sowings were generally commenced at the usual time, but the season was rather too dry in Western Bengal. In Eastern Bengal the weather was favourable at the time of sowing, but excessive rain and floods later on, especially in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, interfered with the growth of the crops and affected the outturn to a great extent. The season on the whole was not quite favourable for the growth of the bhadoi crops.

Acreage.—The total area sown this year with the different bhadoi crops is reported to be 6,375,900 acres against 5,980,700 acres of last year (revised) and against 6,075,700 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. Of this, the area under autumn rice is reported to be 5,435,700 acres this year against 4,990,200 acres reported in the corresponding forecast of last year. The increase in area this year is due to a corresponding decrease in jute cultivation.

Outturn.—From Appendix I attached to the report it will be seen that Malda reports a bumper crop, i.e., 120 per cent., Khulna and Pabna report a crop a little above the average, i.e., 105 and 103 per cent., respectively, Rangpur, the 24-Parganas, Noakhali, Jalpaiguri, Bakarganj, Rajshahi, Bogra, Burdwan. Murshidabad and Jessore report between 90 to 99 per cent.; Faridpur, Birbhum. Dinajpur, Chittagong, Nadia, Bankura, Hooghly, Midnapore and Darjeeling report between 70 to 84 per cent., while Howrah, the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Tippera, Dacca and Mymensingh report between 46 to 67 per cent. The low outturns in Dacca, Tippera and Mymensingh were chiefly due to damage caused by the floods.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn of the different bhadoi crops for the Province as a whole works out to 82 per cent. of the normal against 78 per cent. reported in the corresponding forecast of last year, and that of autumn rice to 83 per cent. against 79 per cent. of last year.

Taking 83 per cent. as the outturn of autumn (aus) rice this year, the gross outturn for the Province, on the basis of a normal yield of 10 maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 33,146,700 cwts. against 28,963,500 cwts. of last year, or an increase of 14·4 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Third forecast of the cotton crops of Bengal, 1915-16.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal represent some 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

Character of the Season.—The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in the districts of Bankura, Midnapore and Mymensingh. The late crop is grown only in Bankura and Midnapore. The weather and general condition of the early crop are reported to have been favourable in the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Bankura and Mymensingh, but they were unfavourable in Midnapore and in the State of Hill Tippera, due to drought in the former and to excessive rain in the latter. A fair crop is expected for the province. The condition of the late crop is generally reported to be favourable so far.

Area Sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is estimated at 85,698 acres as against 89,460 acres reported at the corresponding forecast of last year. The area sown with late cotton is reported to be 2,100 acres as against 1,900 acres of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of early cotton works out to 28,567 bales as against 33,821 bales reported at the corresponding period of last year. The outturn of late cotton is estimated at 1,173 bales as against 1,158 bales of last year.

Second forecast of the winter rice crop of Bengal, 1915-16.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14, the area under winter rice in Bengal represents some 19·8 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in British India.)

Character of the Season.—After the submission of the first forecast good rain fell throughout the Province during the month of September. This enabled further transplantation of paddy seedlings. The falling off in the total acreage figure shown in the first forecast was thus made up to a large extent. There have been unusually heavy floods in parts of the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions which caused a considerable damage to the crop on low lands. On high lands, however, a bumper crop is expected. This will in some measure compensate for the low outturn in the flood-affected areas. In October the rainfall was rather excessive in the districts of the Chittagong Division, but was moderate and evenly distributed in the rest of the Province. The season on the whole is regarded as fairly satisfactory.

Acreage.—According to the figures furnished by the District Officers this year the total acreage for the Province is 15,105,000 acres against 15,074,500 and 15,084,300 acres shown in the second and final forecasts respectively of last year, or an increase of 30,500 acres over the estimate of the second forecast and 20,700 acres over the final forecast of the last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended it will be seen that seven districts (viz., the 24-Parganas, Khulna, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Bogra and Bakarganj) report more than a normal crop. Of these, a bumper crop is expected in the 24-Parganas, Khulna and Bakarganj, the percentage outturn being 117, 123 and 120 respectively. A normal crop is reported from seven districts (viz., Howrah, Rajshahi, Darjeeling, Pabna, Malda, Faridpur and Noakhali); eight districts report a percentage outturn between 80 to 92; three districts between 67 to 75; whereas Bankura alone returns as low as 42 only. According to the District Officers' estimates the provincial outturn works out to 96 per cent. as compared with 81 and 72 per cent. of the second and final forecasts, respectively, of last year. On the basis of the normal yield of 12 maunds of clean grain per acre the provincial outturn, as worked out from the District Officers' estimates, is 127,843,800 cwts. against 107,650,400 cwts. shown in the corresponding forecast of last year.

	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas ...	899,700	789,100	789,300	67	117	Middle of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to the fact that transplantation continued even after its submission as there was sufficient rainfall. The weather was good for the growth of the crop. Hence the outturn is expected to be above the normal.
Nadia ...	136,800	134,600	124,300	58	67	Ditto ...	The decrease in area is due to want of rain. The weather was not favourable. The outturn is estimated below the normal owing to scarcity of rain.
Murshidabad ...	345,600	315,900	322,300	75	75	.....	The increase in area as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to the fact that some lands in the Kandi subdivision were transplanted after its submission. The weather condition has not been favourable. Damage to some extent is anticipated by drought and insect-pests. Hence the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Jessore	563,100	411,400	463,400	87	92	November. Normal	The increase in area as compared with that of last year is due to the fact that the cultivators put more lands under the cultivation of this crop on account of the high price of paddy and the low price of jute obtained last year. The weather was favourable but the crop was in some parts damaged by flood and insects. Hence the outturn is expected to be below the normal.
Khulna ...	745,300	748,000	749,300	69	128	Beginning of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with the estimates of the first forecast is due to the fact that the weather having turned more favourable after its submission, more land was transplanted with this crop. The increase as compared with last year is due to the cultivation of some char and fallow lands. The weather was favourable. Hence the outturn is expected to considerably exceed the normal.
Burdwan ...	874,800	760,000	520,000	67	67	Middle of November.	The decrease in area is due to deficient rainfall at the time of sowing. The weather condition was unfavourable owing to drought prevailing throughout the district. Hence the outturn is much below the normal.
Birbhum ...	604,600	604,600	573,000	67	83	End of November	The decrease in area sown this year is due to inadequate rainfall. The weather since the submission of the first forecast has been on the whole good. Slight damage was done by drought.
Bankura ...	310,800	481,500	171,000	85	42	.....	The decrease in area sown this year is due to scanty rainfall. The outturn is also expected to be below the normal for the same reason.
Midnapore ...	1,579,400	1,574,900	1,586,000	67	90	... ...	The increase of 11,000 acres as compared with the estimate in the first forecast is due to late transplantation in Tamluk subdivision. The weather has been favourable on the whole. Some damage was done by drought and insect-pests in Thana Garhbeta and in Ghatal subdivision respectively. The outturn is expected to fall a little below the normal for want of timely rainfall.

Hooghly ...	276 700	246,400	227,900	71	91	End of November...	Owing to late monsoon there has been a decrease of area sown this year as compared with the area sown last year, but the increase of area in the present forecast over the estimate made in the first forecast is due to sufficient rains during the months of August and September which helped further transplantation. The weather was favourable for the growth of the crop. Heavy showers in September have done immense good to the standing crop, but the outturn is still expected to fall below the normal, on account of scanty rainfall at the outset.
Howrah ...	125,200	103,300	111,700	67	100	Middle of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to favourable weather prevailing since its submission. The outturn is reported to be normal.
Rajshahi ...	697,000	492,000	565,900	70	100	1st week of December.	The increase in area sown this year is due to extension of cultivation owing to the decrease in the price of jute last year. The weather conditions have been favourable on the whole.
Dinajpur ...	1,120,300	900,800	1,034,900	50	105	.....	The increase in area sown this year as compared with that of last year is due to timely rainfall and also to decrease in the area under jute crop. The decrease as compared with the estimate of the first forecast is due to revision. The weather has been favourable. Hence the outturn is expected to exceed the normal.
Jalpaiguri ...	551,300	408,000	516,400	72	102	.....	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to favourable rainfall and to the preference given over tobacco and jute crops. The weather has been favourable. The outturn is expected to be good.
Darjeeling ...	35,200	36,800	38,200	69	100	Second week of November.	The weather has been favourable for the growth of the crop.
Rangpur ...	822,360	582,300	800,900	90	102	End of November; a little late.	There has been an increase of 5,000 acres in Nilphamari subdivision and 200 acres in Sadar since the submission of first forecast owing to the fact that the cultivators were able to transplant paddy almost throughout September last. The weather was good Hence the outturn is expected to exceed the normal.
Bogra ...	303,000	303,000	303 000	60	105	.....	The weather condition has been favourable for the growth of the crop. Damage to some extent was done to the crop in thana Dhunat by excessive rain. Still the outturn is expected to be better than the normal.
Pabna ...	566,000	470,000	500,000	82	100	End of November	The weather condition was not very favourable at the time of sowing. Showers in June, July and August and the last floods improved the condition of the crop, although some damage was done in low char lands. Hence the outturn is expected to be normal.
Malda ...	300,000	300,000	300,000	45	100	End of November. Normal.	The weather condition has been favourable for the growth of the crop. Hence a normal outturn is expected this year.

Dacca ...	633,100	597,200	592,600	80	83	Middle of November. Normal.	The increase in area as compared with that of the first forecast is due to the fact that many low lands in certain parts of the district were entirely washed away during the beginning of September by unusually high floods resulting from excessive rain. The weather was good at the beginning of the season; but the floods and insect pests have done considerable damage to the crop. In the high lands in certain parts of the district there has been a bumper crop; but the average outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Mymensingh ...	1,126,700	966,500	972,700	100	90	Ditto ...	The increase of 3,000 acres in area over the estimates of the preliminary forecast is due to the transplantation of winter paddy after the harvesting of jute. Some damage was done by excessive rain and heavy floods, but weather has been otherwise favourable for the cultivation and growth of transplanted paddy.
Faridpur ...	770,100	661,000	768,100	80	100	Ditto ...	The increase in area is due to the fall in the price of jute last year. The weather condition has been favourable. Slight damage has however been caused by the unusual rise of water. A normal outturn is expected.
Bakarganj ...	1,300,000	1,285,000	1,210,000	60	120	.....	The decrease in area as compared with that of last year is due to increase in area under bhadoi crops. The weather condition has been very favourable. A bumper crop is expected.
Chittagong ...	418,400	425,000	426,100	80	85	End of November. Normal.	The increase in area is due to the extension of cultivation. The weather has been fair. Some damage was done to the crop by floods in the thanas Fatickchary and Hathazari and the seacoast lands in the Cox's Bazar subdivision. Insect-pests appeared to a small extent in the Satkania thana.
Tippera ...	724,800	820,000	783,000	75	60	Middle of November.	With the subsidence of the floods large tracts were sown and transplanted. Hence the increase over the acreage figures published in the first forecast. Floods in June, July and August destroyed much of the broadcast paddy and delayed transplantation in Brahmanbaria subdivision. The floods in October destroyed the crop in some parts of the Sadar subdivision.
Noakhali ...	566,900	633,000	637,000	80	100	November. Normal.	There has been increase in area as compared with the estimates of the first forecast in the Sadar subdivision owing to late transplantation. The effect of the late rains in October has been beneficial to the growth of the crop in the Sadar subdivision.
Chittagong Hill Tracts.	47,500	38,000	49,000	50	80	.....	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. In consequence of unseasonable rainfall, the outturn is expected to be below the normal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR NOVEMBER 1915.

I. Character of the Season.—During the month under review the rainfall was in excess of the normal throughout the Province excepting in Nadia, Jessore, Jalpaiguri, Pabna, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Tippera, Noakhali and Cooch Behar, where the fall was slightly in defect. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of Agricultural operations.—The preparation of land for and the sowing of rabi crops were in progress. The operations were facilitated by the rainfall during the third week of the month. Harvesting of the early varieties of winter paddy was also commenced.

III. State of standing crops.—The state of the winter paddy crop continued to be generally satisfactory excepting in parts of the Burdwan and Bankura districts, where its condition was reported to be unfavourable owing to the insufficiency of rainfall during the preceding months. In parts of the Dacca district also the crop on low land fared badly on account of the unusually heavy floods in September last. The state of the crop on high lands was, however, highly satisfactory.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of the winter rice crop and sugarcane were, on the whole, fairly good. The general outlook of the spring crops was hopeful.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No reports of damage to the standing crops were reported from any district.

VI. Condition of Agricultural Stock.—The condition of agricultural stock was reported to be fair. From the weekly reports it appeared that the number of districts where cattle disease existed during the month varied from 2 to 7.

VII. Failure of pasturage and Fodder.—Fodder was reported to be insufficient in parts of Faridpur, Mymensingh and Tippera.

VIII. Prices of Food-grain.—During the second fortnight of the month under review the price of common rice rose in three districts, fell in fourteen and remained stationary in the rest. It varied from 6 seers a rupee at Siliguri to 12 seers a rupee at Contai.

IX. Condition of the Agricultural people.—The condition of the agricultural population throughout the Province was fair except in Bankura, Noakhali, Tippera and in parts of the Dacca district where some amount of distress existed during the month. Gratuitous relief and agricultural loans continued to be given in those places. The District Board road works and test works also found employment for the labouring classes.

CALCUTTA, the 13th December 1915.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

CALCUTTA TRADE FLUCTUATIONS.

THE following tables are intended to show the trade of the Calcutta Block* in certain selected articles during the months of April to June 1915 by all routes, i.e., by rail, river, canal, road and sea. The statistics have been compiled from returns furnished by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, Railway Audit Offices, Steamer Companies, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the District Magistrates of the 24-Parganas and Howrah, and the Assistant Engineer, Calcutta Canals.

Imports.

The principal articles imported into Calcutta by rail, river, canal, road and sea (coastwise) during April to June 1915, as against the corresponding months of 1914, show (in round numbers) an increase of—

173 per cent. in paddy (2,480,000 maunds as against 909,000 maunds),
143 per cent. in jute raw (1,043,000 bales as against 429,000 bales),
128 per cent. in wheat (2,789,000 maunds as against 1,222,000 maunds),
50 per cent. in rice (7,403,000 maunds as against 4,921,000 maunds),
14 per cent. in gunny-bags (71 million bags as against 62 millions), 13 per cent. in Indian piece-goods† (Rs. 36,45,000 as against Rs. 32,35,000), and a decrease of—

34 per cent. in coal and coke (25,849,000 maunds as against 38,956,000 maunds).
24 per cent. in indigo (328 maunds as against 431 maunds).

Shipments from Burma of paddy and rice rose from 357,000 maunds and 2,544,000 maunds in April to June 1914 to 1,979,000 maunds and 5,810,000 maunds, respectively, in the corresponding months of 1915. Despatches of jute, especially from Rangpur, Dacca and Bihar and Orissa increased during the same periods from 170,000 bales to 486,000 bales; of wheat from the United Provinces increased from 684,000 maunds to 2,170,000 maunds; of gunny-bags from Hooghly and the 24-Parganas from 61 million bags to 69 millions; and of Indian piece-goods from Bombay and Madras from Rs. 21,32,000 to Rs. 25,55,000.

Despatches of coal and coke from Burdwan decreased from 17,364,000 maunds in April to June 1914 to 12,699,000 maunds in the corresponding period of 1915, and from Bihar and Orissa from 21,503,000 maunds to 13,115,000 maunds.

Owing to smaller shipments mainly from Bombay during April to June 1915 (Rs. 34,977 as against Rs. 5,38,879 last year), the imports by sea (foreign and coastwise) into Calcutta of Indian cotton piece-goods, decreased by 93 per cent.

Exports.

The exports by sea (foreign and coastwise) from Calcutta of rice show a fall of 64 per cent. on account of smaller shipments principally to foreign countries other than the United Kingdom (593,000 maunds in April to June 1915 as against 1,747,000 maunds in the corresponding months of 1914), and the decrease of 44 per cent. in the exports of coal and coke is due chiefly to smaller shipments to Bombay, Sind, Madras and Burma (5,718,000 maunds as against 13,142,000 maunds last year). Owing to larger shipments to the United Kingdom (249,000 maunds as against 3,266 maunds last year) exports of wheat rose by 554 per cent. The exports of raw jute to the United Kingdom increased from 124,000 bales last year to 369,000 bales. Shipments of gunny-bags to foreign countries other than the United Kingdom decreased by about 10 million bags, while those to the United Kingdom increased from 9 million bags in April to June 1914 to 59 million bags in April to June 1915 and to Burma from 7 million bags to 10 million bags.

* Calcutta Block consists of the town of Calcutta with Howrah and Kidderpore Docks.
† Excluding imports coastwise.

Exports by rail, river, canal, road and sea (coastwise) increased in the case of foreign cotton twist and yarn—by 13 per cent. (73,000 maunds as against 64,000 maunds), and decreased in the case of Indian cotton piece-goods by 14 per cent. (Rs. 36,22,000 as against Rs. 41,96,000).

The statistics for April to June 1915, as also for the corresponding months of 1914, are summarised below :—

[Fifth publication.]

The 23rd November 1915.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals, as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

NOTE.—At the Sandheads the signals are not exhibited, but information is available for passing vessels.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM.

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals.

DISTANT SIGNALS

to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

Day. Night.

I. CAUTIONARY.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.

II. WARNING.—A storm has formed.

NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

LOCAL SIGNALS

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

Day Night.

III. CAUTIONARY.—The port is threatened by squally weather.

IV. WARNING.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.

NOTE.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal

V. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).

VI. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
II. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal	▼	▮	◆	▬	▲	⧗

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal would be hoisted at the various ports; and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

Examples—

Storm centre.	Locality signals.
Lat. 16 N Long. 86 E	II.
Lat. 16 N Long. 88 E	II and III.
Lat. 16 N Long. 89 E	III and II.
Lat. 18 N Long. 87½ E	II, I and III.
Lat. 19 N Long. 89½ E	I, III and II.

 The sections may be defined as follows :—

I.—Contains the area north of lat. 18½°;

II.—Lies south of I; it is bounded on the south by lat. 13° and to the east by long. 88½°;

III.—Lies south of I and east of II; it is bounded to the south by lat. 13° and to the east by a line from the point 18° N. 93° E to Diamond Island together with the Arakan coast thence up to 18½° N.;

IV.—Lies south of II and west of 86°;

V.—Lies east of IV, south of II, III and west of 93°;

VI.—Lies east of III and V, and represents the Andaman Sea.

A map illustrating these sections accompanies the Code of Storm-warning Signals, published by the Government of India, which will be had on application to the Port Officer, Calcutta or Chittagong.

2. Clause 4, sub-clause (d).—(i) Clause (b) in proposed section 6 (4). We consider that the liability imposed by the proposed clause (b) on the owner of the building or land in or upon which coke is improperly made should be qualified by making it clear that he is not liable to prosecution unless he knowingly permits the offence.

(ii) Proposed section 6 (6).—We do not consider the definitions of "occupier" and "owner" in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, entirely suitable for the purposes of this Bill. Moreover, we understand that the amendment of that Act is under consideration. We therefore think that the definitions in the Bill should be self-contained. We have inserted self-contained definitions differing slightly from those in the present Municipal Act.

3. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended by us, be passed.

*This member signed subject to his Note of Dissent appended.

JOINT NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE MR. HILARY, THE HON'BLE RAJA HRISHIKESH LAHA, THE HON'BLE MR. BRAY AND THE HON'BLE MR. G. H. C. ARIFF.

WE are convinced that the exemption at present conferred on steamers by the Act cannot be abrogated, as proposed by clause 2 of the amending Bill, without danger to shipping and the Port of Calcutta; and we therefore dissent from the report of the Select Committee in so far as it recommends the adoption of clause 2 and clause 9, or such part thereof, as well as any other clauses or sub-clauses of the Bill as may be consequential on the said clause 2.

NOTE OF DISSENT BY THE HON'BLE RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR.

I THINK that in the proposed new section 9 (3) [clause 8 of the Bill] there should be a provision giving reasonable time to the female inmates to seclude themselves before the Inspector enters any building for inspection.

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1915;

STARRED QUESTIONS

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR:—

Establishment of greater confidence and trust between the Police and the people.

* 1. Will the Government be pleased to state what measures have been taken, or are being taken, with a view to establish relations of greater confidence and trust between the Police and the people and generally to bring about a closer touch between them?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

The Hon'ble Member is referred to the last report (of the year 1914) on the Administration of the Police Department*, and to the Government Resolution † on the report, copies of which are laid on the table. The matter has also been investigated by Mr. Gourlay, who, as the Hon'ble Member is aware, was lately placed on special duty to inquire into various questions connected with the Police Administation. It is expected that Mr. Gourlay's report will be submitted shortly, and the whole question will then be considered further by Government.

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Alleged lack of police supervision of traffic in the northern quarter of Calcutta.

*2. (a) Are the Government aware that there is no proper police supervision of the traffic in the area north of Bowbazar Street and Lall Bazar Street, especially in the numerous thoroughfares of the Indian commercial area in that part of the city?

(b) If so, are the Government considering the desirability of instructing the Commissioner of Police to take the necessary steps to regulate this traffic?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

"(a) Government have received no complaints on the subject.

(b) The question of the regulation of traffic in the north of Calcutta and especially in the narrow thoroughfares of the Commercial area has been under the consideration of the Commissioner of Police and the Chairman of the Corporation for some time, and improvements are being introduced as funds and staff become available. At present in this area 25 beats and crossings are manned by Sergeants and 67 by Traffic constables."

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Protection of the people of Calcutta from attacks from armed dacoits.

*3. Will the Government be pleased to state what special steps they have taken or are taking to protect the life and property of the people of Calcutta and its suburbs from the attacks of armed dacoits?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

"The Commissioner of Police is taking certain measures which he hopes may prove adequate to cope with the crimes of the nature of those to which the Hon'ble Member refers. Armed patrols are being sent round the more important thoroughfares, and armed men in motor-cars patrol various quarters of the city. Government have requested the Commissioner of Police to give facilities to merchants or others desirous of employing their own armed guards. The work of such guards will be co-ordinated as far as possible with that of the regular force, and instructions will be issued as to the action to be taken in case of emergency.

The Commissioner of Police has, for some time past, contemplated the erection in different quarters of the town of a large number of alarm-posts in order to facilitate the prompt receipt by the police of information as to the commission of crimes. These posts will be in direct telephonic communication with a central station, and the Commissioner of Police proposes that more than 100 of them should be erected immediately. Each post will be in charge of a constable on fixed point duty, but they will be so constructed that in the absence of a constable it will be possible for any member of the public to give the alarm. This project will be carried out at once.

Arrangements will be made so that policemen in motor-cars may be despatched at once from the central station to any points which may be thought advisable immediately after the receipt of an alarm; and the alarm will be repeated from the central station to all the other posts in the town, so that the whole police force on beat duty may be informed of the commission of a crime within a few minutes after receipt of information at the central station.

* Copies of this Report are available in the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt.

Questions and Answers.

Drop-gates will be erected at various points, by means of which it will be possible to stop traffic whenever it may be thought necessary.

Other measures are under consideration or are already determined upon, but the Hon'ble Member will easily understand that it is probably not in the public interest to make all details known. He may, however, rest assured that Government are fully alive to the importance of the matter, and will welcome and carefully consider all suggestions which may be made to the Commissioner of Police or the Chief Secretary."

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Obstruction of traffic in Calcutta by firms and companies who have the power to lay underground pipes and cables.

* 4. (a) Are the Government aware that several of the firms and companies in Calcutta, who have the power to lay underground pipes and cables, do so without the sanction of the Corporation?

(b) Are the Government also aware that (with the exception of the Bengal Telephone Company) this privilege is enjoyed by these people without the payment of any fee or rent?

(c) Are the Government also aware that the work of laying down these underground pipes and cables is frequently delayed and is also carried out regardless of obstruction to traffic?

(d) Are the Government also aware that it often happens that roads after they have been thoroughly repaired by the Corporation, are again cut up by these people and the surface of the roads thereafter not satisfactorily restored?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps (if any) they are taking to bring such firms and companies under the control of the local authorities?

The Hon'ble Mr. DE replied :—

"(a) Two companies have statutory powers of opening the public streets in Calcutta to lay underground pipes and cables without the sanction of the Corporation. A third company enjoys these powers except in the case of new cables. But in all cases notice is required to be given except in cases of urgency.

(b) No fee is payable by companies which possess these powers. The Bengal Telephone Company does not possess them.

(c) Government are aware that in some cases there has been delay, but are advised that the work is not carried out regardless of obstruction to traffic.

(d) Roads which have recently been repaired by the Corporation have in some cases been cut up by public companies for pipe or cable laying and restoration has not always been thoroughly satisfactory. Conferences have been arranged recently by the Chairman of the Corporation with the companies, with a view to road repairs being carried out after, and not before, the laying of pipes and cables.

(e) Government do not propose taking any action in the matter."

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Tram track repairs by the Calcutta Tramway Company.

* 5. (a) Are the Government aware that the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta is in the receipt of frequent complaints from the public of Calcutta on account of the inconvenience caused to them by the unsatisfactory and dilatory methods employed by the Calcutta Tramway Company, Limited, in connection with their tram-track repairs?

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR—concld.

(b) Are the Government also aware that it is the practice of the said Company to deposit repair materials along the roads for interminable periods, and that the Corporation's request for night and day labour by the said Company on their repairs was refused by them?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what action (if any) they are taking in the matter?

The Hon'ble MR. DE replied :—

"(a) Complaints of this nature have been received by the Chairman of the Corporation from members of the General Committee, but none recently from the general public.

(b) Government are aware that there is a certain amount of inconvenience indissociable from the repair of tram-lines in crowded thoroughfares, but are advised that the Tramways Company are at present proceeding with all reasonable diligence. The Tramways Company expressed their inability to arrange for night labour.

(c) Government do not propose to take any action in the matter."

By the Hon'ble CHAUDHURI MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN :—

Alleged grievances of the junior assistants of the Bengal Secretariat.

*6. (a) Are the Government aware of the grievances under which the junior assistants of the Bengal Secretariat are alleged to be suffering at present in regard to their promotion to the higher grades?

(b) If so, what steps (if any) are the Government taking to remedy these grievances?

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"In 1910 the clerical staff of the Bengal Secretariat was reorganised, a Lower Division and an Upper Division being constituted. In December, 1913, the assistants in the Lower Division submitted a memorial to Government, complaining of their prospects and position. The memorial was carefully considered by Government and it was found that the memorialists had a genuine grievance. Between 1910 and 1913 promotions from the Lower to the Upper Division had been less frequent than had been contemplated in the sanctioned scheme. Orders were passed by Government with a view to a removal of this grievance. These orders are now being carried out."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY :—

Alleged distr in the district Bankura

*7. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to relieve the distress caused by famine in the district of Bankura?

(b) Is it a fact that a few persons have died of starvation in village Paktore, within the jurisdiction of the Gangajalghati police-station, and in Hatgram, within the jurisdiction of the Indpur police-station, and also in other places?

(c) Are the Government aware that the distress is very acute and is very general in the district; and, if so, are they considering the desirability of notifying a state of famine in the district and of adopting all such measures as are necessary to cope with the situation?

(d) What amounts (if any) have been sanctioned by Government for relief work taccavi loans and gratuitous relief in the district?

(e) Is it a fact that the District Board of Bankura is spending Rs. 35 per week for gratuitous relief in each union, consisting of about 35 villages?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. BIRLEY replied :—

"(a) The measures undertaken for the relief of distress in the district of Bankura are—

(1) the distribution of loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act and the Land Improvement Loans Act;
(2) the grant of gratuitous relief;
(3) the opening of relief works by the District Board; and (4) the advance of money to weavers for the purchase of thread, and to women for paddy husking.

(b) The District Magistrate reports that no death from starvation has occurred in village Paktore, but that three deaths which have occurred in this village since September were all from natural causes.

No death from starvation in Hatgram village or elsewhere has been reported. In October a beggar from another village came to Hatgram and was fed there and died suddenly; on inquiry his death was attributed to natural causes and it was found that he had had food shortly before he arrived at Hatgram.

(c) Government are aware that considerable and widespread distress prevails in the district of Bankura. Government have adopted such measures as are necessary to meet the situation. Government do not propose to declare a state of famine in the district; this decision does not in any way limit the scope of the measures taken for the relief of distress.

(d) Government have sanctioned Rs. 3,75,000 for agricultural and land improvement loans, Rs. 50,000 for gratuitous relief, and Rs. 1,00,000 for relief works in Bankura district.

(e) No. The amounts distributed weekly in each Union vary according to the number of people requiring relief."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HOSSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Facilities to Muhammadan prisoners for religious observances.

*8. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any facility afforded to Muhammadan prisoners to say their daily prayers in jails, and also their prayers on the occasions of the Ids?

(b) If not, are the Government considering the desirability of making arrangements for this?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

"Facilities are given to the Muhammadan prisoners in all jails to say their daily prayers at convenient times. No general demand has arisen for special opportunities for prayers on the occasion of the Ids. In the Alipore Jail, work is stopped half an hour before the usual time on Id days and the Muhammadan prisoners are permitted to assemble for prayer in a separate enclosure. The Inspector-General of Prisons will be instructed to make similar arrangements in other jails, if the prisoners desire it."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HOSSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

Introduction and development of new and existing industries in the Presidency.

*9. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether an Advisory Board has been formed to advise the Local Government with regard to the introduction of new industries, or for the development of the existing industries, in this Presidency?

(b) If not, are the Government taking any steps in this direction?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"(a) No Advisory Board has been formed.

(b) Government do not propose taking into consideration the question of the formation of an Advisory Board until a Director of Industries has been appointed for the Presidency."

By the Hon'ble NAWAB SAIYID HOSSAM HAIDER CHAUDHURI, KHAN BAHADUR :—

10. (a) Are the Government considering the desirability of extending the powers of the Local Boards? Extension of the powers of Local Boards.

(b) If so, on what lines is it proposed that such extension should take place?

The Hon'ble MR. DE replied :—

"At present there are no proposals before the Government for extending the powers of the Local Boards."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI :—

*11. Will the Government be pleased to state what action (if any) they have taken to give effect to the Resolution on Mr. Swan's report on indigenous industries, which the Government accepted at the meeting of the Council held at Dacca in July this year? Indigenous industries.

The Hon'ble MR. DONALD replied :—

"In accepting on behalf of Government the Resolution on Mr. Swan's Report on Indigenous Industries moved by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji at the meeting of Council, held on the 26th July last, the Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell explained that an essential measure in the development of local industries was the appointment of a Director of Industries, and he informed the Council that the Government of India had been addressed with regard to the appointment of such an officer. The orders of the Government of India are still awaited.

The attention of all Departments has, as promised, been drawn to the rules regarding the purchase of goods in India by the departments of Government.

A proposal for a home industries exhibition has been under consideration, but for unavoidable reasons has been deferred. The Commercial Museum established by the Government of India, which consists largely of samples of Indian manufactures will, however, be open to the public early next year."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI :—

*12. (a) Will the Government be pleased to give this Council full information regarding the distress prevailing in the district of Bankura with special reference to the following points, namely :— Alleged distress in the district of Bankura.

(i) the causes of the distress ;

(ii) the extent of the area affected and the number and classes of persons affected ;

(iii) the measures for relief adopted by the Government and by local and public bodies ;

(iv) the amount of money sanctioned and distributed by Government for loans and charitable relief ;

(v) the prospect of the next winter and rabi crops in the area affected ;

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI—concld.

(vi) the nature of test works opened and the number of persons employed thereon and their average daily wages;

(vii) the number of persons in receipt of charitable relief in the said area?

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of extending the provisions of the Famine Code to the district of Bankura?

The Hon'ble MR. BIRLEY replied :—

"(a) (i) The distress in Bankura district is due to short and ill-distributed rainfall in June, July and August, resulting in damage to the winter rice crop and making transplantation impossible over a large area.

(ii) The affected area comprises 1,155 square miles out of the total area of Bankura district, which is 2,621 square miles. The population affected is estimated at 502,837, the total population of the district being 1,138,670. The classes principally feeling distress are cultivators, weavers, agricultural labourers and beggars. Small tenure-holders are also affected.

(iii) The measures for relief adopted by Government are—

(1) distribution of loans under the Agriculturists' and Land Improvement Loans Acts;

(2) the grant of gratuitous relief;

(3) the allotment of special grants to the District Board; and (4) the supply of thread to weavers.

The District Board has opened 36 relief works and has advanced money to women for husking paddy.

The Bankura College, the Bengal Social League, the Sadharan Brahma Samaj and the Ramkrishna Mission are distributing alms and doles of rice.

(iv) Government have sanctioned Rs. 3,75,000 for loans and Rs. 50,000 for gratuitous relief. Up to 30th November, 1915, Rs. 2,86,716 had been distributed as loans and Rs. 43,435 as gratuitous relief.

(v) The outturn of the winter rice crop in the thanas affected is expected to vary from 2 to 8 annas of a normal crop. Rabi crops are normally grown on about 10 per cent. of the cultivated area, but this area has been somewhat extended this year and an outturn of from 8 to 12 annas is expected.

(vi) The relief works consist of—

(1) construction of new roads;

(2) repair of existing roads;

(3) collection of road metal;

(4) re-excavation of tanks;

(5) construction of new bunds; and

(6) re-excavation of silted up channels.

The number of persons employed daily at the end of November was 2,766, and the average daily wage is 2 annas 5 pies.

(vii) The number of persons receiving gratuitous relief at the end of November was 7,433. In addition, 1,800 weavers are in receipt of relief.

(b) Government do not propose to declare a state of famine in the district; this decision does not in any way limit the scope of the measures taken for the relief of distress."

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI :—

13. Will the Government be pleased to state the present condition of the districts of Tippera and Noakhali which have recently been affected by floods? Condition of the flooded districts of Tippera and Noakhali.

The Hon'ble Mr. BIRLEY replied :—

TIPPERA.

Brahmanbaria Subdivision.

"In 260 square miles scattered over the subdivision there is no winter rice crop; attempts are being made to grow rabi crops in this area and loans have been advanced for the purchase of seed. Two lakhs have been kept in hand for loans to be advanced in February when the Borsal paddy, which is the staple crop of the subdivision, is to be sown. Provision has been made for relief works including a Government grant of Rs. 85,000 for excavating tanks. In the remainder of the flooded area of Brahmanbaria subdivision winter rice was transplanted and the outturn is expected to be 44 per cent. of the normal, and will probably suffice for the maintenance of the people until the harvest of the next autumn rice crop. In this subdivision Rs. 5,59,682 have been distributed as loans and Rs. 69,105 as gratuitous relief.

Sadar Subdivision.

About 50 square miles were affected by the flood in the Goomti river in October; the cultivators are generally fairly well off and there has been less distress than in Brahmanbaria. Loans and gratuitous relief have been distributed to the extent of Rs. 78,250 and Rs. 2,543, respectively.

NOAKHALI.

Feni Subdivision.

An area of about 60 square miles was seriously affected by the flood in the Mohari river in October, the winter rice being entirely destroyed in an area of 40 square miles. Rabi crops are being grown on the higher lands and loans are being distributed to encourage the extension of this cultivation. There is a good demand for labour.

The agricultural conditions in the remainder of Tippera and Noakhali districts are reported to be satisfactory."

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI :—

14. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it is the case— Cancellation gun licenses, etc

(i) that, on the 26th May last, Mr. Dunlop, Magistrate of Faridpur, presided at a meeting of the Education Committee of the District Board;

(ii) that the Chairman of the Committee protested against this, Mr. Dunlop not being a member of the Education Committee;

(iii) that subsequently thereto, when Babu Ashutosh Ray (brother of Babu Krishna Das Ray), a member of the District Board, gave notice of a resolution to be moved at the District Board meeting protesting against Mr. Dunlop's action referred to above, Mr. Dunlop ruled the resolution to be out of order?

Questions and Answers.

By the Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI—concld.

(b) Is it the case that Mr. Dunlop cancelled two gun licenses, one belonging to the said Babu Ashutosh Ray and the other belonging to Babu Sachi Nath Shah, merchant and zamindar in the district of Faridpur?

(c) Is it the case that in the notice issued on Babu Ashutosh Ray it was stated that the gun license was cancelled and withdrawn because he and others had instituted a civil suit against Government?

(d) Is it a fact that Babu Sachi Nath Shah instituted a civil suit at the Chikandi Munsif's Court against certain police-officers of the Palong police-station? If so, will the Government be pleased to state how long after the institution of that suit the gun license was cancelled?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state what action (if any) they have taken or are taking with regard to the cases referred to in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d)?

The Hon'ble MR. KERR replied :—

"(a) (i) The answer is in the affirmative.

(ii) The Vice-Chairman of the District Board, who is a member of the Education Committee, objected to Mr. Dunlop's presence at the meeting on the ground that Mr. Dunlop was not a member of that Committee.

(iii) Babu Krishna Das Ray (and not Babu Ashutosh Ray) gave notice of a resolution, but it was disallowed by the Chairman as inadmissible under the Rules of Business.

(b) Yes.

(c) In the notice it was stated that the gun license was cancelled because Babu Ashutosh Ray had served a notice upon the Collector intimating his intention to bring a suit against Government.

(d) Babu Sachi Nath Shah instituted a civil suit in the Court of the 2nd Munsif of Chikandi against Babu Annada Charan Chakravarti, Inspector of Police, Palong. The suit was instituted in June and the gun license was cancelled in July.

(e) After an inquiry into the facts, Government came to the conclusion that the District Magistrate's action in these cases was irregular and improper. He has been informed accordingly, and the Commissioner has been instructed to deal with the cases under the Arms Act in the exercise of the revisional powers vested in him."

Provincial Malaria Committee in Bengal.

* 15. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state the constitution of the Provincial Malaria Committee in Bengal, the names of its members and its functions?

(c) How many meetings did the Malaria Committee hold during the current year? Is the report of this Committee published annually?

(d) What are the recommendations of this Committee for the prevention of malaria?

(e) Is it a fact that malaria is spreading in the Province and that there is a marked increase in the death rate from malarial fever this year?

Questions and Answers.

The Hon'ble MR. DE replied :—

"(a) A statement showing the constitution of the Provincial Malaria Committee and the names of its members is laid on the table. Its functions are those defined in paragraph 3 of Resolution No. 2048 San. of 19th December, 1910, a copy of which is laid on the table.

(b) Government are not at present considering the question of further enlargement of the Committee.

(c) The Committee has held no meetings during the current year. But the Committee has recently been reorganised and it is hoped that it will meet oftener in future. No annual report is published.

(d) The Committee has made various specific recommendations in regard to—

(1) extending the use of quinine by increase of the number of vendors and improving the form in which the drug is available;

(2) educating the public by means of advertisements almanacs and lectures;

(3) the treatment of malarial patients at dispensaries;

(4) the treatment of school children suffering from malaria;

(5) experiments in sub-soil drainage;

(6) the drainage of the Arool Bhil; and (7) control of borrow-pits.

(e) Malaria is observed to fluctuate from year to year in correlation with rainfall, floods, harvests and other factors. The figures available for 1915 show that up to the end of October the fever death-rate compared with 1914 has shown an increase though there was a decline in ten districts."

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMSUL HUDA said :—

"May I rise to a point order ? These are really requests for action, and not requests for information."

HIS EXCELLENCY : "Order ! Order. There is no doubt that the questions are requests for action and thereby offend against the rules."

By the Hon'ble CHAUDHURI MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN :—

Certain statistics relating to Muhammadan Marriage Registrars in Bengal.

11. (a) Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names of offices of Muhammadan Marriage Registrars in the Dacca Division which registered over 600 ceremonies during the years 1908-09 to 1914-15 and the average receipts per ceremony, on account of fees and gratuities, received by the Registrars of each of those offices ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, in the case of applications for the opening of new Registration offices, the Permanent Committee have a right to recommend such openings ?

(c) Is it a fact that their recommendations are, occasionally, considerably modified by the District Officers concerned without the cases being referred to Government ?

(d) Since the registration of ceremonies under the Bengal Muhammadan Marriages and Divorces Registration Act, 1876 (Ben. Act I of 1876), is optional, will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any hard-and-fast rule that no new Registration offices should be opened within certain specified areas, or whether it is the policy of Government always to consider favourably bonâ-fide applications for the opening of new offices made by the residents of any district ?

(e) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the District Registrar of Dacca has made any general remarks during the last two years regarding the opening of new offices in each district, and, if so, will the Government be pleased to lay a copy of those remarks on the table?

(f) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is any definite order or rule directing Sub-Registrars to accept all Kabin-names or Talak-names for registration without referring the parties to the Muhammadan Marriage Registrars of the areas concerned ?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are considering the desirability of amending the existing law with a view to abolishing the system of payment of gratuities to Muhammadan Marriage Registrars ?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. BIRLEY was laid on the table :—

"(a) The statement required by the Hon'ble Member is laid on the table.

(b) The answer is in the negative. Resolution No. 211 J.D., dated the 17th September, 1912, restricts the functions of the Permanent Committee, as regards the opening of new offices, to giving advice in such matters as may be placed before it by the President, viz., the Inspector-General of Registration.

(c) Their recommendations are not ordinarily referred to District Officers. Occasionally it is necessary to obtain the views of the District Officer if the Permanent Committee's resolution is at direct variance with his recommendation, and in such cases his views are again placed before the Permanent Committee for consideration and the result is submitted to Government, if necessary.

(d) There is no such hard and fast rule as is referred to by the Hon'ble Member. Applications for the opening of new offices have always received careful consideration from the authorities concerned.

(e) In connection with the opening of new offices in his district, the Registrar of Dacca made the following general remarks in his report on the administration of the Act in Dacca for 1913-14 :—

> 'If each thana or out-post had an independent Muhammadan Marriage Registrar's office, the number of ceremonies is likely to increase, as the people in that case would get the offices within easy reach.

Questions and Answers.

It is impracticable to have an office for each thana or police-station but the Registrar's considered proposals have already received due consideration and new offices have been opened.'

(f) Yes, there is an order to this effect.

(g) In Eastern Bengal and Assam the Inspector-General of Registration proposed to abolish the Kazi's Act (XII of 1880) and amalgamate its provisions with those of the Bengal Muhammadan Marriage and Divorce Registration Act of 1876, with certain amendments, one of which was to abolish gratuities and to lay down a fixed scale of fees for the registration of ceremonies. The matter is still under the consideration of the Inspector-General of Registration and the Permanent Committee and the draft of a Bill is under preparation."

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Provincial Malaria Committee in Bengal.

IV. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the measures taken by the Provincial Malaria Committee in Bengal during the last three years, and to what extent these measures have been successful in reducing the ravages of malaria ?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. DE was laid on the table :—

"The Provincial Malaria Committee is an advisory, not an executive body. For the recommendations made by the Committee the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer to a similar question asked by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji. Particulars of certain anti-malarial works carried out during the last three years with the approval of the Provincial Malaria Committee are given in three statements (A, B and C) appended. During the past year, five Sub-Assistant Surgeons were also employed on quinine distribution in Malda, and an Assistant Surgeon besides Sub-Assistant Surgeons was sent to Manikganj. Quinine has also been distributed to school children in Hooghly. It is impossible to estimate the actual result of this work; but numerous petitions for its continuance show that it was highly appreciated. The work done on the lines recommended by the Provincial Malaria Committee for the popularisation of quinine has shown excellent results, as may be seen by the rapid increase in sales during the last three years. Over 73,000,000 grains have been sold up to 30th November this year as against 45,301,000 sold in 1913—See statement D appended."

Questions and Answers : President's Address.

By the Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR :—

Alleged famine and scarcity in the districts of Bankura and the 24-Parganas.

V. Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the extent and severity of famine or scarcity existing in the districts of Bankura and the 24-Parganas and what steps they have taken or are taking for the relief of the people in those areas ?

The following answer by the Hon'ble MR. BIRLEY was laid on the table :—

"Bankura.—The Hon'ble Member is referred to the replies which have been given to-day to the questions put by the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji and the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray.

24-Parganas.—There is no famine or scarcity. An unusually good crop of winter rice is being harvested, and the crops of autumn rice and jute were good. Earlier in the year there was some distress among agricultural labourers and it was met adequately by private charity and by the provision of extra work by the District Board."

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS :—

His Excellency the PRESIDENT said :—

"GENTLEMEN,—Once more I welcome you here. You have met prepared to discharge during another session the duties entrusted to you as Members of the Legislative Council, and to assist, in so far as you can, in the good government of Bengal. As far as legislation is concerned, I fear there will be very little in which Government will be able to ask for your help. Legislation which is to be of any use must often be contentious. I know the view which prevails about contentious legislation at the present time ; many of you, I believe, share in that view ; so perhaps you do not regret that there will be little legislation. Still some of you may be sorry to hear, as I certainly am sorry to say, that I have very little hope of being able to ask you to deal even in its earliest stage during this session with a Calcutta Municipal Bill. Such a Bill is, I think, at any rate, very much needed and I sincerely hoped I might see it passed during my time of office. I feel I can hardly hope for that now. I know that some of you intend to shape your course of action in accordance with what you expect to happen about this Bill, and so I take the first opportunity of telling you what I fear.

By your questions you have already helped Government. You must I expect, feel, for instance, that we are glad of the opportunity which questions afforded to Mr. Birley of explaining what we are doing in regard to famine and flood. Throughout the Presidency as a whole the agricultural situation is excellent. Autumn rice was good. The crop of winter rice now being reaped is equally good. I have myself been in places where I am told they never had better paddy crops. Less jute was grown this year than has been the case in other recent years ; but the cultivators have got a price which I hope may check further restriction in area. But we all know that some districts have suffered. Tippera, specially in the Brahmanbaria subdivision, the Kishorganj subdivision of Mymensingh and the Feni subdivision of Noakhali, all suffered from floods and the district of Bankura had suffered from drought. I learn more clearly every day that we are often apt here, owing to insufficiency of information, to draw incorrect conclusions to an extent which surprises one who comes from a country where accurate knowledge of matters is more quickly disseminated than it is here, and I feel that there is a distinct advantage all round in Government's being called on to answer questions such as have been put and answered to-day. It is right that we should all realise that though the conditions in the affected areas are much improved, there are still large tracts where there is no winter rice, and where you have every right to expect Government to realise that much must still be done. We are glad to make it known that our officers are working hard and will continue to work hard, and we are glad to make it known that private individuals and private charitable organisations are working hard too in co-operation with our officers to relieve distress Between 9 and 10 lakhs of rupees have already been distributed in loans, and more than a lakh in gratuitous relief. In Bankura and in Brahmanbaria special grants amounting in the aggregate to nearly 2 lakhs have been given to District Boards to help them to construct reservoirs and dig tanks as relief works, and we may hope that these will prove of lasting benefit. There is one particular connected with this to which I should like to refer. I dare say many of you know that in the Bankura district the weavers are suffering along with the agriculturists. A local committee presided over by the District Judge, Mr. Tindal, is doing its best for these weavers. Government have granted Rs. 50,000 to Mr. Tindal's committee to help on this work which we believe is being well done. There are many of you or of your friends who are interested in local industries, perhaps you may find some opportunity of helping Mr. Tindal to get orders and so do something practical to keep one industry at least alive and at the same time do a charity to the poor weavers.

Again, in the matter of police, you have shown your interest ; and if the answers given by the Chief Secretary help in any way to make better known what Government have done and are doing to try and bring about a better state of things, it will be good for all of us. Government recognise that things are not perfect and are determined to try and improve things. We feel sure that some of the steps we have taken were right steps. I know that many of my non-official colleagues in this Council and others who are not in this Council are sure of this too : I hope they are as sure as I am that Government are going to take more such steps and are as hopeful as I am that the public are going to do their best to see that what Government do shall meet with help. I do not refer merely to the recent outbreak of a new form of crime in Calcutta : that sort of thing must be met here, as it has been in other places, by special measures, and it is not easy here any more than it is in other places to find at once effective remedies for new forms of crime. As to that I can only say that we shall do our best. What I refer to is the more general questions—the questions as to which Mr. Gourlay has been getting for me definite information. It is a truism that the efficiency of a police force—or perhaps I ought rather to say of a civil police force—depends on its closeness of touch with the people and on the extent to which it secures the confidence of the people. It is a truism that a police force whose members do not speak the language of the people among whom they are working cannot be as effective as one would like to see it : and it is a truism that if people are not willing to give evidence about crimes, the detection of crime becomes a very difficult matter, or that if people fear that by giving evidence they may bring evil consequences on them from which the police cannot protect them, they will hesitate to give that evidence. We know all that and we know. too, though perhaps not so clearly as some of you do, or as many outside of this Council know, what a hindrance to the willing giving of evidence there is in the absence of facilities, in elaborate procedure, or in delays—all of which involve loss of time, loss of money, troublesome journeys, and other inconveniences. We know all that, but we have got to take things as we find them, and try to alter them so that before long they may be very different. We cannot do everything at once ; it will take time ; but I welcome anything which leads people to realise more clearly that Government are doing something. We have no reason to be hopeless. The proportion of the police to the general population in Bengal is smaller than in any other province of India. We have only one policeman to about every two thousand people—in Bombay, which is often quoted to us, they have one to every 772. Our criminal statistics do not compare unfavourably with those in other provinces. This shows I hope that our people are law abiding on the whole, but it also shows I think that co-operation between the police and the people is not quite so absolutely non-existent as we are sometimes hastily inclined to believe. Old traditions take long to die and an isolated example of an evil practice which once was common is apt to be looked on as proving that that practice is still common. But I am hopeful that Bengalis will be no slower than other people are to see improvement, and to welcome it, and to go out to meet it. All reforms in administration, or nearly all reforms, it is often said, cost money; but the reform which is worth more than any other often costs none—that reform is a change in the attitude of our minds towards any particular question. I shall not dwell on that; it is a matter in which non-officials can help quite as much as officials, and I hope that all of us do help when we can.

But there are many things which do cost money and which we all want, and which I fear we cannot yet get. Especially is this so here just now in matters concerning health and education. We all regret—no one regrets more than Government—that many things cannot now be done which we hoped to see done at once. We have had to abandon projects on which we had set our hearts, we have to surrender money that we feel we could spend well; we have to do this because of vital necessity. I fear we must continue doing it, for rigid as our economy in the current year is, our economy next year must I fear be even more rigid. This means to all of us delay which we dislike; to me it means that I must leave Bengal without seeing much done that I should rejoice to see done; we can only take comfort in the hope that it also means that when those things are done they will be better done; for we can use this interval of pause in thinking our schemes out even better; in discussing difficulties with each other and seeing how we can meet each other. We have our different ideas as to what is controversial, but I feel sure that to shirk difficulty is not the best way of avoiding controversy; and there are many difficulties which you can help Government to get round in their dealing with questions which all of you and Government alike wish to solve."

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 3.

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1915.

The Hon'ble Mr. Beatson Bell moved that the Bengal Smoke-nuisances (Amendment) Bill, 1915, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Lang, the Hon'ble Mr. Green, the Hon'ble Mr. Panton, the Hon'ble Mr. Payne, the Hon'ble Mr. Hilary, the Hon'ble Raja Hrishikesh Laha, the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur, the Hon'ble Mr. Bray, the Hon'ble Mr. G. H. C. Ariff and the mover, with instructions to circulate their report in time for its consideration in Council at the meeting to be held in January next.

The motion was put and agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEMS Nos. 4 to 6.

The following resolutions, which stood in the name of the Hon'ble Maulvi A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ, were, by leave of the President, withdrawn :—

4. This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to provide special travelling allowance rates for district sub-registrars and district joint sub-registrars in the districts of Bakarganj, Faridpur, Noakhali and Chittagong.
5. This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that steps be taken to provide floating dispensaries for the Eastern Bengal districts of the Presidency.

Resolutions:

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

6. This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that all existing circulars, relating to the extension of the appointments of Muhammadans in certain branches of the public service, be made applicable to all departments in the public service; and that all heads of departments be directed to submit quarterly reports on the working of such circulars, and that copies of such reports be circulated to all recognized Anjumans and Muhammadan public bodies.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 7.

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that the present system of having the Courts of Presidency Magistrates at different centres be abolished, and that all such Courts (Stipendiary and Honorary) be located in one building in some central place in the city.

He said :—

"In moving this resolution, I wish to ask my hon'ble colleagues to disabuse their minds of any misapprehension that may possibly exist regarding the motives which have induced me to bring forward this subject for a discussion in this Council. I am afraid there is a lurking suspicion in the minds of some hon'ble members that somewhere behind the resolution itself, there is perhaps the obnoxious voice of the members of the legal profession who are trying to induce Government to abolish a system which has adversely affected their pockets. In other words, although the voice in this resolution may be the voice of Esau the hand is really the hand of Jacob. I can assure my hon'ble friends that there is really no reason for any suspicion of this kind. I have been induced to move in the matter in consequence of facts which have come within my own observation, and I am moving this resolution in Council on my own responsibility and on my own initiative. I hope I shall be able to convince hon'ble members that the splitting up of the Police Courts has been more of an advantage rather than a disadvantage to the legal profession. This may sound somewhat paradoxical, but like all paradoxes it contains an unsuspected truth.

Coming now to the resolution itself, I hope it will be conceded by my hon'ble colleagues that if the system of splitting up the Police Courts in Calcutta has introduced a state of things worse than they were before, the system stands self-condemned and should be abolished in favour of the old system, if not for one better. In order to judge how far the new system has justified expectations, it is necessary to consider the circumstances under which the innovation was undertaken. It seems to me that the idea of splitting up the Police Courts originated in an initial blunder, and it is not surprising that the measure has proved a down right failure.

My Lord, a Central Police Court in Calcutta has been a recognised institution since the introduction of British rule in this country. It had, on the whole, worked well, and there was never any complaint about its location, no cry from any section of the public or the press to break it up into different courts located in different parts of the town. The question then arises, Who wanted the partition? Not certainly the public. Government therefore must have moved on their own initiative, and it is therefore necessary to consider whether there was any real justification for this scheme of partition.

To begin with, there has been practically no increase in the amount of real judicial work performed in the Calcutta Police Courts. A careful study of the figures placed on the Council table in March and April, 1913, at the instance of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur and the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, would clearly show that if the petty cognizable cases (which practically take no time) are excluded, the amount of case work has hardly increased at all in recent years. In other words, there has been no appreciable increase in the number of serious cases which really indicate the criminal activity of the people. The area of the town has also not increased. The jurisdiction of the Presidency Magistrates remains unaltered. The number of police-stations has remained as it has been since 1845. Government themselves have recognised these facts by their recent decision to abolish the post of one of the stipendiary Presidency Magistrates. Besides, the facilities of locomotion and communication have practically annihilated time and space in Calcutta, and have made it smaller and much more centralised than it was a few decades ago. In short, Calcutta has not certainly become too big for one central criminal court so far as area is concerned; and I have just now shown that the amount of case work has also remained practically the same as it was before the partition of the Police Courts was undertaken.

The only official explanation forthcoming for a partition of the Calcutta Police Courts is to be found in the Resolution of the Local Government, No. 1553 P.D., dated the 4th June, 1913, and published at page 709 of the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 11th June, 1913. It is there stated that 'stipendiary Presidency Magistrates have increased in recent years from their original number of two to as many as five, and it has been found altogether impossible to provide accommodation in any way suitable for the junior stipendiary Magistrates and for the Honorary Presidency Magistrates who might render valuable assistance if such accommodation were available.' It is therefore clear that it is on the ground of insufficiency of accommodation that the Government condemned the system of holding the various courts in one and the same building and, we may take it, that the partition was devised to relieve what Government thought was nothing more than a physical congestion owing to insufficiency of accommodation. It appears that, before the announcement of the transfer of the Imperial capital from Calcutta, lump-sum estimates had been prepared for adding two new court-rooms to the Lal Bazar building where the Presidency Magistrate's Courts were at that time located. When, however, the transfer of the Government of India offered a reasonable prospect of utilising various buildings which it was thought would be rendered vacant, the idea of adding new rooms to the Lal Bazar building was abandoned, and it was at one time thought that the Local Government might obtain possession of the big building where the Foreign and Military Secretariat of the Government of India was then located. It was even hoped that it would be found possible to convert No. 3, Charnock Place into a centralised Presidency Magistrate's Court and no idea of splitting up the courts into different buildings had even been entered into the counsels of Government. No definite decision was however arrived at, and, as we learn from the resolution itself, the present system of creating two new courts in the northern and southern portions of the town respectively was introduced as an experimental measure in order to relieve the physical congestion then existing at the Lal Bazar Police Courts. When, however, this decision became known to the public, the Hon'ble Dr. Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari from his place in this very Council and the Indian section of the press, notably, the Amrita Bazar Patrika, Reis and Rayat, the Bengalee, the Bangabasi, the Hitabadi and the Nayak in one voice pointed out that it would be worse than useless to take away a slice to Jorabagan and another to Kyd Street, and they all suggested that, if the Fire Brigade could be removed from the lower floor of the Lal Bazar building, the alleged congestion would be wholly relieved, and the courts could continue to be held at Lal Bazar until a new central court was built. The Government, however, stated that the suggestion was not immediately practicable, although the Fire Brigade were almost immediately removed from Lal Bazar and no reasons were given as to why the suggestion could not be made immediately practicable. Mr. J. C. Peterson, I.C.S., was placed on special duty to examine this suggestion and formulate definite proposals, but his report has been withheld from the public and has been till now one of the precious confidential possessions of the official world. What followed is significant. A Government resolution gave out that all available space and building within the Police compound at Lal Bazar including the Presidency Magistrate's Courts were urgently required by the Commissioner of Police (vide Calcutta Gazette, dated 9th April, 1913). It is evident, therefore, that the removal of the Chief Presidency Magistrate's Court to the Bankshall building was not so much due to physical congestion as to the necessity for meeting the urgent requirements of the police. The plea of physical congestion was of only secondary importance and there must have been other considerations which will remain a sealed book to the public.

The Government do not claim the partition of the Police Courts to be a permanent measure. It is at best an experiment, a makeshift remedy to relieve the alleged physical congestion of the courts at Lal Bazar. The experiment has necessarily involved an enormous expenditure of public money, and before we proceed to consider whether results have justified this expenditure, it will be better if we try to have an idea of what the actual expenditure has been. In the first place, there has been a considerable increase in the recurring and non-recurring charges. I cannot profess to be able to give this Council an idea of the actual expenditure incurred under this head. but I have been able to gather the following figures which will speak for themselves :—

		Rs.
1.	Additions and alterations, etc.	63,000
2.	Electric fittings	8,000
3.	Furniture and equipments of the two new courts ...	1,300
4	Repairs, etc.	5,000
	Total ...	77,300

There must be other items of expenditure unknown to the public, which. I am sure, will bring up the total well up to a lakh. Secondly, a good deal of recurring expenditure is being incurred under the present system. The ministerial and menial staff has been considerably increased ; the police establishment attached to the courts has been highly augmented ; the Public Prosecutor and his staff have also been strengthened ; Rs. 600 a month is being paid as house-rent for the Kyd Street Court building alone, besides the house-rent of officers displaced by the creation of Jorabagan Police Court ; the contingent expenses have increased enormously ; the rates and taxes, hot-weather charges, initial expenses, liveries to peons, telephone charges, not to mention numerous other charges inseparable from the paraphernalia of a court establishment, which have all increased to a degree almost appalling. The figures that I have been able to get on private inquiry alone work up to more than Rs. 36,000 a year. The position therefore is this : for the sake of an experiment which could not be more than a mere temporary measure, Government have had to spend nearly a lakh as initial non-recurring expenditure and a recurring expenditure of Rs. 36,000 a year. Is it fair, is it just that all this money should be practically wasted for reasons which, in the face of them, appear to be wholly unsound and unjustifiable ?

There could have been some justification for all this enormous expenditure of public money if there could have been shown that some practical benefits have resulted to the public by the removal of any inconvenience or hardship which may have been due to the old system. Let us examine this aspect of the case carefully. The Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, the then Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in reply to a question asked by the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur at the Council Meeting of the 2nd April, 1913, stated that 'the partition would increase the efficiency of the Courts and that the public concerned would be greatly benefited and convenienced.' These then are the official justifications for the partition. I will presently show that the promised 'efficiency' of the Courts has proved extremely illusory and that the public concerned have been deriving results utterly incompatible with either benefit or convenience.

Let us first consider the question of efficiency. Now, efficiency is a mysterious term which has always been hurled at us by the officials in order to silence unpleasant criticism. It is a word which, in the official dictionary, seems to possess various meanings, and it can be made to suit the requirements of any argument in support of actions which are absolutely indefensible. It is difficult, however, to make out what the efficiency of a court really is. It may mean prompt despatch of work, the turning out of a large quantity of manual work without regard to quality; it may mean the despatch of work at the sacrifice of all conformity to law and procedure, or it may mean that the cases tried by Magistrates should end in a particular way quite irrespective of what the merits of the case may really happen to be. However, we find that, so far as this efficiency is concerned, there have been the following objectionable results flowing from the system of partition :—

There has been an uneven distribution of work between the Magistrates. At Lal Bazar, all the Presidency Magistrates sat in one building and the Chief Presidency Magistrate took cognizance of all cases and transferred them to other Magistrates, regard being had to the state of their files, and there was thus a fair distribution of work. Now the Magistrates sit in different parts of the town, exercise limited jurisdiction, take practical cognizance of cases within the areas allotted to them, and the distribution of work amongst them is neither even nor uniform. This is as it might have been expected to be. The three police divisions of Calcutta to which the jurisdictions of the three new courts have been made to conform are based more on considerations of geographical area than on the quantity of work actually arising within their jurisdictions (vide Calcutta Gazette, 26th March, 1913). The result of the present arrangement has been that, while one Magistrate generally rises at 2 P.M., another goes on holding court till 7 P.M., and while one Magistrate in one division finds time hanging heavy on his hands for lack of sufficient work, another Magistrate finds himself overburdened with work. Another result of the arrangement has been that a senior Magistrate now tries a large number of petty cases, while the bulk of the serious cases involving important questions of law and fact are tried by junior Magistrates.

The next objection to the present system, and which in my opinion ought to knock the fetish of efficiency on the head is the delay which now arises in the despatch of business. It was thought at first that the partition would lead to a prompt despatch of business by all the courts. But a careful observation of the working and effect of the scheme will show that several cases have to be kept back daily and adjourned on account of prosecuting officers or material witnesses being engaged in one court while their other cases are being called out in another. At Lal Bazar an index was preserved of old convicts, and the antecedents of accused persons sent up by the police for trial before Magistrates could in most cases be traced in the course of one day. But since the partition, cases have got to be adjourned both in the Jorabagan and Kyd Street Courts and accused persons remanded to hajat for the verification of their antecedents. In several matters (e.g., the Press Act, the Extradition Act and so forth) the Chief Presidency Magistrate exercises exclusive jurisdiction. For some purposes, therefore, the public has to go to Bankshall Street and for other purposes to Kyd Street or Jorabagan. This double court arrangement leads neither to the convenience of the public nor to a prompt despatch of business nor to the efficiency of the Court. In the matter of correspondence with the public and the various Government departments or public bodies, and in the matter of all orders of the High Court, or in the matter of services of processes sent for execution in Calcutta from Courts outside, as also in the matter of transfer of cases from the file of one Magistrate to another, there is always considerable delay inasmuch as the machinery of the Police Court has got to be set in motion only through the Chief Presidency Magistrate who ultimately sends down his directions to Kyd Street or Jorabagan. It is unnecessary to dilate on this aspect of the question, for it is evident that the location of the Chief Presidency Magistrate in a building miles away from the other Presidency Magistrates must necessarily lead to waste of time in consequence of the time which must necessarily be taken up before the Chief Presidency Magistrate can possibly communicate with the other Magistrates.

I claim also that with the partition there has been an ineffective supervision of the subordinate courts by the Chief Presidency Magistrate. As a matter of fact supervision of the Chief Presidency Magistrate has become now merely nominal. Formerly the Chief Presidency Magistrate kept a daily watch on the files of the cases pending in the Courts of the Honorary Presidency Magistrates, and exercised a certain amount of administrative control over the Magistrates subordinate to him ; but now he has practically lost touch with them. In the very interests of efficiency and administration of justice it is highly desirable that the other Presidency Magistrates, who exercise vast summary powers, should be under the close supervision of a strong Chief Presidency Magistrate.

So much then for the efficiency. I hope Hon'ble Members will not be surprised to hear that the present system has led to great inconvenience and even hardship to the public. It may be news to Hon'ble Members to hear that the case of one division is even now being tried in another. Under section 21(1) of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Chief Presidency Magistrate, with the sanction of the Local Government, framed certain rules to regulate the conduct and distribution of business in the three newly-created courts. Within a day or two from this territorial division, it was found that there were very few serious cases coming up before the Kyd Street Court. It was therefore decided (I am told without the sanction of the Local Government) that all cases under the Cruelty to Animals Act, all obstruction cases arising within the jurisdiction of the Port office, all motor-car cases, and all petty cases taken recognizance of by the Traffic Police, arising in any part of Calcutta, would be heard at the Kyd Street Police Court. As to the convenience of the public brought about by this arrangement, the least said the better. A poor carter might be arrested by an S.P.C.A. agent at Shambazar, a dingi majhi by the Port Police at Bichalighat, a thicca gharriwala by the Traffic Police at Barabazar or a motor-car driver by a sergeant at Lal Bazar, but they would be hauled up all the way to Kyd Street to suffer a sentence of fine—perhaps of a rupee or two, although they would have to pass through the jurisdiction of one or the other or both the Courts at Jorabagan and Bankshal Street. What, then, is the good of having a partition of the Courts if cases arising within the jurisdiction of one Magistrate have got to be tried in another Court miles away? But this is not all. I am told that the Chief Presidency Magistrate has passed a general order that all complaints and cases arising in the thanas of Muchipara and Poddopukur (which were in the jurisdiction of the Central Court) shall be heard at the Kyd Street Court. The result of this order is that a person now living at Rajabazar, Pataldanga, Champatala or Nebutola has got to go to Kyd Street with all his witnesses to prosecute another or defend himself in a criminal case, although the Bankshall Street Court is very much nearer to him. Further, the Presidency Magistrate has passed another order that all complaints and cases arising in Divisions 1, 2 and 3 of the Calcutta Port Police shall be heard at the Central Police Court. This again is a curious arrangement ; although the Jorabagan Court is within a stone's throw from the first Division Port Police, yet all cases arising within its jurisdiction are being tried at Bankshall Street. Similarly the 3rd Division Port Police is far closer to Kyd Street than to Bankshall Street ; still all cases arising within the jurisdiction of this Division are being sent up for trial to the Central Police Court. It is clear therefore that the experiment of locating the police courts in different parts of the town has led to various other experiments in order to keep up an even distribution of work in the three Courts. The repeated attempts of the Chief Presidency Magistrate to regulate distribution of business by constant changes in the territorial jurisdictions of the Courts have produced the utmost inconvenience to the litigant public. It is time that the chapter of experiments should now be closed by giving up a system which has got to be kept up by makeshift arrangements leading neither to convenience to the public nor to efficiency.

Resolutions :

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

Hitherto I have dealt with the interference of the territorial jurisdictions of the various Magistrates by circular orders of the Chief Magistrate. There are other instances of such interference which are far more objectionable, because they seem to imply an invidious distinction between Magistrates on the ground of nationality. As a matter of fact the partition has set up a manifestly objectionable distinction between Indian and European Magistrates. The case of Nirmal Kanta Roy, which so much exercised the public mind in 1914, occurred within the jurisdiction of Kumertuli thana, and should have been heard at the Jorabagan Police Court. The case, however, was taken out of the jurisdiction of Jorabagan and inquired into somewhere else. This is no solitary instance. The murder of Sub-Inspector Suresh Chandra Mukerjee took place within the jurisdiction of Sukea Street thana and the case against the suspects should have been sent to the Jorabagan Magistrate ; but as a matter of fact the case was first put up before the Chief Presidency Magistrate at the Central Court and was transferred by him to the far distant Kyd Street Court. A large number of political suspects were arrested of late within the jurisdiction of Sukea Street thana and sent up under section 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code before the Chief Presidency Magistrate at the Central Court instead of the Jorabagan Court which possesses jurisdiction over this thana. I have no objection to a particular class of cases being taken out of the hands of a particular class of Magistrates, apparently on no grounds whatsoever ; but surely the public are bound to put a sinister interpretation on such an invidious distinction between Magistrate and Magistrate. If the Courts had been located in one and the same building, they may not have had any cause for comment at all. It will thus be seen that, although there has been a territorial division of cases coming up before the Courts, the rule is honoured very often in the breach than in the observance.

I have hitherto said nothing as regards the unnecessary and extravagant expenses which parties have to incur in securing legal assistance. The parties cannot get the assistance of lawyers of their own choice. The field of selection in each court has been considerably narrowed. The lawyers who have established their reputation have mostly stuck to the Central Court and now charge increased fees for their services in the other courts. The parties have to pay heavily for carriage and motor hire to meet the travelling expenses of lawyers who are taken from one court to another. The vast majority of pleaders have raised their fees, because they have got to earn their income by doing a far less number of cases at one place than formerly. Even the charge of the Public Prosecutors has gone up. It is a mistake to suppose that the partition of the Police Courts can affect the pleaders at all adversely, for the members of the legal profession know how to make their clients pay. You may cut off the jurisdiction of the Courts into a hundred slices if you like, but the pruning knife will touch everything else but the pockets of lawyers. It is after all the poor litigants who have got to suffer, and pay for the upkeep of an experimental measure which experience has shown to be a downright failure. I hope I have been able to establish that the initial non-recurring expenditure of about a lakh of rupees and the recurring expenditure of more than Rs. 36,000 a year has proved beneficial neither to Government nor the general public. I hope I have shown that the two grounds of efficiency and benefit to the public are themselves the very tests by which the system stands condemned. There has been an uneven distribution of work; there is delay in the despatch of business; there is the inefficient supervision of the various courts by the Chief Presidency Magistrate; there is the arbitrary transfer of cases arising in one division for trial by a Magistrate exercising jurisdiction in another area. There is also the increase in the fees of lawyers, which are being paid by parties to secure legal assistance; there is the increase in travelling expenses and even all this does not exhaust the whole list of inconveniences. What then is the remedy? I beg to suggest that this ill-starred experiment should cease and an attempt should be made to locate all the Courts in one and the same building in some central part in this city. This suggestion is not at all too inconvenient to be taken up at once. The Bankshall Street building is big enough to locate not only all the stipendiary Magistrates but all the Honorary Magistrates also. I have been to see the building myself and I say with confidence that the suggestions I now put before this Council can be very easily carried out.

I do not wish to detain this Council any longer. My Lord, the word 'partition' in Bengal seems to be doomed. There is something in the atmosphere of this Presidency which seems uncongenial to all schemes of partition. It is not surprising therefore that the idea of partitioning the Police Courts was from the very beginning foredoomed to failure. It is not yet, however, too late to amend. I therefore hope that your Excellency's Government will give this matter a patient consideration and bring about a change in a system for which there was initially no justification and which has only led to an enormous waste of public money without bringing about any desirable results."

The Hon'ble CHAUDHURI MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN said :—

"My Lord, in supporting this resolution, I pray that my remarks may not be misleading. I think that, owing to the present system of holding Presidency Magistrates' Courts in different parts of the city, there has been a constant flow of complaints. I do not belong to the legal profession, but I think that litigation has increased under the present system and a great deal of inconvenience has been caused to litigants. For these reasons I think that Presidency Magistrates should sit in one building in some central part of the city."

The Hon'ble MR. LYON said :—

"My Lord, I regret that, in the present state of affairs, it is not possible for Government to accept this resolution. I fully acknowledge that, as has been emphasised by the Hon'ble Member, the change in the location of the Courts in Calcutta was undertaken as an experimental measure and that we must abide by the final result of that experiment. It was, however, only carried out in the beginning of last year, and I think it is open to argument that it has been impossible as yet to gauge the actual results of the experiment, or to weigh all the facts that have been ascertained and placed before us by the Hon'ble Member with such lucidity. The Hon'ble Member in laying before us the reasons which induced Government to enter upon this change has amused himself by setting up gentlemen of straw for the pleasure of knocking them down. He has suggested that Government were influenced by various reasons when dealing with this matter which, I am afraid, were altogether foreign to their views on the subject. We did not argue that in the immediate past there has been a great increase of work for the Presidency Magistrates, and, indeed, we have given the best possible proof that we did not use that argument by dispensing with the services of the fifth Presidency Magistrate, and by thus reducing our establishment to four stipendiary Magistrates. I think the Hon'ble Member will acknowledge that we could not have given greater proof of our acceptance of the Hon'ble Member's argument. He has also pointed out that the area of the town and the number of the police-stations have not changed. Of course it is not in any way our case to say that they have. He has, however, referred to our resolution and has correctly indicated that it was mainly the insufficiency of accommodation at the Lal Bazar Police Court which compelled us to make some change in the actual location of the Presidency Magistrates' Courts. The Hon'ble Member has not, I believe, practised in the Lal Bazar Police Court, but he is doubtless acquainted with many gentlemen who have, and I think that he knows well, and other Hon'ble Members know equally well, what an entirely impossible building that was. It was a magnificent endeavour to accommodate a quart of liquid in a pint pot. The site was entirely inadequate from the very beginning, and I have even now a vivid recollection of my visit to that court with His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Charles Elliott, when he inspected it immediately after its completion. The unanimous conclusion we came to then was that a grave error had been committed in attempting to accommodate the Presidency Magistrates' Courts on such an inadequate site. It has always been a source of complaint by the public that the accommodation provided for pleaders, witnesses, parties and the Magistrates themselves was hopelessly and entirely insufficient. There was no compound and no space outside where people could gather, and consequently everybody had to wait in the confined verandahs of the court. The building itself was small, and the number of courts was insufficient, and the circumstances of the court were so bad that when a proposal was made to add to it two extra court-rooms, there were many who considered that the suggestion was self-condemned, as there was absolutely no more room for any further buildings on this site, and because it was obvious to everybody concerned that the Courts must necessarily be removed from that place. That same criticism applies to the suggestion that the lower portion of the building might have been used when the fire brigade was moved out of it.

Resolutions :

Mr. Lyon.

I may say, therefore, that the records of the case and the string of complaints received from time to time during the last few years bear me out in stating that it was finally and rightly determined that we could not retain the Courts of the Presidency Magistrates in their present position in Lal Bazar. The difficulty then arose as to where we should find sufficient accommodation for these Courts, and, as the Hon'ble Member has rightly stated, it was supposed for a time that we should be able to obtain some other building previously occupied by the Government of India. This, however, was not feasible. We could not obtain the building for which we asked and consequently we could not free the Commissioner's office in Charnock Place, to which it was proposed to transfer these courts. We then sought for some other means for removing a source of complaint which was really intolerable, and it was suggested that the necessities of police work in Calcutta required that we should consult the convenience of litigants in the courts by bringing the courts, if possible, nearer to them, and by thus removing some of the hardships which are always inseparable from the establishment of a central court for the trial of petty cases. We found that in Bankshall Street, in the old Board of Revenue office, we had a building which could, with some alterations and modification, be made sufficient to accommodate a certain portion of our Presidency Magistrate's Courts, and it was stated by those who are competent to advise us that we could also establish a very excellent court in Jorabagan, in buildings which were available for the purpose. Incidentally I may remark that I have good reasons to differ entirely from the Hon'ble Member in his statement that all the Presidency Courts could be accommodated in Bankshall Street. I have been assured by the very best authorities that this is an entire impossibility, and that to attempt to put all the Magistrates' Courts into the Bankshall Street building would be to commit, even on a larger scale, the error which was committed in 1890. It would be a grave mistake to attempt to do anything of the sort, and the consequence is that, if we accept the Hon'ble Member's motion, we shall have to acquire some area in the heart of the town and to erect large new courts for our Presidency Magistrates, and the figures of the expenditure of our recent change, which have been quoted to us by the Hon'ble Member, and described by him as appalling, would sink into insignificance in the face of the expenditure to which we should then be committed.

Resolutions :

Mr. Lyon.

In one sense we are not meeting this motion with an absolutely direct negative, because we acknowledge that this is an experimental measure. We are perfectly willing to hear what is said about the experiment, to abide by the experience gained, and to make any modification which is impressed upon us as a really advantageous one by the litigant public. We have had it now represented to us that the Kyd Street Police Court has not been an entire success, in that there is not sufficient work to occupy the Magistrates there, and that, in consequence, undesirable changes have had to be made in the jurisdiction of that Court, to which the Hon'ble Member has, with good reason, called attention. We have this matter under consideration. We have not yet been able to consult everybody who is interested in the matter, and we want some further experience, but we shall consider everything the Hon'ble Member has said about the Kyd Street Police Court, and we shall be very glad indeed if other Hon'ble Members will give us further information on the subject. But that does not apply to the case of the Northern Police Court. We have every reason to suppose that the establishment of the Northern Police Court has proved a success. We have, in the first place, evidence that no fewer than 24,000 to 25,000 petty cases have been tried in the year 1914 in that Court. We may perhaps calculate fairly that some four or five persons were concerned on an average in each of these petty cases. They were exclusively drawn from the jurisdiction of this Northern Police Court, and in by far the greater number of these cases the court was much nearer to the houses of the litigants than the central court would have been. Thus, during 1914, we afforded by the change very great convenience to at least 100,000 persons, and that, I think, is not a small advantage.

The Hon'ble Member in dealing with the question of efficiency has referred almost exclusively to the difficulties caused by the want of work in the Kyd Street Police Court. I have met him to a certain extent on this point by saying that we are perfectly willing to consider all that he has urged and, if necessary, to make such modifications as will meet the case.

With reference to the Hon'ble Member's suggestion that these changes will cost a very large amount of money, I may say that the total which he mentions, Rs. 77,000, does not appear to me, even in these days of financial stress, to be very enormous, when we remember that the move from Lal Bazar was an absolute necessity, and I believe that the expenditure to which he refers includes what was required to make the Bankshall Street building suitable for a central court. I doubt whether we could have made the change from Lal Bazar in any less expensive way, if we had maintained the form of a central court for all cases. As to the question of the delay in the despatch of business owing to the difficulty of referring to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, it is of course obvious that a change in administration of this kind by which one court is removed to some distance, involves a good many administrative changes which require some time to settle down. Greater authority must be given to the officer in charge of the detached court, and it will take some little time to see what powers are required and what changes in rules and customs are necessary before delays and difficulties can be avoided. I have no detailed information, nor have any definite cases been given to me, but I make this concession to the Hon'ble Member that, with our experience of administration, it is obvious that these changes must cause some difficulty. We have only had one year of experience and, if these difficulties are represented, I have no doubt every possible care will be taken by the Chief Presidency Magistrate to avoid them in future.

Resolutions:

Mr. Lyon.

The Hon'ble Member has stated that hardship to the public has been caused by the change. Most of the cases cited by him concern the transfer of the jurisdiction of Magistrates, and I have alluded to them already, but I would point out to the Hon'ble Member that his complaint here is not so much that decentralisation has been affected, but that the decentralisation has not been more complete. He would have been better satisfied if we had made our decentralisation complete. I hope we shall be able to do this in future. Incidentally, I may say that I prefer the word 'decentralisation' to the word 'partition,' as a description of the action taken by us.

I am sorry that the Hon'ble Member should have made the suggestion that there has been objectionable interference with Magistrates on racial grounds. I do not know if the Hon'ble Member has had any hope of capturing votes by making a suggestion of this sort—I sincerely hope not—but it really is entirely unjustified in the case he has put before us. I have been reminded by the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, the Chief Secretary, that, in London, a far vaster city than Calcutta—all political cases of importance are taken up at the Bow Street Police Court. Is it then very extraordinary that in Calcutta we should deal with special political cases in one special court? I doubt whether it is entirely consistent with the responsibility which the Hon'ble Member owes to this Council, that he should make this suggestion. He knows that even in a central court cases must be distributed by the Chief Presidency Magistrate according to what he considers the best means and the best methods to adopt for their trial. Moreover, the Hon'ble Member says that, in the central police court, whatever the distribution might be, it would not be noticed, and his objection is that it is noticed in cases which are tried in different courts. I think that this suggestion demonstrates the flimsy character of the argument used by the Hon'ble Member.

We come finally, to the suggestion that parties suffer very grave inconvenience because they cannot get lawyers of their own choice. I am very glad, with reference to that argument, that the Hon'ble Member began his speech by disclaiming any desire to serve the interests of gentlemen of the legal profession. In the same way I do not wish to suggest that there is anything of the kind at the back of this motion. But I would submit to Hon'ble Members, who have far greater experience of the Bar than I have, that the number of pleaders and lawyers in Calcutta is not entirely inadequate, and that it is not impossible that, with further opportunities given to them, pleaders and members of the Bar may establish themselves at these different courts in Calcutta, thus securing that the emoluments of the legal profession may be spread over a somewhat wider area than they are spread at the present moment. I think we may assert, without offence, with reference to this profession, that there are as good fish in the sea as ever came out of it, and that we shall find, after we have had further experience, that there will be adequate legal assistance available at each of such courts as may be finally established. I would point out again with reference to this matter that the argument can only apply to the more important cases, and that out of 29,000 cases tried in the Northern Court, 24 to 25,000 have been found, at the very first classification, to be obviously petty cases, while of the rest a large number were also of a petty nature in which legal assistance was not required. I cannot think, therefore, that the argument that large numbers of suitors are put to inconvenience because they cannot obtain, except at great cost, the services of certain members of the legal profession has necessarily very great weight.

Resolutions :

Mr. Lyon : Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

While opposing the resolution and leaving the decision to the Council, I would say that we shall be very glad indeed to receive any advice in the matter. We have definitely taken up this change of courts as an experimental measure, and we do not wish to come to a final determination in too great a hurry. We have very good reason to suppose that the establishment of a northern court has met the wants and necessities of a great number of litigants, and we fear that a return to the old system of a central court would inevitably involve such a vast expenditure on the provision of courts for the Magistrates that it would be impossible, at least in the present financial stringency, to face it. I would suggest, therefore, that the resolution be not accepted by Hon'ble Members until we have gained further experience which will enable us to arrive at a decision on more adequate grounds."

The Hon'ble MAULVI A. K. FAZL-UL-HAQ said :—

"My Lord, after what has fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Lyon I can fairly estimate what the fate of this resolution will be, but with the end fairly in sight I shall not despair. The Council Chamber has been the grave of many a resolution before, and I will not be sorry if my resolution goes the way of many of its predecessors. I would not have risen just now to say anything in addition to what I have already said in support of my resolution nor will I repeat myself, but there are one or two matters which I think, at least in justification to myself, I ought to give a reply to in connection with what has fallen from the Hon'ble Member. I will refer first of all to the remark I made that, in some cases, an invidious distinction has been made between Magistrate and Magistrate. The Hon'ble Member has referred to this, but has not contradicted the statement I made that in the cases I have quoted, as a matter of fact, although the cases arose within the jurisdiction of an Indian Magistrate, the cases were actually tried and inquired into by a European Magistrate. I said in my speech that the public in such circumstances are apt to comment and comment adversely on the procedure which, to say the least, implies that Government have not got confidence in their own officers, especially when the officer happens to be an Indian. It may be that there is no justification for such a charge against the Government, but at the same time it seems to me that the public are led to think adversely in such matters and there are many people amongst the unsuspecting public who are not likely either by education or otherwise to take a correct view of things. It is not, merely, the cases of Nirmal Kanta Roy and Suresh Chandra Mukharji which gave materials for comment. A recent case has been reported in the columns of the Amrita Bazar Patrika. There was a case which arose within the jurisdiction of the Jorabagan thana and came before the Magistrate presiding there. The pleader for the defence was ready to go on with the case and he asked the court to proceed with the case. Thereupon the Magistrate said that he would not go on with the case, but that he (the pleader for the defence) would get a notice for the transfer of the case. That was certainly no answer to the question put by the pleader. The pleader then asked, 'Why, should it be transferred to another jurisdiction, when it arose within the Jorabagan jurisdiction, and was convenient to the accused and convenient to the witnesses ?' The Magistrate would not give a direct answer.

These things may be quite justified, but if the Magistrates had been located in the same building, and if those cases had been taken cognisance of

Resolutions :

Maulvi A. K. Fazl-ul-Haq.

by a European Magistrate, there would be no ground for such a charge. In the present circumstances there may be reasons for justifying the trying or inquiring into political cases by certain class of Magistrates and this has its advantages. The public however are bound, under the circumstances, to put what construction they like on these facts. The Hon'ble Member has referred to the practice in England in respect of certain classes of cases being tried by certain Magistrates, but the case of England is different. There the government is by Englishmen of Englishmen. But here it is the government of Indians by an alien nation and the analogy does not apply. Certainly I wish to say that where there is such a transfer, and the transfer is made apparently according to no justification whatever, then the public will put their own construction on these transfers.

Then, as regards bringing courts nearer home to litigants, I hope the Hon'ble Member will agree with me that this only tends to foster litigation. It is no doubt very much to the advantage of the legal profession and so far as pleaders are concerned, I may be permitted to put forward a plea on their behalf. I do certainly wish that instead of one court or two courts, there ought to be a dozen, so that we can go about levying our legal taxes as much as we can from poor unsuspecting litigants. I certainly do object to the assumption that has been made that bringing courts nearer home to the people really brings them any relief. I have already said that this only means that pleaders raise their fees—that the parties have got to pay their motor and gharry hire. As regards legal assistance, if it benefits anybody at all, it benefits the pleaders and no one else.

As regards the Kyd Street Court, I am glad to hear that Government recognise that even this experiment of a little over a year has proved it to be a failure. If the same test were applied to the Jorabagan Court, I think it also will not be found to be very much a success ; but of course on this point our opinions differ and I do not wish to discuss this point further. If it is necessary to abolish the Kyd Street Court and to have a court at Jorabagan and another central court, it is much better that the two should be amalgamated in one central court and located in one building in the city. I have suggested Bankshall Street because I have seen the building. I am not an expert, but I asked some persons and I was shown certain rooms that were locked up and were not used by anybody, and I was told and told very correctly that these rooms could be utilised for the purpose of courts and Magistrates asked to sit there. If, however, the Bankshall Street building be not found to be suitable, there are other buildings in Calcutta which might accommodate not only all the Presidency Magistrates, but also the Honorary Magistrates. I agree with the Hon'ble Member that, under the present circumstances, we should not incur expenditure for new buildings. I would certainly be one of the first to object to such an expenditure at present. I have objected already to an initial expenditure of one lakh. My own idea is that buildings can be found in Calcutta which Government can rent, or there may be Government buildings which might accommodate these Magistrates.

As regards hardships to litigants, we disagree in detail. It would be useless to argue further.

I commend this resolution to the Council."

The Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Banerji rose at this stage to address the Council, but His Excellency the President called him to order and held that, as the Hon'ble Mover of the Resolution had spoken by way of reply, the discussion on the resolution had concluded and drew the Hon'ble Member's attention in this connection to rule 12 of the Bengal Legislative (Resolutions) Rules 1912.

The resolution was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that "a committee, consisting of officials and non-officials, be appointed to make recommendations for the further advancement of local self-government in this Presidency in accordance with—

(i) the Resolution of the Government of India, dated the 28th April, 1915 ;

(ii) the earlier Resolution of the Government of India, dated the 18th May, 1882 ; and

(iii) the Despatch of Lord Morley, dated the 27th November, 1908."

He said :—

I am sure, my Lord, that Your Excellency's Government and the Council will strongly sympathize with the object of the Resolution. Its aim and purpose is not to hamper but to help the Government. Both the Government and the representatives of the people are inspired by a common desire to promote the cause of Local Self-Government in this Province. Where there is a unity of aim and purpose, there can be no room for conflict of views or diversity of methods. We take our stand upon the same common ground. The great Resolution of Lord Ripon of the 18th May, 1882 is our Magna Charta in the matter of Local Self-Government. It is also the oracle of the Government, the fountain-head of official inspiration and guidance. To this Resolution Lord Morley refers in his Despatch of the 28th November, 1908 in terms of approving eloquence.

"I do not know," says he, "where to look for a better expression of the views that should govern our policy under this important head."

The Decentralization Commission in 1910, and the Government of India in 1915 both rely upon it, the former to make their recommendations, the latter to record their Resolution. We are thus united in a common acceptance of the policy laid down by the Resolution of the 18th May, 1882. The situation is simplified : the ground is cleared.

What are the basal principles of the Resolution? They are, firstly, that the non-official members of the local bodies should feel that they have real power and real responsibility and obviously the best way to make them feel that they have real power and responsibility is to give them real power and responsibility ; and secondly, whatever official control has to be exercised must be exercised from without and not from within. Have these fundamental principles been carried out? The system has now been in force for over the lifetime of a generation. There has been ample time and ampler opportunities for giving effect to them. Is Local Self-Government to-day in 1915 what it was intended to be by Lord Ripon in 1882? The question must be answered in the negative. Lord Morley is my authority. He says in his Despatch to the Government of India, dated the 28th November 1908 :—

"Local Self-Government so far has not been a success, because the true principle laid down in the Resolution of Lord Ripon has been departed from. Non-official members have not been induced to such an extent as was hoped, to take a real interest in local business ; because, their powers and their responsibilities were not real. If Local Self-Government has so far been no marked success as a training ground, it is mainly for the reason that the constitution of the local bodies departed from what was affirmed in the Resolution to be 'the vital principle,' that "the control should be exercised from without rather than from within ; the Government should revise and check the acts of local bodies but not dictate them."

Resolutions :

Babu Surendra Nath Banerji.

How can non-official members of local bodies feel this sense of real power when they are, as in the District Boards, in a permanent minority or when, as in the municipalities, there is very great interference on the part of the executive authorities with the minutest details of municipal administration? The Decentralization Commission recommended that usually the District Boards should contain an elective majority chosen by the non-official members of the sub-districts or Local Boards. This recommendation was made in 1910; and here in the year of grace 1915, we have not a single District Board in Bengal where there is an elective majority. This is all the more regrettable when we find that in other Provinces, such as the United Provinces and the Central Provinces, there are District Boards which have an elective majority. My Lord, this is a slur upon our Province. It was, I am sure, never intended to be so; but it is bound to be interpreted as such. We do not deserve it. For in point of enlightenment, culture and public spirit we are second to no other Province in India. I hope my Hon'ble friend the Member in charge will be able to give us an assurance that this state of things will soon be mended or ended.

As regards the Municipalities, I thankfully recognise the fact that in the case of the vast majority their constitution is popular in the sense that two-thirds of the members are elected. This state of things has however continued ever since 1885, that is to say for nearly 30 years. I ask my Lord, if the time has not come for a further advance in this direction? Are we always to have partially elected Municipalities? Are we to remain in this condition of arrested progress which must result in stagnation? There are Municipalities in other parts of India where three-fourths of the members are elected.

The objection probably would be that Government must reserve in its hands the power of nominating a certain percentage of the Municipal Commissioners in order to provide for the interests of minorities. I am as anxious as the Government could be for the protection of the interests of minorities; but I contend that the reservation of the power of nomination in the hands of Government for that end is not necessary. Where the population is exclusively or largely Hindus or Muhammadan the question does not arise. The difficulty occurs where the population is mixed, consisting of Hindus and Muhammadans. For such areas I would recommend that there should be two Commissioners, one Hindu and another Muhammadan, it being obligatory on the rate-payers to elect a Municipal Commissioner belonging to the minority. Under such an arrangement, the Government need not reserve to itself the power of appointing the representatives of minorities. But it might be said that it may sometimes be necessary to nominate experts. I have not the smallest desire to under-estimate the value of expert knowledge; but let us not exaggerate it either. Experts are good for purposes of advice. But are they equally good for purposes of deliberation and decision? Is there not a certain amount of narrowness about experts, a want of breadth of view in dealing with matters which need to be looked at from the broad standpoint of common sense and knowledge of affairs? But I will waive this argument. I will concede that the appointment of experts may sometimes prove useful. But is it necessary to reserve one-third of the appointments for this purpose in the hands of Government? I think that with the exception of one or two of the bigger municipalities where the population may not be homogenous the nomination by Government of Municipal Commissioners may be altogether done away with or seriously curtailed. I venture to make this suggestion for the consideration of Government.

Then there are some municipalities where all the members are nominated by the Government. They are principally the mill-municipalities. Here even an advance is necessary. There are mill-municipalities with a fringe area inhabitated by population who are in no way connected with the mills. I have in my mind the case of the Garulia Municipality which used to be a part of the North Barrackpur Municipality. A section of the population of this municipality are in no way connected with the mills. They were in the enjoyment of the elective franchise before, when they were a part of the North Barrackpur Municipality. They have been deprived of it. Is it right and proper that they should have been disfranchised? A concession once made is never withdrawn. That is the proud record of British administration in India. Why should an exception be made in the case of these unfortunate rate-payers of Garulia who have been disfranchised through no fault of theirs? In these mill-municipalities by all means give adequate power over local affairs to the mill authorities; but the interests of the population unconnected with the mills should be safeguarded, by allowing them to choose their own representatives. I appeal to my Hon'ble friend on their behalf and I trust I do not appeal in vain.

Resolutions:

Babu Surendra Nath Banerji.

The Government Resolution of 1882 and Lord Morley have laid down the principle that the non-official members must feel that they have real power and responsibility. How can they feel a sense of real power when the control of the executive authorities extends to the minutest details of municipal administration? The pay of a clerk or a peon cannot be raised even by half a rupee without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. The power of the purse is the crux of all real power and if it is subjected to interference such as I have referred to, it is reduced to a shadow and exists only in name. The Decentralization Commission recommended that subject to the maintenance of a prescribed minimum balance, Municipalities should be permitted a free hand in respect of their Budgets. This power has not been given except in the case of the four biggest Municipalities outside Calcutta, viz., Howrah, Burdwan, Cossipur-Chitpur and Manicktolla. This was done by Sir Edward Baker under a Circular-Letter dated the 20th April 1910. I understand that in the case of three of these Municipalities the experiment has been an undoubted success I urge that it may be extended to other Municipalities. We have been tried and have not been found wanting, and we have a right to claim that the experiment may be further extended. Sir Edward Baker in the Circular-Letter to which I have referred insisted, as a general rule, upon the observance of the principle of non-interference on the part of Divisional Commissioners with the details of Municipal Administration. He said :—

"While it is only in the four Municipalities specified that the Lieutenant-Governor is at present prepared to dispense with the supervision of the Budget now enforced by the District Magistrate and Commissionor, it should be recognised generally with reference to all Municipalities that, so far as possible, interference with details should be avoided. Otherwise, Commissioners, when examining municipal budgets, should endeavour rather to guide the Municipalities concerned by friendly advice than to control their discretion by explicit direction to take or forbear from particular action. Municipalities should be made to recognise that they are primarily responsible for the efficient and economical administration of their finances, and if they misuse the discretion wasted in them, they must bear the result of their own mistake."

This is the year 1915. The circular-letter was issued in 1910. I do not think that there has been any appreciable advance in the adoption of this policy. It largely depends upon the temperament of Divisional Commissioners. It is only right and proper that I should here publicly record the expression of our gratitude to the Hon'ble Mr. Monahan for observing this rule in spirit and substance while Commissioner of the Presidency Division. But surely a matter of this importance should not be left to individual discretion or caprice. It should be regulated by fixed rules which should be uniformly followed. If, however, the Government are not prepared to concede this privilege to all municipalities, I would say that this should be done in the case of municipalities with a revenue of Rs. 10,000 a year and upwards. Such a measure would be on the lines of Sir Edward Baker's circular-letter, in conformity with the recommendations of the Decentralization Commission and would represent an advance in Local Self-Government.

Resolutions :

Babu Surendra Nath Banerji : Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur.

My Lord, the second basal principle of Lord Ripon's Resolution is that whatever official control is exercised over the local bodies should be exercised from without and not from within, or in other words, the Chairmen of the local bodies should be elected by themselves. Lord Morley regards this as the vital principle of Local Self-Government and says that the partial unsuccess of Local Self-Government is due to a departure from it. What is the situation in Bengal to-day? There is not a single elected Chairman of a District Board. In the Central Provinces there are District Boards with elected Chairmen. Are we behind the Central Provinces in our capacity for public work and in our devotion to it? It is notorious that in some cases the work of the District Board is really done by the Vice-Chairman. The Government have the power to invite a District Board to elect its own Chairman. I appeal to my hon'ble friend to try the experiment in selected districts.

As regards the Municipalities, I gratefully recognise the fact that in the vast majority of them in Bengal they elect their own Chairmen. There are still some which do not. I hope their names will be removed from the Schedule and the privilege of electing their Chairmen conferred upon them. Under sections 63, 64 and 65, of the Bengal Municipal Act, Government have ample power of control to the extent of superseding a Municipality if required. In the circumstances control from within is unnecessary and uncalled for.

One word more, and I am done ; it is about village organizations. My Lord, in Bengal very little has been done in the matter of village organizations. At any rate, the public know little or nothing about it. But it is the simple truth to say that the nation dwells in the village. Your Excellency's Government are fighting against malaria. If you had effective village organizations, what potent instruments they would be in securing the sanitary well-being of our rural areas? Lord Morely has observed in the despatch to which I have referred that the village is the starting-point of public life in India. My Lord, our ancient village organizations carry the mind back to the dawn of human civilization and the early beginnings of Local Self-Government. They are dead now, but the instinct is there, and under the fostering care of your Excellency's Government may be revivified into a living flame. May it be the high function of Your Excellency's Government to re-establish our village organizations and make them instinct with life, so that they may become active and living agencies for the sanitary reclamation of Bengal. Under proper guidance and control they will fulfil the high object of the illustrious founder of Local Self-Government who said that he valued it primarily as an instrument of popular and political education.

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :--

"I welcome the resolution which has been so ably moved by my hon'ble friend. My Lord, the resolution is a very opportune one. Speaking for myself as one of the representatives, in a sense of the city of Calcutta and having in view the possible amendment of the Calcutta Municipal Act, the appointment of a committee of officials and non-officials to make recommendations for the furtherance of Local Self-Government in this Presidency under your Excellency's rule will no doubt help the Government in framing the Calcutta Municipal Bill on proper lines. My Lord, in the speech of the mover of this resolution he has laid stress upon the quotations from Lord Morley's Despatch wherein he stated—I do not remember the exact words—that where the powers and responsibilities are not real the people cannot be expected to take a keen interest in the affairs of the local bodies. My Lord, I desire to say, most humbly but most frankly, one thing—that we are the products of English rule and English education. The educated India at the present day is all anxious to develop self-government under the ægis of British rule. My Lord, we are governed by an alien race, but that alien race and government have been made most acceptable to us, because not only of its greatness but its sense of liberty and equality and above all the honest desire of British democracy to raise Indians to the level of equal citizens and fellow-subjects of the King-Emperor. My Lord, our prayer, our desires are very humble. What are those desires and what are those aspirations? They are that we may be allowed to govern ourselves under the fostering care of the great British nation under proper control and supervision. My Lord, if the local bodies are to be ridden by official chairmen and to be overridden by an official majority, this purpose would not be served. Frankly speaking, for many years past, this has been the great cause of the agitation which we have been going through for the last 30 or 40 years. I hope that if this committee is appointed, its deliberations will go towards helping the framing of the Calcutta Municipal Bill. Let us not be deluded by the gilded chair of the President of the Corporation or with additional members of the Corporation when the powers and responsibilities rest elsewhere. That would be very galling to us, and therefore I earnestly hope that, when this committee has finished its minutes, they will be taken into consideration when the Calcutta Municipal Bill is finally drafted."

Resolutions:

Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur : Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

The Hon'ble NAWAB SYED SHAMS-UL-HUDA said :—

"My Lord, I think it might save the time of the Council if I make a statement on the subject of this resolution at this early stage of the debate.

The Hon'ble Mr. Banerji wants a committee of officials and non-officials to recommend further development of local self-government in accordance with Lord Morley's Despatch of 1908 and two resolutions by the Government of India—one of 1882 and the other of 1915. I may first deal with the suggestion of the Hon'ble Rai Radha Charan Pal Bahadur that the committee may include within the scope of its inquiry the Calcutta Municipal Bill and make recommendations regarding it. I am afraid we are too far advanced with the Calcutta Municipal Bill to be able to benefit by the recommendations of such a committee if appointed. We have already taken the public into our confidence in respect of some of the more important principles of the measure and the public will have ample opportunities of discussing the details of the Bill when it is introduced in Council. No great importance attaches to Government of India's Resolution of 1882, as effect was given to that resolution as far as it was thought possible in the Local Self-Government Act and the Bengal Municipal Act which were directly the outcome of that resolution. Lord Morley's Despatch is in very general terms and the points raised in that Despatch have all been dealt with in the recent resolution of the Government of India except as regards the establishment of a department analogous to the Local Self-Government Board in England. That proposal did not find favour with the Decentralisation Commission and has been dropped. I have, therefore, to deal mainly with the last pronouncement of the Government of India embodied in their resolution of April last. The more important questions raised in that resolution and discussed by the Hon'ble Mover of this resolution may be dealt with under three heads :—

(1) Expansion of local self-government—

(a) by the formation of more self-governing bodies ;

(b) by the introduction of greater elective element on their constitution.

Resolutions :

Nawab Syed Shams-ul-Huda.

(2) Desirability of more elected non-official Chairmen in municipalities and district boards.

(3) Grant of greater independence to local bodies in dealing with fisca and other matters.

As regards the first, we are trying to carry self-government to villages Hon'ble Members are aware of the recommendations of the District Administration Committee. If these recommendations are carried out, every district will be divided into combined local self-government and chaukidari unions This combination requires legislation, but we are preparing the ground for this reform, if and when it comes, by making the boundaries of every new union that is established conterminous with the boundaries of chaukidari unions We are steadily increasing the number of these unions everywhere. The number of these unions was about 53 last year, and this year we have doubled the number. In the district of Dacca alone, where conditions are more favourable, we have recently established about 43 unions with an elective majority.

As regards strengthening the elective element in the constitution of our self-governing bodies, we are gradually removing municipalities from Schedule I. Very recently we addressed Divisional Commissioners on the subject and we have removed Darjeeling, Nawabganj, Netrakona, Pirojpur Patuakhali and Jhalakati from that Schedule and have placed them on an elective basis. A few more would probably be dealt with in the same way. At present out of 112 municipalities there are only 9 on a non-elective basis and there is every chance of even this small number being further reduced.

In municipalities and local boards the proportion of elected and nominated members is two-thirds and one-third. As I have said the proportion will be the same in 43 new unions which we have established in the district of Dacca. The reason for reserving a number of nominated members as pointed out by the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution is that minorities and official experience must be represented on local bodies. The Hon'ble Mover of the resolution suggests that wards may be constituted in such a way that each ward may elect two representatives and where necessary the election of one member to represent the minorities may be insisted. This is a large question as to which I cannot express an opinion offhand. True, in the district boards the proportion is half and half.

The desirability of raising the proportion of elected members in the district boards will be taken up for consideration in connection with the resolution of the Government of India.

I now come to the question of appointed and nominated chairmen. The question, so far as it arises in connection with municipalities, is somewhat different from that of the district boards. In municipalities the normal condition is an elected chairman. Out of 112 municipalities there are at present 25 in which the chairman is appointed by Government. The chairman so appointed is not necessarily an official. The question of reducing the number of municipalities of this kind which are entered in Schedule II of the Act will receive early consideration and the Council may be assured that a spirit of sympathy for greater popular element in municipalities will not be wanting in dealing with these cases.

As regards district boards, the question stands on a somewhat different footing. It seems to be recognised that generally it is desirable to retain the District Magistrates as chairmen of district boards. I may in this connection draw the attention of Hon'ble Members to a pamphlet, recently published by the Hon'ble Mr. Surendra Nath Ray giving some of his thoughts on local self-government. Mr. Ray admits the desirablity of retaining the District Magistrates as chairmen of district boards, although he would try an experiment with a non-official chairman, which the law allows, in a few selected districts. I however need not discuss this point further as the resolution itself does not raise the question, for it will not be in accordance with the resolution of the Government of India who agree with the Decentralisation Commission that in the present circumstances the Collector should remain the chairman. I do not, however, desire to take shelter under technicalities. The question is a difficult one and will receive further consideration from Government.

Resolutions :

I now come to the question of giving greater independence to local bodies. It is well known how the financial position of the district boards has been strengthened by the grant to them of an expanding source of revenue, I mean the Public Works Cess which has added a sum of about 29 lakhs to the income of these boards. Along with this we have taken definite steps for giving municipalities and district boards greater independence, fiscal and otherwise. I take the liberty of mentioning a few of these :—

(a) The necessity of Government approval to a new project in cases in which the cost does not exceed Rs. 50,000 has been dispensed with. The former limit was Rs. 25,000. The limit beyond which the district boards could not incur costs without the approval of the Divisional Commissioners has been considerably raised and all restrictions in the case of repair works have been withdrawn. Ample latitude has been allowed to district boards in the preparation of their budgets.

(b) The order prescribing minimum expenditure of district boards on education has been withdrawn. Similar restrictions on municipalities have been withdrawn in West Bengal.

(c) The Divisional Commissioners' control over district board budgets has been relaxed and his supervision limited to (1) maintenance of minimum balance, (2) sufficiency of provision for repayment of loans and (3) other mere formal matters.

(d) In rule 107(a) of the Municipal Account Rules the limit of the Divisional Commissioners' sanction has been raised from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 20,000.

(e) Orders have already been issued generally directing the relaxation of control over municipal budgets. The four larger Municipalities of Howrah, Burdwan, Cossipore-Chitpur and Maniktalla referred to by the Hon'ble Mover of the resolution have been allowed, as an experimental measure, full discretion in the preparation of their budgets and an inquiry has been made as to whether the experiment has been successful enough to warrant its extension to other municipalities.

As regards control over estimates, etc., these cannot be relaxed without legislation. This I think is a fair record of progress and I claim in giving these concessions we have not acted in a niggardly spirit. I do not think anything will be gained by the appointment of a committee. On the other hand, such a committee may retard the progress which we hope to make. We know what is wanted and we are prepared to deal with these matters in a liberal and sympathetic spirit. I hope in view of what I have stated the Hon'ble Mr. Banerji will see his way to withdraw his resolution. I need only add that there are certain reforms to one of which I have already referred which can only be effected by legislation. These have been noted in the Legislative Department and will be considered when amending the Acts."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH BANERJI said :—

" I desire to congratulate the Hon'ble Member upon the encouraging statement which he has made before the Council. In view of that statement and the generous and liberal spirit displayed by Government in dealing with our local bodies, I do not wish to hamper the Government by pressing my resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT ON FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR 1914-15.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

FORESTS.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH DECEMBER 1915.

RESOLUTION—No. 12319.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report on Forest Administration in the Presidency of Bengal for 1914-15.

Read also—

The corresponding report of the previous year and the Government Resolution thereon.

MR. C. E. MURIEL was in charge of the Bengal Forest Circle throughout the year and inspected all the Divisions and Divisional Forest Offices except Kurseong which has been inspected since the close of the year.

2. Changes in area and in administration.—There was only a small change in the actual areas under the different classes of forest due to the inclusion of 220 acres in the Rehti Forest Reserve in Jalpaiguri. Small areas aggregating 26 acres of reserved forests in the Darjeeling and Kurseong Divisions were transferred to the management of the Civil and Public Works Departments without being disforested.

3. Reservation and demarcation.—The settlement work in connection with the Chiko and Poro extensions to the Buxa Reserved Forests was finished during the year. Effect has been given to these extensions since the close of the year.

The proceedings of the Forest Settlement Officer relating to the proposed extension of the Titi Reserve in Jalpaiguri have been completed and the matter is under the consideration of Government.

As noticed in the last year's Resolution, the work of demarcation in the Chittagong Hill Tracts continues to be slow. This is attributed to the natural difficulties of the work and to the difficulties in providing labour. The attention of the Divisional Forest Officer has been drawn to the necessity for taking more active measures to overcome these difficulties; and he has been asked to take full advantage of that season of the year which is most suitable for the work.

4. Working-plans.—No new working-plans were sanctioned during the year.

The deviations from the sanctioned working-plans have been explained by the Conservator in his report.

Orders for an early revision of the working-plans for the Jalpaiguri and Buxa sal and khair-sisso forests have been received as a result of the inspection of the Inspector-General of Forests and the visit of the Sylviculturist to the forests during the year. It has been definitely established that in sal forests with evergreen undergrowth natural reproduction cannot be successful, and it has been decided to adopt the policy of artificial regeneration in land cleared for the purpose.

5. Communications and buildings.—Some progress has been made in the improvement of communications and buildings. Thirteen miles of cart road, 32 miles of bridle-path and 18 miles of footpath were constructed during the year. The total expenditure on communications amounted to Rs. 38,987 against Rs. 42,132 in the previous year.

The total expenditure on new buildings and repairs amounted to Rs. 39,254 and Rs. 22,789, respectively, against Rs. 31,756 and Rs. 20,297 in the previous year.

6. Protection.—There was a considerable decrease in the total number of forest offences reported during the year, the number being 1,835 against 2,171 in the previous year.

The area in which fire protection was attempted during the year comprised 459,987 acres and the percentage of successful protection was over 98. In the hill forests the fire season was longer than usual owing to absence of rain in the winter, but in the plain forests the season was a favourable one. The area burnt over amounted to 6,143 acres against 5,764 acres in the previous year. In the Buxa Division the fires have been more numerous and destructive than in the previous year. The causes of the great majority of the fires were not ascertained and unless the causes are known, it is difficult to decide the steps to be taken for their prevention.

There was no change during the year in the area open to grazing. The measures taken by the Forest Department to prevent injury to forests by cattle are fencing, reduction in the number of grazing permits, control of grazing by the use of metal discs in Jalpaiguri and Buxa Forest Divisions, establishment of pounds and the detection and punishment of illicit grazing. The disc system for distinguishing cattle grazed under permit continues to give satisfactory control in Jalpaiguri and Buxa.

The Governor in Council notices with satisfaction that illicit grazing in the Chittagong Hill Tracts is reported to have been almost entirely checked.

The Forest Zoologist continued his investigations into insect attacks in Jalpaiguri and Buxa Forests. His investigations have increased the stock of information regarding insect pests affecting sal and have also led to the discovery of a parasitic root fungus which is very widely distributed throughout the sal forests in the plains. The information about the life history of this root fungus is at present incomplete and the Conservator has been requested to make arrangement for carrying on the investigations into its life history and to adopt other measures recommended by the Inspector-General of Forests. The Governor in Council regards the discovery of this fungus as one of the most important features in the record of the year's work.

The Forest Zoologist visited also the Sundarbans to study the insects affecting sundri.

7. Exploitation.—Minor forest produce continued to be disposed of generally under permits at fixed rates.

During the year concessions were granted to Messrs. Shaw, Wallace & Co. of Calcutta for the collection of nettle fibre from certain plants in the reserved forests of the Darjeeling district.

A sample of Alpinia-Allughas was tested at the Titaghur Paper Mills. It yielded a long strong fibre, but it was found unsuitable for making white paper as it bleaches badly. Mr. Raitt, the Cellulose Fibre Expert at the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, however, considers that it would be good for textilose.

The last season's Khedda operations conducted by the Maharaja of Cooch Behar under agreements resulted in the capture of 47 elephants.

In the Chittagong Hill Tracts, Osi Meah Choudhury captured 15 elephants.

8. General.—The number of persons reported to have been killed by tigers in the Sundarbans was 79 against 81 in the previous year and the number of tigers killed during the year was 39.

Rules to regulate hunting, shooting and fishing within the reserved and protected forests in Bengal were published during the year.

The question of arranging locally for the training of Forest Rangers is under the consideration of this Government and of the Government of India. It is proposed to enlarge the Kurseong Forest School where students for Bengal and Assam will be trained.

9. Financial results.—During the year under review the total revenue fell from Rs. 16,37,469 in 1913-14 to Rs. 11,99,702, while the expenditure increased from Rs. 6,45,035 to Rs. 6,72,004, and the surplus amounted to Rs. 5,27,698 against Rs. 9,92,434 in the preceding year. The large decrease in receipts is due to shortage in sales of timber in the Sundarbans, Jalpaiguri and Buxa Forest Divisions on account of bad market conditions and low prices obtained for part of the timber that was sold.

10. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Mr. Muriel for his careful and efficient administration of the Department during the year. His Excellency in Council notices with pleasure the commendatory remarks on the work of the officers of the department contained in Chapter IV of the Report.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be published in the Gazette, and that a copy of it with a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Governor in Council,

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1914-15.

No. 3306Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th December 1915.

READ—

Letter No. 6079, dated the 7th October 1915, from the Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Calcutta, submitting the Administration Report of the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta for the year 1914-15.

Income.—The income of the Trust during the year amounted to Rs. 1,44,50,349 as against Rs. 1,58,28,715, the estimate for the year, and Rs. 1,51.28,435, the income of the previous year. The decrease was due to the war which exercised its depressing influence on the trade of the port during the whole of the year excepting the first four months. During these four months the revenues maintained steady progress, showing an advance of Rs. 1,81,000 over the corresponding months of the previous year. During the rest of the year the falling off in the trade affected the revenues of the Trust to an average extent of Rs. 2 lakhs a month. To meet this situation the Commissioners, with the concurrence of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, introduced, with effect from the 1st February 1915, a temporary War Surtax on all sea-borne exports and imports except coal and pig-iron, the reason for the exemption of these articles being that there had been forward contracts with buyers for the whole of the year 1915-16. A similar charge was imposed on the shipping of the port by enhancing to the extent of 50 per cent. the miscellaneous charges payable by vessels. The contributions from these sources helped the revenues of the Trust to an approximate extent of Rs. 2½ lakhs per month. The Commissioners have decided to introduce the surtax on coal and pig-iron from the 1st April 1916. These deferred charges are estimated to yield an additional Rs. 30,000 per mensem.

The following figures illustrate the effect of the war on the trade of the port during the year under review:—

I.—Nett tonnage of the port ...	2,925,801	2,338,811	– 586,990
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
II.—Jetties, Imports ...	824,760	537,021	– 287,739
III.—Docks, Imports ...	483,379	527,467	+ 44,088
IV.—Docks, General exports ...	815,691	571,277	– 244,414
V.—Docks, Coal	2,007,648	1,666,555	– 341,093

The figures show that only in the case of imports landed at the docks was there an increase which was due to the heavy importations of rice from Burma during January, February and March.

There was also a marked decline in the coasting traffic handled in the stream and in the traffic of the Inland Vessels Wharves.

Expenditure.—The expenditure on Revenue account amounted to Rs. 1,55,38,839 as against the estimate of Rs. 1,58,00.790 and Rs. 1,56,61,451, the expenditure of the previous year. There was thus a deficit of Rs. 10,88,490 on the year's working. This sum has been carried forward as a debit balance instead of being met from the Revenue Reserve Fund, which had a credit balance of Rs. 21,75,321 at the close of the year. The state of the market made it inexpedient to realise securities held by the Fund. The decrease in expenditure as compared with the previous year was due partly to the decreased cost of labour on the smaller traffic handled and partly to the restriction of expenditure on renewals and repairs.

The traffic as well as the receipts and expenditure under the more important heads are compared below, with reasons for variations where necessary.

Jetties.—During the year 212 vessels with an aggregate gross tonnage of 1,217,392 were accommodated at the jetties as against 254 vessels with a tonnage of 1,527,842 in the previous year. The total earnings amounted to Rs. 17,69,087 as against Rs. 21,90,723. The principal cause of this decline was the cessation of imports of iron from German ports and from Antwerp previously carried by vessels of the Hansa and Hamburg-Amerika lines. There was a great decline in piece-goods also and all the other chief articles of import, such as railway materials, machinery, cement, hardware and cutlery, showed a marked decrease. There were other factors also which materially affected the traffic of the jetties, such as the general dislocation caused by the war, the restrictions placed upon exports from the United Kingdom, the shortage of tonnage due to the taking up of vessels by Government for transport purposes and the consequent high rates of freight.

Docks.—During the year 1,160 vessels were berthed at the docks, of which 108 were Government transports, as against 1,220 vessels in the previous year. The decrease was principally in the class of vessels that enter the docks empty and load coal and general exports. A noticeable feature of the dock traffic of the year was the heavy importations of Burma rice, which exceeded those of the previous year by more than 300,000 tons. All the other main items of traffic, with the exception of tea, in which there was an increase of 10,000 tons, show a marked falling off. The principal loss was, however, in coal shipments, which fell from over 3 million to less than $2\frac{2}{3}$ million tons, the reason of this being that the traffic to the west of India was diverted from the sea to the all-rail route owing to unfavourable state of the sea-freight. The total decrease in the dock traffic, both imports and exports, amounted to over 600,000 tons.

Petroleum Wharf, Budge-Budge.—The petroleum wharf at Budge-Budge received 115 vessels for discharge of oil as against 144 in the previous year. The total revenue of the depôt amounted to Rs. 4,26,287, or Rs. 11,258 less than in the previous year, and the total expenditure to Rs. 39,683.

Tea Warehouse.—The business done in the Sale Tea Warehouse amounted to 798,775 chests—a deficiency of 162,659 as compared with the previous year. The decrease was due mainly to the absence of Russian buyers who were unable to arrange finances owing to the dislocation caused by the war. The revenue of the warehouse was not, however, materially affected, as there were increased receipts under storage charges.

Inland Vessels Wharves.—The revenue derived from the wharves amounted to Rs. 4,26,979 as compared with Rs. 5,22,444 in the previous year, both exports and imports dealt with at the wharves showing a considerable decrease.

Ferry Service.—The number of passengers carried during the year show a decrease of 3·3 per cent., as compared with the previous year. The earnings, however, show a small improvement of 1·6 per cent., owing to the introduction of revised rates of fare on the southern section of the service from the 1st November 1914. The nett result of the year's working was a surplus of Rs. 23,802 of receipts over working expenses, excluding interest and depreciation charges on capital, to meet which an additional revenue to the extent of Rs. $1\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs would be required.

Port and Port approaches.—In the year under review 1,428 vessels entered the port as against 1,650 vessels in the previous year. The income of the port shows a decrease of Rs. 54,000, and the income of the port approaches, which is derived mainly from the port dues on shipping, was Rs. 95,000 below that of the previous year.

Improvement of navigable channels.—Both the dredgers Balari and Sandpiper worked satisfactorily throughout the year in the Upper Reaches, although for sufficient reasons similar results were not obtained in the Lower Reaches.

The total cost of working these dredgers amounted to Rs. 2,71,272.

The lighting of the river channels between Mud Point and Saugor was completed during the year, and the restriction against the navigation of these channels at night was withdrawn by Government from the 15th March 1915.

Capital account.—During the year the Commissioners raised on capital account a sum of Rs. 95,32,782 by the issue of debentures having a currency of 60 years. The total assets of the Trust on the 31st March 1915, including the expenditure incurred on Capital Works during the year, amounted to Rs. 13,04,60,249, while the capital debt amounted to Rs. 9,91,57,788. In addition to these assets the Commissioners have at their disposal three other funds accumulated out of revenue. The total amount at credit of these funds at the close of the year was Rs. 33,38,011.

The leave preparatory to retirement granted to Sir F. G. Dumayne expired in March 1915, and the Hon'ble Mr. H. J. Hilary previously officiating in the post was appointed to succeed him. The thanks of Government are due to the Port Commissioners and specially to the Hon'ble Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.V.O., who was Chairman during the whole of the year and to the Hon'ble Mr. H. J. Hilary, Vice-Chairman, for their able administration of the Trust.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE SPRING OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1915-16.

(Note.—On the average of the five years ending 1913-14 the area under linseed in Bengal represents some 5·9 per cent. and that under rape and mustard 21·1 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present forecast deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area Sown.—Oilseeds are principally grown in the Rajshahi, Dacca and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions the area under the crops is small. The total area under the crops, sown up to now, this year (excepting sesamum to which separate forecasts are devoted) amounts to 1,513,400 acres, as against 1,540,400 acres reported at the corresponding forecast of last year, or a decrease of 27,000 acres. The most noticeable decrease is in Dacca due to high floods.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall in the months of September and October though defective was general throughout the Province. Consequently sufficient moisture was left in the soil, and this helped the sowings to a great extent which generally took place at the normal time. There were good showers of rain in the third week of November which generally favoured the growth of the crops. The season has been, on the whole, favourable and the present condition of the crops is reported to be fairly good.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1915-16.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1913-14 the area under Wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under Wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated Wheat acreage to total Wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has in the five years ending 1913-14 averaged (a) 37·6 per cent., and (b) 16·6 per cent., respectively.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The first forecast deals only with the area sown and general character of the crop.

Area Sown.—The total area sown with the crop up to date this year, according to District Officers' estimates, amounts to 134,600 acres against 133,200 and 134,100 acres shown in the first and final forecasts, respectively, of last year.

Character of the Season.—There was sufficient rainfall both in September and October for the sowings of this crop which were generally commenced at the normal time. The character of the season has been on the whole favourable and the general outlook is so far hopeful.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No 14381A.—The 23rd December 1915.—The following is added as Appendix XII to the Rules for the Departmental Examination of Assistant Magistrates and others, dated the 14th September 1912:—

APPENDIX XII.

RULES FOR THE EXAMINATION OF NON-CIVILIAN OFFICERS OF THE IMPERIAL CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT SERVING IN THE BENGAL PRESIDENCY.

1. Non-civilian officers of the Imperial Customs Department are eligible to appear for examination in Bengali by the Lower and Higher Standards.

2 These officers will be entitled to draw rewards of Rs. 250 and Rs. 500 for passing, respectively, the Lower and Higher Standard examinations in Bengali.

Members of the Imperial Customs Service who have been appointed in India and who are natives of India, will not be entitled to obtain rewards when they pass in the vernacular or vernaculars of the province in which they were born or educated.

3. Two grades of examination in Bengali are recognized, viz., (I) the Higher Standard and (II) the Lower Standard.

4. The examination specified in grade I above, and the Lower Standard examination specified in grade II above, will be held under the direction and control of the Central Examination Committee.

5. The following are the tests prescribed for the two grades of examination:—

Grade I.—The Higher Standard of Departmental Examination.

(A) Dictation—

A passage from some official paper in Bengali will be read out to the candidates by a Bengali, and they will be required to write it down in Bengali character with fair accuracy.

(B) A written translation from the vernacular into English—

The paper should contain passages from an unseen official document.

(C) A written translation from English into the vernacular—

A brief passage from an English judgment* or other official document of a somewhat difficult nature, selected by the Central Examination Committee, shall be translated into the vernacular by the examinee without assistance and in a generally correct manner.

No text-books are prescribed.

(D) Viva voce examination in the vernacular—

(i) The examinee shall be tested in conversation with several Indians of various classes in such a manner as to satisfy the Examination Committee of his power of making himself understood by them, and of explaining himself with clearness and sufficient propriety in the vernacular in an argument or topic of some difficulty.

(ii) The examinee will be called upon to read with fair fluency and explain in English to the Examiners three papers written by different persons in a plain running hand.

NOTE.—It is not necessary that each candidate should translate the same piece, just as it is not necessary that the viva voce examination of each should involve the same conversation.

* The "judgment or other official document" will, if possible, relate to matters with which officers of the Imperial Customs Department are likely to have to deal.

6. The maximum and the pass marks assigned to each branch of the examination and the time allowed for the papers are subjoined :—

Subjects of Examination.	Maximum marks.	Pass marks.	Time.
(A) Dictation	20	10	½ hour.
(B) Translation from vernacular ...	20	10	2 hours.
(C) Ditto English ..	20	10	2 ,,
(D) (i) Viva voce examination ...	20	10	15 minutes.
(ii) Ditto	10	5

Grade II.—The Lower Standard of Departmental Examination.

7. For this examination the tests shall be the same as the above, but the papers shall be less difficult. The proportion of marks to be obtained in order to pass, and the time allowed for the papers, shall be the same as for the Higher Standard above described. The principal object of this examination shall be to test the proficiency, for practical purposes, of the examinee in such language.

[Revised issue.]

The 23rd November 1915.

No. 129Marine.—The following revised scheme of storm-warning signals, as finally approved by the Government of India, is published for general information, so far as it relates to ports in the Bay of Bengal situated in the Presidency of Bengal. The scheme shall come into force with effect from the 1st January 1916.

STORM-WARNING SERVICE.

The Government of India have decided to revise the distribution of meteorological information to ports and shipping. At present information is given by the hoisting of storm-signals, by the exhibition of flags, and by telegrams in code to Port Officers. The meaning of the storm-signals now in use is different at different ports, and the new system is so arranged that the meaning of any given signal will be the same throughout the Indian seas, the only difference between different ports being that a larger or smaller number of signals will be in use. The flag-signals will be replaced by signals giving the locality of disturbances, and the sending of eight-word-code telegrams to Port Officers will be discontinued. The scheme now to be brought into use may be shortly described as—

(a) a general system of eleven signals, two of which will indicate the existence of distant disturbed weather, eight will indicate that local bad weather threatens the port, while the remaining one will indicate that communication with the Meteorological Department has broken down and that in the opinion of the local officer there is danger of bad weather.

(b) a brief system consisting of four only of the above signals. This system will be used at a few ports frequented mainly by small Indian boats engaged in local traffic.

(c) the general system combined with additional daily signals either to indicate that weather is undisturbed or if bad weather exists to show the position of the disturbance. This system will be in daily operation at certain stations in the Bay of Bengal and has been devised to replace the flag-signals at present in use.

The following are the ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal which will come under the different systems :—

General system.	General system with additional signals.
Cox's Bazar.	Chittagong.
Calcutta.	Saugor Island.
Budge-Budge.	Sandheads.
Mud Point.
Diamond Harbour.

NOTE.—At the Sandheads the signals are not exhibited, but information is available for passing vessels.

I.—GENERAL SYSTEM.

The Meteorological Department will keep Port Officers informed of the latest information with respect to all disturbances, and ships' officers should apply to them for information to supplement the storm-signals.

DISTANT SIGNALS

to indicate danger to ships after they have left the harbour.

	Day.	Night.
I. CAUTIONARY.—There is a region of squally weather in which a storm may be forming.		NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted at ports situated with reference to the disturbed weather such that a ship leaving the port might run into danger during its voyage.
II. WARNING.—A storm has formed.
NOTE.—This signal will be hoisted when there is no immediate danger of the port itself being affected, but ships leaving the port might run into the storm.

LOCAL SIGNALS

to indicate that the port and ships in it are threatened.

	Day.	Night.
III. CAUTIONARY.—The port is threatened by squally weather.
IV. WARNING.—The port is threatened by a storm but it does not appear that the danger is as yet sufficiently great to justify extreme measures of precaution.
NOTE.—The existence of a storm can often be determined before its direction of motion can be fixed. In this case all those ports which the storm could possibly strike will be warned by this signal
V. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
VI. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).

	Day.	Night.
VII. DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of slight or moderate intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
VIII. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the south of the port (or to the east in the case of the Hooghly Ports).
IX. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross the coast to the north of the port (or to the west in the case of the Hooghly Ports and Chittagong).
X. GREAT DANGER.—The port will experience severe weather from a storm of great intensity that is expected to cross over or near to the port.
XI. FAILURE OF COMMUNICATIONS.—Communication with the meteorological head-quarters has broken down and the local officer considers that there is danger of bad weather.

II.—BRIEF SYSTEM

for use at certain small ports.

In the brief system only the four following signals will be hoisted, but the Port Officers will be kept informed of the progress of bad weather for the general information of shipping:—

Signal No. III—Cautionary
Signal No. IV—Warning
Signal No. VII—Danger
Signal No. X—Great danger
} Meaning day and night signals as in the General system.

N.B.—Under this system there are no ports in the Presidency of Bengal situated in the Bay of Bengal.

III.—ADDITIONAL DAILY SIGNALS FOR THE BAY OF BENGAL.

In order to give daily information to a port regarding weather in the Bay, it is necessary to provide for the following cases:—

(a) if no disturbance exists in the Bay of Bengal the fact will be indicated by hoisting a ball,

(b) if the port itself is threatened the appropriate local signal of the "general system" will be hoisted,

(c) if there be an area of squally weather or a storm that does not threaten the port the "distant cautionary" or "distant warning" of the "general system" will be hoisted; and additional signs will be hoisted under these to indicate the position of the disturbance in the Bay. For this purpose the Bay has been divided into six sections and the following shapes have been allotted to each of the divisions :—

Division	I	II	III	IV	V	VI
Signal	▼	▮	◆	▬	▲	⧗

Thus if there is squally weather in section V of the Bay the signal

would be hoisted at the various ports: and if a storm has formed in section II the signal would be hoisted at all ports which were not directly threatened; as already stated the ports threatened would hoist one or other of the local signals. The Meteorological Department will endeavour to keep the number of locality signals on each hoist as few as possible and generally only the number of the section in which the centre of the storm is situated will be given. If however the centre of the storm is near the boundary of a division two locality signals will be given, the first indicating the division in which the centre is supposed to be and the second the neighbouring division near to which it is. In the event of a storm centre being near to the angles where three divisions meet, three locality signals will be hoisted. The first will give the division in which the storm is supposed to be, the second the nearest adjoining division and the third the remaining division.

Examples—

Storm centre.	Locality signals.
Lat. 16 N Long. 86 E	II.
Lat. 16 N Long. 88 E	II and III.
Lat. 16 N Long. 89 E	III and II.
Lat. 18 N Long. 87½ E	II, I and III.
Lat. 19 N Long. 89½ E	I, III and II.

 The sections may be defined as follows :—

I.—Contains the area north of lat. 18½°;

II.—Lies south of I; it is bounded on the south by lat. 13° and to the east by long. 86½°;

III.—Lies south of I and east of II; it is bounded to the south by lat. 13° and to the east by a line from the point 13° N. 93° E. to Diamond Island together with the Arakan coast thence up to 18½° N.;

IV.—Lies south of II and west of 86°;

V.—Lies east of IV, south of II, III and west of 93°;

VI.—Lies east of III and V, and represents the Andaman Sea.

A map illustrating these sections accompanies the Code of Storm-warning Signals, published by the Government of India, which will be had on application to the Port Officer, Calcutta or Chittagong.

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of Wards', Attached and Trust Estates in the Presidency of Bengal for the year ending on the 30th June 1915.

THE period covered by the Land Revenue Administration Report has been changed from the revenue year ending on the 30th June to the financial year ending on the 31st March, as the former was found to be inconvenient. The question of a similar change for the Report on the Administration of Wards', Attached and Trust estates is under the consideration of the Board. In this connection the Board will no doubt consider whether the Bengali year would not be the most suitable in the case of wards' estates.'

2. Number of estates under management.—No new estate was taken under the management of the Court of Wards during the year. Four estates were released, leaving 53 estates under management at the close of the year.

3. Payment of revenue and cesses.—The total amount of revenue and cesses, including arrears due to Government from the estates under management, was nearly Rs. 14 lakhs, of which nearly Rs. 12⅓ lakhs or 88·0 per cent. was paid, against 91·5 per cent. in the previous year. The heaviest balances were due from the Pachetgarh estate in Midnapore and the Tagore and Mukharji estates in the 24-Parganas. They are attributed to failure of crops in the first two estates and to want of funds and payment of some extraordinary charges in the third estate.

4. Rent and cesses due to superior landlords.—There was an improvement in the payment of rent and cesses due to superior landlords, the percentage of payment on the amount due being 78·3 against 71·6 in the preceding year. The non-payment of the balance of Rs. 1,23,199 out of a total demand of Rs. 5,96,470 is said to be due mainly to disputes as to title and interest among superior landlords, delay in the adjustment of accounts on the part of the superior landlords, and their refusal to accept payment of the wards' shares separately from that of other co-sharers jointly liable.

5. Collection of rent and cesses.—The percentage of collections on current demand fell to 84·7 from 99·9 in the preceding year. The standard of 100 per cent. was exceeded only in the Chittagong Division, viz., 103·2, the lowest percentage (69·4) being in the Rajshahi Division. The low percentage is chiefly attributed to the dislocation of the jute trade in consequence of the European war and to bad harvests. The outstanding balances due to all estates aggregate over 56⅓ lakhs, or 135·6 per cent. on the current demand, against 119·6 per cent. in the previous year. The balances increased in all the divisions.

The numbers of civil suits and certificates filed during the year for recovery of rent and cesses due to wards' estates increased by 285 and 2,854, respectively, over those of the previous year. Although 2,854 civil suits were disposed of out of 4,841 cases for disposal, little more than a fourth of the decretal amount was realized. Of the total number of certificates for disposal more than half were disposed of, and 54·4 per cent. of the total claim was realized against 52·1 per cent. in the preceding year.

6. Debts of estates.—The total liabilities of the estates under the management of the Court of Wards during the year were over 92 lakhs, of which a little over 3¼ lakhs were paid off. More than 83 lakhs are still due from eight heavily encumbered estates. The foreclosure suit brought by the mortgagees of the Tagore Estate is still pending, and the liabilities of the estate have risen to over 19 lakhs mainly through the accrual of interest. Out of the balance of debts of 24½ lakhs due by the Bhawal estate, the undisputed claims amount to about 3½ lakhs. The progress of the liquidation of the debts of estates has in many cases been retarded by the difficulty of collection of rents and cesses caused by the depression in the jute trade.

7. Cost of management and expenditure on improvements.—The cost of management was 12·4 per cent. of the current demand against 12·6 per cent. in the previous year. The standard of 10 per cent. was exceeded in all the divisions, though in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions the excess was only ·3 per cent. The high cost in certain estates is only temporary and will be reduced when the survey and settlement operations in those estates are over. In other estates efforts are being made to reduce the high cost where possible. The total amount spent on works of improvement, schools and dispensaries was Rs. 1,50,913, or 3·6 per cent. of the current rent and cess demand. The Governor in Council regrets to notice that very little was done during the year in the matter of agricultural improvements. Managers of wards' estates have special opportunities of bringing improved methods of cultivation to the notice of the tenants. From the report it appears that full advantage is not taken of these opportunities. The schemes framed for agricultural demonstrations in the Janbazar and Gobardanga estates in the 24-Parganas were not carried out, and the money provided for such demonstrations in the Tippera portion of the Kasimbazar estate was allowed to lapse. The Governor in Council recognizes that in the estates which are heavily encumbered it is difficult to find funds for demonstrations, and that where the estate accounts are in confusion the first call on the time of Collectors and Managers is made in the interest alike of proprietors and tenants by the duty of putting the accounts straight. His Excellency desires, however, that where circumstances permit, the Board will impress upon Collectors and the Managers of estates the necessity for greater and more continuous activity in this direction and the need for closer co-operation with the officers of the Agricultural Department. It should also be made clear that the proper policy to pursue in wards' estates is the demonstration of definite results already known, and not the undertaking of new experiments.

8. Education of wards.—Due attention was paid to the education of wards with satisfactory results. In accordance with the scheme to give minors under the Court of Wards some training in survey and settlement work before release of their estates, two wards attended the training camp during the field season of 1914-15.

9. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board for its efficient administration of the estates under the Court of Wards. Miss Cornelia Sorabji, the Lady Assistant to the Court of Wards, did much useful work in giving the ladies of the zenanas of wards' estates the benefit of her advice and in looking after the well-being of those ladies as well as of the minor wards. The good work of the Managers mentioned in the Report will be noted.

By order of the Governor in Council,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The Report of the Department of Agriculture, Bengal, for the year ending the 30th June 1915

Staff.—Mr. J. R. Blackwood, I.C.S., was in charge of the department throughout the year. Mr. K. McLean, who was selected for the newly sanctioned post of Second Deputy Director of Agriculture, Bengal, arrived in India on the 28th October 1914, and after three months' training at Pusa, joined at Dacca on the 29th January 1915, and was placed in charge of the farms (with the exception of Kalimpong Farm) and of demonstration work in the Dacca, Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions. Mr. F. Smith, who worked as Deputy Director of Agriculture for the whole province up to 29th January 1915, was, after the arrival of Mr. McLean, put in charge of the demonstration work and farms in the two divisions of West Bengal, together with the farm at Kalimpong. Messrs. H. E. Annett and G. P. Hector continued to work as Agricultural Chemist and Economic Botanist, respectively, throughout the year, and Mr. R. S. Finlow returned from leave on the 29th July 1914 and resumed the duties of Fibre Expert.

The development of the department demands a further increase in the superior controlling staff and the appointment of a Third Deputy Director of Agriculture, but like other new schemes this will have to await an improvement in the financial situation.

As observed in the last year's Resolution, the sanctioned cadre of the Provincial and Subordinate Agricultural Services is a tentative one, providing for the immediate requirements of the department. Experience has established the necessity of revising the scheme, and the Governor in Council is considering, in consultation with the Director of Agriculture, on what lines the revision should be effected. There is now a Superintendent of Agriculture for each division, and there are ten district agricultural officers.

2. Agricultural education.—Only five students from Bengal appeared at the Diploma Examination of the Sabour Agricultural College held in March 1915. Of the four students who obtained diplomas, two have secured appointments under the Government of Bihar and Orissa as supernumerary agriculturists, and another has been given a temporary appointment in this province. The number of Bengal students in the first, second and third year classes of the college are 8, 3 and 2, respectively. One student who was sent to Pusa in 1914 has completed his training in agriculture and has now taken up the mycological course. A new scholarship of Rs. 30 for two years was sanctioned during the year under report, but it is vacant as the candidate selected failed to join at the last moment.

The scheme for giving a short course of practical training in scientific agriculture on the Dacca Farm to the sons of zamindars, noticed in the last Resolution, has met with the approval of the East Bengal Landholders' Association, but has not evoked much interest elsewhere. The Governor in Council is now considering the scheme in fuller detail, but this is another scheme which will have to wait for better times.

Rules relating to the duties of fieldmen-demonstrators were issued during the year under report. These rules provide that a demonstrator will undergo training on an agricultural farm for a year, during which he will receive instruction in all ordinary agricultural operations as well as practical training in demonstration work.

The report on the result of the "Nature Study," which forms part of the curriculum of primary schools, is far from encouraging. The Governor in Council is, however, glad to notice that the matter was discussed at a conference held at Rangpur with the Director of Public Instruction, and that some teachers of guru-training and circle schools have returned to their schools after receiving some training in the subject at the Dacca Training College. His Excellency in Council, while awaiting the result of this training, desires that the Director of Agriculture should keep himself in close communication with the Director of Public Instruction on the subject. There is material for the study and observation of nature by children in the diverse trees and crops of the Presidency, which can be made use of without artificial appliances if the teachers know how to go about their work, and the absence of appliances should not retard the use of these objects.

3. Research and experiment at agricultural stations.—The reports of the scientific officers of the department have, since last year, been published in a separate volume, a summary being given in the general report of the department. The Fibre Expert concentrated his attention on the important question of jute seed selection. At the beginning of the present season he had enough seed of his "pure-line culture" to sow about 1,000 acres, but the demand for improved seed has not been as much as was expected. Comparison is being made, in many places, between Mr. Finlow's selected seed and the raiyats' seed, and the result is being carefully watched. It will be necessary to establish a marked superiority of the "pure-line culture" seed over the seed used by the raiyats before a keen demand can be expected. The Governor in Council observes that on the Rajshahi Farm the capsularis or East Bengal jute gave an outturn of 8⅛ maunds per acre, compared with 19½ maunds obtained from olitorius which is ordinarily grown in the Rajshahi Division, a result which emphasizes the need for separate consideration of the best seed for each distinct tract. Mr. Finlow also continued his investigations into the manuring of jute. Particular attention was given to the acid red soils of the Dacca Farm, and it has been definitely proved that lime and bonemeal, together with cowdung, produce a marked increase not only in the outturn of jute but also of a crop of mustard following it. The Governor in Council is glad to see that Mr. Finlow has during this season applied bonemeal and lime to the raiyats' fields. Successful results obtained in the raiyats' fields are likely to carry more conviction with the public than results obtained in the farms. The recommendations made by the Board of Agriculture in 1911 in regard to the sugar industry are being closely followed. Mr. Annett, the Agricultural Chemist, has been carrying on experiments with certain varieties of sugarcane on the Dacca Farm and some encouraging results have been obtained. With a view to surveying the canes grown in this province 14 varieties were tried last year at the Dacca Farm. This year 44 other varieties from different districts have been added to the number. It is hoped that all the varieties grown in this Presidency will soon have been collected, studied and classified. The importance of the sugar industry has increased since the outbreak of the European war, and the Agricultural Department has taken steps to encourage the re-establishment of the industry of producing sugar from the date-palm. Owing to the competition of imported sugar a consideraale number of trees have in recent years been left untapped. Mr. Annett, who has made a special study of the subject, made a tour of the central districts of the Presidency in order to examine the situation and to advise district officers and persons interested in the industry as to the action to be taken for increasing the outturn of date-sugar. A small apparatus is being imported from America for the production of maple-sugar. This plant will deal rapidly with the juice of a large number of date trees. Mr. Hector, the Economic Botanist, completed the survey of the transplanted aman paddy of East Bengal and began testing several kinds on a practical scale. One of the varieties was tried both on the Dacca Farm and in the neighbouring cultivators' fields, and very hopeful results followed. Attempts to devise some means of combating the ufra disease of rice were continued in the Noakhali and the Dacca districts, but no definite results have been obtained. Though it is doubtful whether any kind of paddy is immune from the disease, some varieties appear more likely to escape than others' owing to their ripening early in the season before the attacks of ufra become virulent. This disease is a source of serious loss and requires unremitting attention. On the minor farms experimental work has been carried out mainly in connection with jute, paddy and sugarcane.

4. Rangpur Dairy Farm.—This farm was started with the object of improving the breed of indigenous cattle. Subsidiary objects in view are to demonstrate the possibilities of mixed farming, and to prove that dairy farming can be conducted at a profit.

The method which has been adopted is to collect cows of different kinds from various parts of the Presidency and to keep a careful record of their milk yields with a view to multiplying the species which give the best yields. This method has been subjected to criticism as not having in view the establishment of a fixed type. In its favour it has been urged that there is no indigenous breed of cattle in Bengal, but that the supply is kept up by importing animals from elsewhere, that owing to climate and a bad system of cattle management a superior race of cattle will not thrive in Bengal under present conditions, and that the best prospect of success is to be looked for in selecting from animals which have best been able to withstand their environment. The farm has recently been visited by His Excellency, and the subject of the future policy is under consideration. There are now 111 cows at the farm, and in some cases satisfactory yields of milk have been recorded. The cultivation of sugarcane is being extended, and with the provision of an engine for crushing the cane it is expected that the farm will prove financially profitable.

5. Agricultural associations.—The Director's report enumerates the demonstrations undertaken by the members of the several divisional and district agricultural associations. The success of these demonstrations was limited in many cases by want of rain in September and October. The Governor in Council takes this opportunity of recording his appreciation of the efforts of the members to bring before their countrymen the advantages of selected seed and improved methods.

6. Demonstrations conducted by the department.—There has been a considerable expansion of the demonstrating staff, and steady progress has been made in all the main items of demonstrations, viz., the effect of bonemeal on paddy and jute, the introduction of superior varieties of seed, seed selection, conservation of cowdung, the use of improved agricultural implements, and growing of dhaincha, sunnhemp and cow-peas as a green manure. The purchase of bonemeal manure by co-operative societies for the use of the members constitutes an important feature in the year's work, and the Governor in Council desires that every effort should be made to show to members of co-operative societies, both in the farms and in the fields of raiyats, the results obtained by the Agricultural Department. A co-operative society not only affords means for dissemination of knowledge among a large number of people, but also enable raiyats to make use of improved methods by advancing the money, without which the increased expenditure would in many cases be an insurmountable obstacle.

7. Sericulture.—During the year under report the Director of Agriculture submitted a revised scheme for saving the silk industry in Bengal. The original scheme was to supply all the seed cocoons necessary for the province from Government nurseries with a view to eliminate disease, and it was estimated that 19 central Government nurseries, with seven rearing-houses in each, would be required for the purpose. In pursuance of the scheme, seven such central nurseries have already been established. A census of mulberry fields which was taken during the year, however, showed that 22 central nurseries would be required to meet the needs of the whole province. In consideration of the heavy cost of the scheme and in view of the fact that the Governments of France, Italy, Japan and China do not supply the entire seed required, but that the principal quantity is supplied in those countries through professional rearers working under Government supervision, the Director of Agriculture has proposed in his revised scheme that only one-third of the total demand should be reared in Government nurseries and that the remainder should be reared by selected professional rearers under the supervision of the Agriculture Department. The whole question of the future policy in aiding the silk industry is held in abeyance pending the result of the enquiries now being conducted by Mr. H. M. Lefroy, the Imperial Silk Specialist. The causes underlying the decline of this industry are, however, probably more deep-seated than the want of healthy seed cocoons, and include the ousting of mulberry by crops which have increased in value, the appearance of substitutes for silk, and the defects in the indigenous methods of rearing.

The hybridising experiments, which were being carried on by M. E. Grangeon before he left for military duty in France, are being continued by Mr. P. C. Chaudhuri, Superintendent of the Berhampore Central Nursery. These experiments as well as those conducted by Miss Cleghorn are reported to give promise of successful results. It is satisfactory to notice that two students of the sericultural class attached to the Berhampore Central Nursery, after having passed the final examination, have constructed model rearing houses with the money they received as rewards and have started rearing on scientific lines.

8. Fisheries.—During the year under report, Mr. T. Southwell, the Deputy Director of Fisheries, has drawn up an interesting note under the title "Report on Fishery Investigations in Bengal, and Bihar and Orissa, with recommendations for future work." The note, which has been published as Bulletin No. 5 of the Fishery Department, contains a very clear statement of the progress hitherto made in the department as well as a full programme of future work. Mr. Southwell's work during the past four years has mainly been confined to a comprehensive survey of the fishery problems of the two provinces, and is now reaching a stage at which valuable results are likely to be obtained. The principal part of the work done hitherto has been in connection with carp and hilsa, and the main lines on which definite improvements are expected are—increasing the supply of fish by artificial cultivation, preserving the existing supply of fish by preventing practices which tend to diminish it, and improving the organization of the fishery industry by introducing co-operation among fishermen and removing obstacles which hinder the industry. Now that the department has been provided with a steam-launch, Mr. Southwell will be able to study effectively the problem of the breeding grounds of hilsa and to begin the work of a systematic survey of the fisheries of the Sundarbans. Mr. Southwell's investigations have brought to notice the unsatisfactory conditions under which fishermen carry on their industry and the extent to which the profits are absorbed by middlemen, to the detriment alike of the fishermen and of the public. Measures are being taken for establishing co-operative societies among fishermen, and though rapid progress cannot be expected, the scheme is one which affords prospects of beneficial results. The statistics of the import of fish into Calcutta showed a large decrease, which is probably due, in part, to greater consumption in the neighbourhood of the fisheries.

9. The jute forecast.—The year under report is the fourth year in which the jute forecast has been based on a detailed census prepared by panchayats of the area under jute cultivation in each union. The experience which has been gained by the panchayats and by the officers engaged in checking the returns is believed to have assisted materially in the elimination of error as regards area, and continued crop-cutting experiments have led to more accurate estimation of outturn. The Governor in Council is satisfied that the jute forecasts now afford a substantially accurate estimate of the crop. The improvements, which have been effected in this important subject, are the results of Mr. Blackwood's efforts, and the Governor in Council has pleasure in acknowledging their value.

The checking of the forecast imposes heavy labour on the staff of the department at a time of the year when agricultural operations are at their busiest, and the Governor in Council recognizes that the time spent on the forecast is lost to purely agricultural work. Under present financial conditions it is not practicable to increase the establishment, but the question of a redistribution of work on the lines which will involve the least possible interference with purely agricultural work is under consideration.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL IRRIGATION REVENUE REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1914-15.

No. 4978*I*.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st December 1915.

READ—

The Annual Irrigation Revenue Report for the year 1914-15.

THE Major Irrigation Works in Bengal are the Midnapore and Hijili Tidal Canals. These works are in operation. The Minor Works for navigation are the Calcutta and Eastern Canals, the Madaripur Bhil Channel, a portion of the Orissa Coast Canal, the Nadia Rivers, and the Gaighatta and Baxi Khal. The only work of this class for irrigation is the Eden Canal. The Utterbhag Lock which has been constructed in connection with the Magra Hât Drainage Scheme is treated as a minor work for navigation. Training works on the rivers Ganges, Bhagirathi, Dhaleswari and Buriganga are also classed under this head.

2. The capital outlay on the Major Works up to the end of March 1915 amounted to Rs. 1,11,08,615. The works constructed for this outlay comprise two weirs, at Midnapore and Panchkura, and 98·75 miles of main and branch canals, of which 69·75 miles provide for both irrigation and navigation, and 29 miles for navigation only; there are in addition 254½ miles of distributaries. During the year under review no addition was made to the length of the canals or the distributaries.

3. The total receipts from the Major Works amounted to Rs. 2,53,369 and the working expenses to Rs. 2,65,591, the net result being a deficit of Rs. 13,222 against a similar deficit of Rs. 62,780 in the preceding year. This deficit is made up of the difference between a net revenue of Rs. 85,283 on the Midnapore Canal and a net loss of Rs. 98,505 on the Hijili Tidal Canal. This loss is due both to a falling off in traffic and to the heavy expenditure incurred on silt clearance. The general revenues of these canals, which depend considerably upon receipts from navigation, have suffered of late years from railway competition.

4. The area irrigated during the year was 78,310 acres as compared with 81,283 acres in 1913-14, and an average of 81,072 acres for the triennium ending March 1914. The demand for water was moderate.

5. The capital outlay on canals classed as Minor Works and Navigation was Rs. 7,13,393 during the year and Rs. 1,25,12,842 to the end of the year. The receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 4,29,591 and the working expenses to Rs. 8,42,859. The financial results of the year and the capital expenditure to date are exhibited in the following statement :—

	Capital Expenditure (direct and indirect).		Receipts of the year less refunds.	Expenditure of the year less refunds.	Net revenue of the year.	Net revenue of the previous year.

6. The Calcutta and Eastern Canals form a series of navigable channels, mostly natural but partly artificial, by which communication is maintained between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. The receipts from navigation tolls amounted to Rs. 3,00,611 as compared with Rs. 3,52,403 in the preceding year. The decrease is chiefly due to depression in trade and a falling off in the imports of jute. The capital outlay incurred during the year was principally on the purchase of the dredger Alexandra from the Eastern Bengal State Railway authorities.

7. The capital expenditure during the year on the Madaripur Bhil Channel which connects the Madhumati and Kumar rivers in the district of Faridpur was incurred on (1) dredging the Lower Kumar river and (2) constructing an embankment with sluices along the south bank of the channel. The total capital outlay to the end of the year amounted to Rs. 33,80,445 against the sanctioned estimate of Rs. 34,32,491. The receipts and working expenses (direct and indirect) during the year were, respectively, Rs. 67,381 and Rs. 2,24,698 as against Rs. 89,332 and Rs. 1,18,976 in the year 1913-14. The decrease in receipts is due to the silting up of the western approaches at Manikdah and in the Loop channel, where about two miles were completely silted up dislocating the traffic for some months. To remedy this an embankment with sluices is being constructed on the south side of the channel, so that the entrance may be flushed with water from the northern bhil as soon as the Madhumati river commences to fall. The increase in working expenses is chiefly on account of heavy expenditure incurred in dredging the Manikdah entrance channel.

8. The work in the Nadia Rivers consists in the training of the river channels by bandals with the twofold object of maintaining by the scouring of shoals a sufficient depth of water for boat traffic and at the same time improving the sanitation of the country. The former object is only partially attained, but the work done is of use, however, in the interests of sanitation. Major F. C. Hirst I. A., Director of Surveys, Bengal and Assam, was placed on special duty during the year to enquire into the condition of the upper Hooghly and its feeder rivers. He has submitted an exhaustive report on the subject, and a committee will be appointed to advise as to the action to be taken to maintain and improve the efficiency of the rivers in the interests of navigation, sanitation and drainage. The receipts and working expenses of the Nadia Rivers were Rs. 16,371 and Rs. 1,05,515, respectively, as against Rs. 24,828 and Rs. 1,40,060, respectively, in the preceding year. The decrease in receipts is due chiefly to a falling off in the number of steamers and flats plying on the rivers on account of extensions of railway lines on both sides of the Bhagirathi, also to the shallowness of the rivers which do not allow of through traffic except during the rains. With the growth of railway lines on either bank of the Bhagirathi it is not likely that the revenue from these rivers will materially improve, even if the channels be kept open for through traffic throughout the year.

9. The Gaighatta and Baxi Khal, a short channel connecting the rivers Damodar and Rupnarain, was maintained during the year at an annual cost of Rs. 311 against Rs. 298 of the previous year. The collection of tolls and fishing rights has been leased out for three years from 1913-14 at Rs. 4,025 per annum.

10. The Eden Canal was originally constructed for sanitary reasons, but it is now used to some extent for irrigation. It was worked during the year at a loss of Rs. 48,476 resulting from a decrease in receipts and an increase in expenditure. The decrease in receipts was partly due to failure of crops on account of short supply of water in the Damodar river and partly to the non-renewal of lapsed leases on account of the uncertainty of the supply of water, under present conditions, at the head sluice. To remedy this a new supply channel with a sluice and stop dam is being constructed at Jhanpur, which also accounts for the increase in expenditure. A scheme for a weir and canal from the Damodar river has been submitted to the Government of India for their consideration.

11. The Utterbhag Lock, which has been constructed on the Peali river to give access to the channels constructed under the Magra Hât Drainage Scheme to boats coming from the Sundarbans and Eastern rivers, was opened for traffic at the later part of the year.

12. Training works were, as usual, carried out in the Buriganga and Dhaleswari rivers to facilitate navigation and to improve the water-supply of the town of Dacca. Training works were also carried out on the river Ganges between Digha and Damukdia. Twenty-one shoals were trained, of which 4 were in Bengal, the remaining 17 being in the province of Bihar and Orissa. It has since been decided that in future the conservancy of that portion only of the Ganges which lies in Bengal proper, i.e., from Rajmahal to Damukdia, will be carried out under the orders of this Government. To improve navigation as well as the sanitary conditions and water-supply of the town of Rampur-Boalia training works were carried out on the inner channel of the river Ganges. A dredger was also chartered from the Steamer Companies for the purpose. At the mouth of the Bhagirathi river, at its offtake from the Ganges, dredging and bandalling operations were carried out during the year to improve sanitary conditions by an increased flow in the river. The operations, however, were not successful owing to several adverse circumstances.

13. The Irrigation Department during the year was in charge of Lieutenant-Colonel (now Brigadier-General) A. C. DeL Joly de Lotbinière, R.E., C.S.I., C.I.E., up to 8th December 1914, when he reverted to military duty; since then Mr. F. A. A. Cowley has been in charge. The thanks of Government are due to both these officers and to Mr. C. Addams-Williams, Superintending Engineer, South-Western Circle, for the efficient conduct of the affairs of the department during the year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that a copy thereof and of its accompaniments be submitted to the Government of India in the Public Works Department and circulated to other Governments and to all departments and officers of this Government as usual.

By order of the Governor in Council,

F. A. A. COWLEY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1914-15.

AGRICULTURE.

CALCUTTA, THE 27TH DECEMBER 1915.

RESOLUTION No. 12565.

READ—

THE Report on the working of Co-operative Societies in Bengal for the year 1914-15.

RAI JAMINI MOHAN MITRA BAHADUR, who has now completed his 3rd year in the post of Registrar, was in charge of the Department throughout the year ending the 30th June 1915. The report contains an interesting survey of the position of the co-operative movement in Bengal and of the problems confronting it. The number of Societies of all kinds increased during the year from 1,661 to 1,992, the number of members from 90,328 to 107,118, and the working capital from Rs. 89,38,265 to Rs. 1,10,01,617. As judged by figures the progress was less rapid than in the previous year, a feature which is sufficiently explained by the abnormal circumstances of the year, and by the fact that attention was largely concentrated on the removal of defects.

2. The outbreak of the war was followed by a sudden fall in the price of jute which upset the expectations of a large proportion of the cultivators in Bengal and was the occasion of much immediate distress and of anxiety as regards the future: this anxiety showed itself in the abnormal withdrawals of Savings Bank deposits and in the reluctance of money-lenders to advance money to their clients. The co-operative movement was put to a severe test in facing this critical situation and the Governor in Council would draw attention to the light which this report throws on the ability of the Societies to weather the storm.

The Registrar claims that the crisis was met and faced with success, and His Excellency in Council is satisfied that the facts confirm this conclusion. Though the increase of working capital was small as compared with that of last year and withdrawals were heavy, the combined deposits rose by Rs. 8,88,727.

The amount overdue from Societies to Central Banks rose from Rs. 44,000 at the end of last year to Rs. 1,85,465 at the end of the year under report, and the amount overdue from members to Agricultural Societies rose from 3¾ lakhs to 13½ lakhs. The Societies repaid 2½ lakhs out of 40½ lakhs outstanding compared with 5 lakhs out of 35½ lakhs last year, and the Societies recovered 7 lakhs out of 55 lakhs outstanding against members compared with 11 lakhs out of 40½ lakhs in 1913-14. The Governor in Council recognizes that in a normal year these results would be very discouraging, but having regard to the difficulty which was experienced by money-lenders and rent-collectors in recovering their dues in the past year and to the well-known recuperative powers of the agriculturists of this Presidency, he considers that the Societies have emerged successfully from a difficult situation and that they may confidently expect to find themselves in a much better position at the end of another year. The Governor in Council notices with satisfaction that the Central Banks exercised caution in giving loans during this critical period, and though he desires that no efforts shall be relaxed in insisting on punctual payment of loans now that conditions have improved, he approves of the policy adopted during the past year of granting extension in cases of real hardship; while congratulating the Central Banks on the assistance which their credit with the public has enabled them to bring to the agriculturists of the Presidency during a time of stress, he reminds them that the confidence of the public is the only basis of their strength, and that every endeavour must be made to retain that confidence.

3. The Report gives particulars of areas in which the principles of co-operation have not been assimilated, and of the defects which are commonly found in Societies. During the year special attention was paid to these defects, and it is right that they should be brought prominently to notice with a view to their removal. It is necessary that the Societies which are incapable of improvement should be closed, and that the time of the staff should not be unduly expended in trying to remedy the defects of those who will not help themselves.

The Registrar refers to instances in which members of Managing Committees have exploited Societies for their own benefit while the illiterate members looked on with apathy: the Governor in Council agrees with the Registrar that these evils can only be finally overcome by the growth of corporate feeling, but until the members of Societies have learnt by exerting themselves to check abuses constant vigilance of the inspecting staff will be required.

4. The increased number of Societies and the need for giving special attention to the defects which have been observed have combined to add to the burden of the controlling staff, and the accounts of 200 Societies were not audited during the year though they were audited after the close of the year. The Governor in Council fully recognizes the necessity of complete and regular audit and the subject of increasing the staff is under consideration. It will probably be found undesirable to appoint auditors on initial pay of less than Rs. 100, as it is essential to maintain a high standard of audit. The question of levying audit fees in accordance with the provisions of section 43 (2) (h) of the Co-operative Societies Act is also being considered.

5. The number of Central Banks has risen from 33 to 38, and their working capital has risen from 32 to 40 lakhs, of which 27 lakhs are deposits by non-members. The attention of the Registrar was drawn last year to the necessity of increasing the reserve funds in view of the dependence of the banks on deposits: the increase in reserve funds has been from Rs. 35,658 to Rs. 75,072, and though the amount is still low the improvement is substantial in view of the unfavourable circumstances of the year. It is reported that the Central Banks show general progress towards efficiency and that the Directors as a rule take an intelligent interest. The Registrar considers that with the increase of work there is need for the appointment of more whole-time Secretaries on adequate pay. The Governor in Council trusts that the appointment of paid officers will not be accompanied by any relaxation in the interest taken by the other Directors.

6. The scheme for a Provincial Bank was further discussed by an influential Committee in February 1915 and the draft bye-laws were amended. In view of the financial situation it has not been thought desirable to attempt to inaugurate a Provincial Bank at this time, but the scheme is being further considered in the light of the recommendations of the Committee on Co-operation. The year's experience has emphasised the need for an apex bank for the purpose of financing Central Banks and maintaining a cash reserve.

7. The conditions have not been suitable for opening new Agricultural Societies, and the number has increased from 1,543 to 1,862, of which 1,582 are affiliated to Central Banks. While the large percentage of capital contributed by Central Banks is an indication of the confidence of the general public, the Registrar rightly remarks that the position is not altogether satisfactory from a co-operative point of view. The amount of members' deposits Rs. 4,91,218 is almost the same as in the previous year, and in view of the general indebtedness of the members and of the conditions of the year it is a source of satisfaction that the members' deposits have not decreased. One-fifth of the loans granted during the year were for maintenance, as compared with less than one-sixth in the previous year. The report shows that greater attention is being paid to fixing the term of loans on a consideration of the purpose of the loan : the Governor in Council agrees with the Registrar that punctuality in payment depends largely on fixing instalments intelligently and desires that this subject shall continue to receive careful attention. There is further evidence of the indirect benefits of co-operation in encouraging the settlement of disputes by arbitration and the desire for education. There has been a small increase in the number of non-agricultural societies : a satisfactory feature is the extent to which they attract deposits by members, but the co-operative standard is reported not to be high : there is a lack of mutual knowledge among the members and a tendency to leave the management in the hands of one man.

8. The year was not a favourable one for opening societies of new forms and little progress has been made in Weavers' Societies. The Co-operative Society at Lakhikhol in Faridpur district took advantage of the rise in the price of sugar and started a sugar factory with satisfactory results, and the Mymensingh Supply Society purchased bone-meal and potato seed for distribution among its members. There has been progress in combined action between the Agricultural and Co-operative Departments in introducing agricultural improvements, and the Governor in Council looks to such combination as the most hopeful method of diffusing knowledge of the results obtained by the Agricultural Department.

9. The Registrar has noticed the inability of certain Societies to execute decrees against members on account of the refusal of landlords to permit the sale of their holdings. This difficulty and the difficulty in obtaining the advantage of priority over another claimant in accordance with section 19 of the Co-operative Societies Act are engaging the attention of the Governor in Council.

10. The Governor in Council congratulates Rai Jamini Mohan Mitra Bahadur on the results of the year's work and particularly on the success with which the unusual difficulties of the year have been met. His report shows a sympathetic understanding of the virtues as well as the shortcomings of the agriculturists of Bengal and a businesslike appreciation of the problems with which he has to deal. His Excellency in Council has much pleasure in acknowledging the increasing interest which is being taken in the co-operative movement by his officers and by non-official members of the public, and offers his hearty thanks to those who have been mentioned in the Registrar's report.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. BIRLEY,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the Winter til (Sesamum) Crop of Bengal, 1915-16.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1913-14 the area under* til in Bengal has represented some 5·3 per cent. of the total area under til *in British India.)

Character of the Season.—The rainfall at sowing time was in defect of the normal; but, on the whole, it was sufficient excepting in some districts of the Burdwan Division and in a few places in Eastern Bengal. The sowings generally commenced in the normal time. Subsequently, however, insufficient rainfall interfered with the growth of the crop and affected the outturn considerably. The season, on the whole, has not been altogether favourable to the crop.

Acreage.—The total area cultivated with the crop as estimated by the District Officers is 53,900 acres this year against 62,200 acres last year. The decrease occurred chiefly in Midnapore and Dacca owing to contraction of cultivation in the former and to high floods at sowing time in the latter.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 78 per cent. of the normal against 80 per cent. last year. Taking the normal yield per acre to be 4½ maunds, the gross yield for the Province is estimated at 6,600 tons against 7,800 tons last year, or a decrease of about 15·4 per cent.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

24-Parganas ...	300	300	300*	58	67	August	November	The weather conditions were favourable at sowing time, but they were not so at later stages of the crop. The outturn is low owing to untimely rain.
Nadia ...	3,300	1,600	1,200	58	63	August. Normal	November. Normal	The decrease in area was due to the fact that no til was cultivated this year in thanas Damurhuda and Kushtia, against 400 acres last year. This has been reported by the Subdivisional Officer as due to flood in August. The weather conditions were on the whole fair, but some damage was caused by rainfall in November. Hence the outturn is below the normal.
Murshidabad ...	4,100	1,300	1,300	88	92	July to September. Normal.	November to December. Normal.	The increase in area was due to favourable weather at sowing time. The weather was favourable. The damage of about one anna was caused by drought and insect-pests.
Jessore ...	1,600†	1,700	1,500	58	67	August. Normal	November. Normal.	The decrease in area was due to flood and excessive rainfall at the time of sowing. The weather conditions were subsequently fair.

Burdwan ...	500	400	400	67	67	August to November. Normal.	Not yet commenced	The weather conditions on the whole have been favourable except at Katwa. Owing to insufficient rainfall the outturn is expected to be less than the normal.

Midnapore ...	8,000†	7,800	2,400	83	100	August. Normal	November. Normal	The area figures are those reported by the Subdivisional Officers and the local police. There are no means at present of checking their accuracy. Ghatal, where the normal area under the crop used to be shown as 3,000 acres, reports that the cultivation of this crop this year has been abandoned as unprofitable. The decrease in area sown in the rest of the district was due to want of rain in the sowing season. The outturn is expected to be normal.
Hooghly ...	1,000	400	700*	83	83	Middle of September. Normal.	End of November. Normal.	The weather conditions were not favourable. The outturn is below the normal owing to scanty rainfall.

Rajshahi ...	3,700	2,300	1,700	65	80	Early part of September. Normal.	1st week of December. Normal.	The decrease in area was partly due to heavy rain which prevented sowing in some localities and partly to the extended cultivation of winter rice. The weather on the whole was favourable.
